RESISTS ROBBER AND IS MURDERED

MINISTRY TO TEST POWER

France Is Impressed With Strength of Cabinet Formed by Poincaire

Future of Entire Government Rests on Success of New Body

PARIS, Jan. 15.—The readiness of such prominent men as Léon Bourgeois, Aristride Briand, Theophile Delcasse and Alecandre Millerand to accept minor places in the Cabinet formed by Senator Raymond Poincaire has created a profound impression in France. Their acceptance is generally regarded as a striking evidence of the solidarity, self-sacrifice and patriotism of Frenchmen at a time of national need.

The press of all opinions comment today on the strength of the new ministry. Even the monarchistic Gaulois admits that it is the greatest Cabinet ever formed since the foundation of the third republic.

The circumstances of the fall of the Cabinet of M. Caillaux have thrown into discussion the whole question of the parliamentary form of government. It is pointed out that Frenchmen both at home and abroad realize that the greatest defect of modern France is to be found in the bitter internal dessensions and conflicts of the parties and in the lack of unity concerning problems affecting the progress of the nation.

STABLE GOVERNMENT.

The general feeling prevails that what France needs is a government of stability and that continuity of policy is rendered indefinite by frequent changes in the ministries and the absence of centralized responsibility.

The lessons of the past have induced Frenchmen to grant little power to the President of the Republic, but wonder is now expressed whether this system has worked out practically.

A distinguished parliamentarian gave his opinion on the new Cabinet today as follows:

"I regard this Cabinet, which contains the best of the men of the French nation, as the test of parliamentarism. If a Cabinet composed of such men is to be overthrown on some petty issue it will be time for all Frenchmen to consider seriously some change in the form of government."

A new feaure of the present ministry is that M. Briand, the Minister of Justice, is named vice-president of the Cabinet, which means that he will represent the government in parliament and elsewhere in the absence of the Premier.

Lumber King Dies At Pasadena Home

Thomas Shevlin, Minneapolis Multi-Millionaire, Passes Away in South.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 15.—Word was received in St. Paul today of the sudden death in Pasadena, Cal., last night of Thomas Shevlin, the Minneapolis multi-millionaire lumberman. No particulars of Shevlin's death had been received here. Shevlin was head of the Shevlin-Carpenter Lumber Company and its allied corporations and was reputed one of the wealthiest men in the northwest.

HITCHCOCK STIRS UP CAPITAL

Proposed Government Ownership of Telegraph Lines Is Bolt From Clear Sky

Postmaster-General Is Summoned to White House by President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Postmaster-General Hitchcock, who last night gave out a statement saying he would recommend to Congress government ownership and operation of all telegraph lines, was summoned to the White House by President Taft shortly after 11 o'clock this morning. The pronouncement stirred official Washington today as few administrative acts have in recent years.

The Postmaster-General's statement was news to the White House, and is said to have caused the greatest surprise there. This was evident when efforts were made late last night to recall the announcement. These efforts, however, did not come from Hitchcock. He was out of the city when the statement was released and did not return until late last night. Then he went immediately to his apartments and would not be disturbed.

Senators and representatives generally did not learn of the proposed recommendation until they read the papers today. When they reached the Capitol all were discussing the matter and many divergent views were expressed.

MAY PREVENT ACTION.

Most generally discussed of all the reports early today was one that pressure might be brought to bear on Hitchcock not to make the recommendation. So far the matter has not progressed beyond a declaration by the postmaster general that he would make such recommendation to Congress with a statement by him giving reasons for the proposed acquisition of the telegraph lines.

There was no disposition at the Capi-

Five Billion Dollars In Equitable Ruins

Vaults Hold Securities of Value Sufficient to Pay the National Debt.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—There is probably five billion dollars in the vaults of the Mercantile Safe Deposit Company, now covered up in the ruins of the burned Equitable building, according to an estimate made by W. E. Brenner, assistant treasurer of te Equitable Life Assurance Company, which controls the Mercantile concern.

Five billion dollars is nearly twice as much money as is in circulation in the United States. It would pay the national debt and leave a balance greater than the combined fortunes of John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Carnegie and J. P. Morgan. If the five billions were divided among the population of the United States, each person would get more than $50.

There are thousands of boxes in the vaults, and the contents include stocks, bonds, securities, cash and jewelry, representing the entire assets of about 40,000 individuals, estates and corporations.

LABOR MEN MEET AT FRESNO

Tveitmoe Declares Innocence of Complicity in Alleged Dynamite Plot

Convention of Building Trades Closed to the Public at 2 O'clock Today

FRESNO, Jan. 15.—With approximately 350 delegates present from all sections of the state, the eleventh annual convention of the California State Building Trades Council was opened at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Most of the delegates arrived last night, but a few stragglers put in an appearance this morning.

Today local labor leaders expressed some disappointment from the fact that at an informal session yesterday it was decided that the convention would be a closed one. Last night at an executive meeting that lasted until midnight the credentials of delegates from eighteen counties were received and the way paved for the opening of the convention this morning.

This morning's program included the calling to order of the convention by President P. H. McCarthy, an address of welcome by Mayor Rowell, an address on the labor movement by Rev. Duncan Wallace of the Calvary Presbyterian church and short addresses by officials of the council. At 2 o'clock the convention doors will be closed to the public.

It is possible that the annual reports of the officers will not be read until tomorrow afternoon. Greatest interest centers about the report of secretary-treasurer Tveitmoe, which contains 15,500 words and which Tveitmoe states will take three hours to read.

Early in the day it became known that there is an insurgent movement against President McCarthy and Secretary Tveitmoe. That this insurgency will assert itself at the annual election of officers which will probably take place on Friday, is anticipated, but it is declared that the movement is not strong enough this year to oust either McCarthy or Tveitmoe from office. Many of the delegates have taken the stand that Tveitmoe should not be ousted for the reason that he has not had an opportunity to clear himself of the charge preferred against him.

TVEITMOE'S ADDRESS.

O. A. Tveitmoe, secretary-treasurer of the State Building Trades Council, declared his innocence of complicity in a national dynamite conspiracy in his annual report, read before the eleventh annual convention of the council here today. Tveitmoe, with Anton Johannson, state organizer of the Building Trades Council, and J. E. Munsey, secretary of the Salt Lake City local of the International Associaton of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, was indicted by a federal grand jury in Los Angeles, December 20, 1911, on a charge of conspiring to transport dynamite unlawfully.

"There will be no plea of guilty because the men accused are not guilty and they refuse to serve as stepping stones either for Mr. Fredericks, who has his eye on the governor's chair, or for Mr. Lawlor's judgship, or for Mr. Hearst's presidency," said Mr. Tveitmoe in the report.

John D. Fredericks is district attorney of Los Angeles county. Oscar F. Lawlor was appointed assistant attorney general and placed in charge of the federal investigation.

CASE IS REVIEWED.

The McNamara case was reviewed at length in the report, much of the comment being quotations from an article on the Los Angeles situation by Charles Edward Russell, a magazine writer, in which it was declared that "the McNamaras thought they were fighting the battle of their class." While not defending the McNamaras, Tveitmoe denounced the prosecuting officals who conducted the McNamara case and characterzed the proceedings as "a blow aimed at union labor." Referring again to the indictments now pending in Los Angeles he said:

"The case or cases as it may be, will be tried in the courts, and need no discussion

STATE ASSEMBLYMAN J. E. MULLALLY SHOT DURING BATTLE WITH BANDIT

ASSEMBLYMAN JOHN E. MULLALLY of San Francisco, who was shot and killed in his saloon today by a robber.

Trio of Masked Men Shoot to Kill in Attempt to Rob Arena Barrel House in San Francisco

Holdups Empty Revolvers in the Faces of Saloon Inmates After Unsuccessful Effort to Rifle Cash Register at Early Morning Hour

TWO MEN HIT DURING RAIN OF LEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—While his wife, with that strange intuition of danger to a loved one, peculiar to women, was endeavoring to telephone a warning of impending danger to him, State Assemblyman John E. Mullally was shot and fatally wounded by a trio of desperate bandits in his saloon at 115 Eighth street at 4:30 o'clock this morning, dying three hours and a half later at the Central Emergency Hospital. John Craig of 1136 Mission street was wounded during the battle with the robbers, but his injury is slight. The hold-up which resulted in the death of Mullally was one of the most sensational which has ever roused the police to action. That every one of the five men in the saloon was not shot is little short of miraculous, as the three highwaymen emptied their automatic revolvers in a promiscuous fusillade of bullets, fired in a spirit of recklessness and chagrin because their efforts to obtain the coin from the cash register were balked.

John Mullally, who was elected to the assembly from the Thirtieth district last year, and Judge Barr, a deputy sheriff, under ex-sheriff Finn, own the saloon known as the Arena Barrel House at the corner of Minna and Eighth streets, Mullally residing at 719 Minna street, only a half dozen doors away. Mullally worked at night but had been in the habit of going home after the rush, leaving his bartender in charge.

When he did not appear this morning about 3 o'clock, according to his custom, his wife began to be uneasy, and going to the door after an anxious wait, she noticed three men acting rather suspiciously at the corner. She gazed at them with suspicion owing to their actions, and then suddenly the idea came to her that they were waiting to waylay her husband as he returned home with his day's receipts and the diamonds which he usually wore.

PROMPT TO ACT.

Quick as a flash she returned to the house and nervously turned the dial on the automotic telephone, seeking to warn Mullally of the danger which she felt was impending. Evidently the highwaymen had by this time become impatient over the non-appearance of Mullally, as the terrified wife was seeking to convey the warning, the trio entered the place just as the phone, in response to the correct marking of the numbers by Mrs. Mullally, began to ring loudly the warning which came just a second too late.

The bartender, Jack Tierny, had started towards the telephone. Mullally was standing in front of the bar nearest the door. Grouped about were John Craig, Oscar Gross, of the New City Hotel, and Jack Gilroy, who lives on Natoma street. The robbers all wore masks. Two of them were rather tall and black masks concealed their faces, while a shorter man wore a white mask. Each carried an automatic revolver, and before Tierny could remove the receiver from the hook of the phone the words, "Hands up" came simultaneously from three voices.

MULLALLY GIVES BATTLE.

The short man with the white face covering shood but a foot from Mullally, and seizing his opportunity, the Assemblyman grabbed the hand which held the pistol and pointed it to the ceiling, at the same time struggling for its possession. The bandit pulled the trigger, but the bullet merely shattered the glass in the transom of the door. Meantime, the other two highwaymen held to their places and the four pairs of hands of

STOCKTON CLUBMAN SHOT TO DEATH BY HIGHWAYMAN

William H. Newman Killed When Bandit Fires in Early Holdup

STOCKTON, Jan. 15.—William H. Newman, proprietor of the Hoffman saloon and a prominent clubman of this city, was shot and instantly killed at 1 o'clock this morning by a masked robber.

Newman was in the act of closing up his place for the night when a highwayman entered and ordered him to throw up his hands, which he did. Three men who had been playing pool in a rear room heard the command of the robber and rushed into the room. As they entered the highwayman shot the saloonman and then turned his revolver upon the pool-players, but did not wound any of them. He made his escape. Newman was about 50 years of age and is survived by his widow and two children.

Snow Storm Breaks Eastern Cold Wave

Frost Passes Out to Sea and the Incoming Liners Are Encrusted With Ice.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15. — A snow storm early today broke the cold wave which came from the west and has now passed out to sea. The storm was the coldest experienced in years. Many lives were lost and telegraphic communication was intrrupted. There were many wrecks at sea and incoming liners were encrusted with ice. Milder weather is promised by the weather bureau.

Deserted by Wife, He Refuses to Eat

Chicago Man's Spouse Leaves Because She Thinks She Is a Hindrance to Success.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Albert Braun, manager of a specialty company here, has been deserted by his wife and asserts that he will eat nothing until she returns. She has been gone nearly 48 hours and Braun declared last night that he had partaken of no food since he left. When Mrs. Braun went away she left a note telling him that she was leaving because she thought she was a hindrance to his success. That day he received an increase in salary. He hurried home to tell her of his luck, but when he arrived there she was gone. The couple have been married less than a year.

Henry Morse Will Is Not Yet Found

Special Letters of Administration Issued De la Montanya and Newell.

Special letters of administration in the estate of Henry N. Morse, the veteran detective, were issued today in the Superior Court to H. O. de la Montanya and Ralph A. Newell for the temporary preservation of the estate left by the deceased. No will has yet been found and the special trust will continue until it is positively shown that Morse died intestate. The letters issued today give no inkling as to the value of the estate left by Morse.

Attempt to Defraud Postal Bank Is Fatal

Sahib Cim Amat Sent to Federal Penitentiary to Serve Year.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Sahib Cim Amat, the first person in the country to attempt to defraud the new Postal Savings Bank, was sentenced to a year in the federal penitentiary in the United States District Court this morning. Sahib is alleged to have stolen a receipt for savings from an Arab countryman and to have endeavored to pose as the depositor and obtain the coin.

Oil-Laden Steamer Battles With Waves

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The steamer Northwestern, oil laden, from Fort Arthur, Texas, with 23 men aboard, is hopelessly battling with the sea off Cape Lookout, N. C. Both propellers are gone. The revenue cutter Itasca sailed this afternoon from Beufort, N. C., to the steamer's assistance.

Italian Cruisers Wipe Out All Turkish Ships in Red Sea

ADEN, Aed Sea, Jan. 15.—Besides destroying or capturing all the vessels flying the Turkish flag in the Red Sea which they came across in the course of their cruise, the Italian cruisers Calabri Pugia and Piedmonte, with the accompanying flotilla of destroyers, have recently bombarded a number of Turkish military camps along the coasts of the Yemen Province. At Lohra, about 60 miles from Kunfida, where the gunboats were sunk by the Italians, they poured a hail of shells into the military camp on January 5. The Turks suffered very few casualties and no damage was done to the houses in the town.

Revolutionaries Force Rojas To Resign the Presidency

BUENOS AYRES, Jan. 15.—The Paraguayan revolutionaries have captured President Liberato Rojas and forced him to resign, according to telegrams received here today from Asuncion, the Paraguayan capital. The garrison in the city remained neutral.

Woman to Wear Shroud Bought 10 Years Ago

Then Penniless and Obtained Money From Children With Which to Buy Garment.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 15.—Ten years ago Mrs. Sarah Jane Wheeler, almost penniless, obtained money from her children to provide a shroud for herself. Today she died here, aged 80, possessing real estate grown valuable in recent years and worth several thousand dollars by a strange turn of fate her estate will go to the State of Missouri, she having survived her three children and even a grandchild, all of her known relatives.

'Spooning' Sweet on Seat of Park Bench Built for Two

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—Private benches, big enough to seat only two and opened automatically by dripping a nickel in the slot, may be the latest innovation in the Los Angeles parks. Park Superintendent Shearer believes that they will be fine for moonlight couples who are fond of "spooning" and who dislike the idea of sharing with others the larger public benches.

109 Fishermen Drown as Ice Floe Is Carried to Sea

ASTRAKHAN, Russia, Jan. 15. — By the breaking away of an ice floe 109 fishermen have been driven out to sea in the neighborhood of the village of Ganjuscian. It is believed they have been drowned in the Caspian Sea.

TRIBUNE ANNUAL WILL BE PUBLISHED WEDNESDAY, JAN. 17

THE TRIBUNE ANNUAL will be published on Wednesday, January 17. It contains 108 pages, handsomely and elaborately illustrated and covering every community and feature of general interest in Alameda county. THE ANNUAL contains, also, carefully prepared descriptions of the later developments that have taken place in the county and in the east bay shore cities and much other informational matter relating to them which will be of intense interest to friends and acquaintances abroad as well as to home-dwellers.

THE TRIBUNE ANNUAL, indeed, is just the publication to mail to friends in the east and abroad who are seeking information regarding the resources of Alameda county and the progress which is being made in Oakland and neighboring cities on the east side of the bay and the attractions which this section of the State offers to new-comers.

THE ANNUAL weighs twenty-five ounces. The postage on each copy sent by mail is as follows:

Kidney Trouble Overcome by the Great Treatment

I have been a sufferer for years with kidney and bladder trouble and took almost everything a drug store contained without obtaining any benefit.

I suffered so that I became utterly discouraged, as I could not sleep, was always dizzy and had a headache all the time. I saw one of your advertisements and, as a last resort, decided to try your Swamp-Root. I am now taking the third bottle and feel like a new woman, sleep well and have no pains whatever.

I strongly advise all sufferers to take the only real cure for kidney and bladder trouble. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root was a Godsend to me.

You may publish this letter if you wish so that it may be the means of bringing some poor sufferers back to health.

SAN LEANDRO MAN LOSES HIS AUTO

Thieves Drove Away in It While Owner Is Enjoying Vaudeville Show.

While John Auzerais of San Leandro was enjoying the show at the Oakland Orpheum, thieves took his Thomas Flyer automobile and drove away with it. The police have been notified, but so far the auto has not been recovered. The flyer is valued at $4000.

Robert Bressem of 1571 Eighth avenue reported to the police this morning that his house had been entered through a rear window Sunday afternoon during the absence of the family, and ransacked. Coin and jewelry valued at $15 were taken.

Celebrates Twentieth Successful Operation

This Man Has Spent Fifty-five Months on Hospital Cots; Has Had 100 Nurses.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Jan. 15.—Michael Durkin, 35 years old, is today celebrating for the twentieth time his safe return from the operating table. During the past fifteen years he has been under the surgeon's knife twenty times, in nearly as many different hospitals. He has spent a total of 55 months on hospital cots and has been under the care of 100 nurses.

POOLOS PRANTIKOS IS PLACED ON TRIAL TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Poolos Prantikos, who shot and killed Patrolmen Castor and Finnelly while resisting arrest at the ferry building late in November, was placed on trial in Judge Lawlor's court this morning. A jury was obtained and the taking of testimony begun. Prantikos was captured by the police only after a battle during which the two officers were killed while they were trying to apprehend him for a murder alleged to have been committed in Greece.

LIABILITY LAW UPHELD BY COURT

Employers' Measure of 1908 Declared Constitutional by Judges.

Second Attempt to Change Old Rule Proves Unsuccessful.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The constitutionality of the employers' liability law passed by Congress in 1908 today was upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States in all cases before it. The court also decided that state courts may enforce that act when local laws are appropriate.

This was the second attempt of Congress to change the old common law rule that an employe of a common carrier could not sue for damages from the carrier for injuries received in the course of his employment when the injuries resulted from the negligence of a fellow-servant. The first law, that enacted in 1906, was declared unconstitutional in 1908, because it embraced within its terms a regulation of interstate commerce as well as interstate. The law considerd today was enacted by Congress in 1908, immediately after the first law was held unconstitutional.

The constitutionality and interpretation of the new law came before the court in a number of cases, heard as one case about the last of February.

PRINCIPAL CASE.

The principal case was that of Bessie Babcock, widow of Ora L. Babcock, against the Northern Pacific Railway Company. Her husband lost his life in a railroad collision on the Northern Pacific in Montana in 1908. Mrs. Babcock sued under the federal employers' liability act, which had just been passedd, and under its terms she was entitled to the entire amount of judgment. Babcock left a sister also and if the judgment had been procured under the statute of Montana she would have been entitled to one-half of it. The Northern Pacific resisted the claim on the ground that if the federal law was unconstitutional if might be required to pay the sister, even if it had settled with the widow. The law was upheld by the federal court of Minnesota.

Another case arose out of the death of Daniel J. Walsh, brakeman on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company. The United States Circuit Court for Massachusetts held the law constitutional.

Still another case was that of Edgar C. Hondon, an employe on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, against that road. He brought suit in the state courts of Connecticut, which declined to consider the case. That gave rise to questions as to whether or not Congress had attempted to or could, if it had attempted, require state courts as well as federal courts to take jurisdiction over such cases.

SEVENTH STREET CLUB THANKS CITY COUNCIL

A communication from the Seventh Street Improvement Club was received by the City Council this morning thanking the council for the aid, financial and otherwise, given the New Year's Eve celebration in Seventh street, commemorating the inauguration of the electric train service. The letter was signed by officers of the club.

ONE DEAD, ONE WOUNDED DURING SALOON HOLDUP

Trio of Masked Bandits Rain Bullets Into the Arena Barrel House

the other occupants were high in the air.

Mullally continued to struggle with the robber, but the latter broke from him and getting his gun into play, fired the second time. The bullet struck the assemblyman's watch chain, and carried a link with it through the stomach, the shot lodging in the fleshy part of the back.

"We'd better get out of here, fellows," yelled the white masked man, and as he did so, there was a run for cover on the part of everyone save Mullally who lay groaning upon the floor.

EMPTY THEIR GUNS.

Evidently fearing attack or interference, the bandits lost their heads and a hail of bullets followed as each of them fired every shot in his revolver. Mullally was hit again, the bullet entering his right side and striking his pocketbook. Craig, who was running toward a back room, received a shot in the fleshy part of the right leg, the wound, however, is of trivial character.

When the smoke cleared and the occupants of the place came forth from their hiding, the robbers had gone, leaving the cash register and valuables intact, but the proprietor was even then in a sinking condition. The police were notified from a half dozen sources by neighbors who had heard the firing, and the faint report of a shot had reached the ears of Patrolman J. W. Carolan, who hurried to the scene.

The first thought of all was to take the injured men to the Central Emergency Hospital, where the grievous condition of Mullally was immediately recognized.

SURGEONS OPERATE.

His family physician, Dr. Reuben Hill, was summoned, as was Chief Surgeon Howard. Together with Dr. Jackson the surgeons performed an operation but found that Mullally's liver had been torn and there was little or no chance for him. The link from his watch chain was found imbedded in the stomach. After working over him for three hours, the physicians saw that their efforts were useless and had the patient removed from the operating table and put to bed. He died a few minutes later.

Detectives Proll and Geiman, with a posse of 20 officers from the Southern Station, had meantime begun their search for the robbers. Every cheap lodging house south of Market street is being combed.

WIFE HEARTBROKEN.

The feelings of Mrs. Mullally, when she failed to get the saloon on the telephone, were second only to her terror at sound of the shots which reached her ears from the saloon. Fearful and terror-stricken, she hastened to the place only to see her husband carried to a waiting ambulance and sent to the hospital. When she learned of his death, after waiting the anxious hours while the surgeons were employing heroic measures in an effort to save the wounded man's life, she broke down completely, as did also two of the three sisters of the dead man, who were with her.

Mullally was 36 years old, and a son of John Mullally, a pioneer resident of San Francisco. His wife, before her marriage, was Miss May Rogers, of Berkeley, California. The couple have no children. Mullally is survived by two brothers and three sisters. One of his brothers, Edward Mullally, is employed in the local custom house, and the other brother, James Mullally, is in the fire department. The three sisters, all of whom are married, are Mrs. Nellie Twomey, Mrs. Agatha Shepper and Mrs. Mary Hamilton.

HIS LAST WORDS.

As Mullally lay on the operating table, and the physicians were preparing to administer an anesthetic, the bond and warrant clerk arived to take his dying statement.

"I don't believe I am going to die," he moaned in his agony. "I don't think the end is coming yet, but I didn't want to let those fellows get the best of me, and I thought I had one chance to beat them, and I took it."

BANDITS COLLEGE-CLAD.

Jack Tierny, the bartender, when interviewed, told how he, himself, had made his escape to a back room after Mullally was shot, and had opened fire on the highwaymen with a revolver.

"One of them dropped to the floor and commenced firing back at me," he declared, "but I emptied my gun at them before they ran out."

The description in the hands of the police is to the effect that they are young fellows with college cut trousers with cuffs.

CITY FLAG POLE TO BE REMOVED

Latham Memorial Fountain Is to Take Its Place at Gore.

Those citizens of Oakland who congregated at the intersection of Telegraph avenue and Broadway this morning to see steeple-jack Louis Bridges ascend to the top of the city's flag-pole there, more than 125 feet, to paint it, were disappointed in their expectations. The ascension did not and will not take place.

"We have decided not to have the flag-pole painted in its present location," Commissioner of Streets Baccus said this morning, "in fact the pole is to be taken down and moved over to Adams Point on Lake Merritt, and when it is down the painting will be done. The reason for this is the fear that the pole may be rotted below the ground, and that there is danger of its falling at some time in the future. So it will be removed and the Latham Memorial fountain of bronze, announcement of whose gift to the city was made several months ago by Miss Emily Latham and her brother, will be erected in its place.

Divorces Wife on Misconduct Charge

Lieut. Lawson Accused Spouse of Intimacy With Lord Hamilton.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Lieutenant-Colonel Wm. Arnold Webster Lawson, second son of Baron Burnham, principal proprietor of the Daily Telegraph, was granted a divorce today on the ground of his wife's misconduct with Lord Hamilton of Dalzell.

Mrs. Lawson is the daughter of Lieutenant-General Sir Frederick Marshall, and was marrie din 1887.

DYING WOMAN CALLS FOR MISSING YOUTH

A pathetic appeal from William J. Crowley of New York for word of his missing son, William J. Crowley Jr., whose mother is ill and possibly dying from worry over the absence of her son, was received today by Mayor Frank K. Mott and turned over to Chief of Police Adelbert Wilson. The boy left New York last September and is supposed to have made his way to the Pacific Coast.

William Crowley is 17 years old. The father has succeeded in tracing him as far as Chicago, and has discovered that he left that city for California November 13. The boy's mother is critically ill and constantly asks for word of her son. The Oakland police are making a search for the boy.

CASE AGAINST RAY DISMISSED BY COURT

On motion of the District Attorney's office Judge John Ellsworth, sitting in the criminal department of the Superior Court, this morning dismissed the case against Charles Ray, in which he was charged with deadly assault. Bert Franklin, a striking teamster, was shot during a row with Ray, Jesse Barnett and other non-union men in the employ of the Sunset Lumber Company. The trial of Barnett resulted in acquittal and the same evidence adduced during this hearing applied to the case of Ray. Furthermore, Luther Davidson, one of the prosecution's witnesses, has been sent to an insane asylum since the Barnett trial, thus weakening the State's case against Ray still more.

MACPHEE IS AGAIN ORDERED TO BUREAU

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Patrolman Arthur Macphee, formerly in the upper office, but recently attached to Company A, was again ordered to the detective bureau by Chief of Police White this morning. Macphee is known as a fearless and capable officer, and has handled a number of important cases.

JUDGE ARNOT PRESIDES.

Judge N. D. Arnot of El Dorado county presided today over the auxiliary department of the Superior Court and will conduct the business of that branch of the local tribunal for about two months. He will be relieved by Judge James D. Murphey of Mono county, who sat in the auxiliary department several weeks immediately preceding January 1.

CITY NOT BOUND TO CARE FOR STREETS

Mayor Mott Cites Opinion of Legal Experts in Important Matter.

That a city is not bound in California by the action of its city council or governing body to keep a street in repair indefinitely after the street has been accepted by the council was announced to the city council this morning by Mayor Frank K. Mott, on the basis of legal opinions rendered by City Attorney Ben F. Woolner and other attorneys. The opinion will materially influence the action of the council in future in ordering street work where the street has been accepted.

In the past it has been the belief of the council that the city was bound to keep in repair forever any streets that had been accepted by the council. This is not the case, according to the legal experts, and despite the fact that several streets have been accepted the council will probably proceed to order work on the assessment plan. Some of this work has been held back in the past, due to the fact that former councils accepting thoroughfares without sufficient thought for the expense this might entail the city in the future.

MOTT'S LETTER.

Mayor Mott's communication follows:

January 5, 1912.

To the City Council of the City of Oakland, Oakland, Calif.

Gentlemen—At the convention of the League of California Municipalities, held at Santa Barbara, I was informed that no city in this state is bound by any action of its City Council or governing body in accepting any street, to keep the same in repair forever.

I was surprised to hear this and questioned the reliability of the statement. Whereupon Mr. Kent, the Pacific Coast Manager of Barber-Asphalt Paving Co., volunteered to supply me with a copy of the opinion of their company's attorney. Upon receipt of same I transmitted it to City Attorney Woolner for his opinion. He has just replied and indorsed the position taken by Mr. Kent as well as that of the attorney for the Barber-Asphalt Paving Company. I transmit herewith both opinions.

I regard this as an important matter and something that we should know, as at present time there are several pieces of street work that should be done, which are held back owing to the fact that the city, years ago, accepted the street.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed) FRANK K. MOTT,
Mayor of the City of Oakland.

BIGELOW INQUEST IS HELD TODAY

Daughter, Husband and Physician Are Witnesses; Funeral Is Held.

An inquest was held over the body of Mrs. J. T. Bigelow at the local morgue today and a verdict rendered that the woman had been murdered at her home, 1202 Haskell street, Berkeley, by her former husband, John Breuner Rider. The coroner's jury brought in a formal charge of murder against Rider, who is still a fugitive from justice.

The witnesses at the inquest were Miss Lillian Rider, daughter of the deceased; J. T. Bigelow, the husband, and Dr. O. D. Hamlin. The girl testified to having seen her father with a smoking revolver in his hand after she had heard the shot which resulted fatally to her mother.

Bigelow gave an account of the interview with the murderer prior to the interview between Rider and his victim. Dr. Hamlin explained that Mrs. Bigelow had died of a gun shot wound through the heart and stated that a 38-caliber revolver had been used at the shooting.

Bigelow visited the Oakland police station today to swear out a warrant charging Rider with the murder of his wife. He was informed by Captain of Inspectors W. J. Petersen that his home was just across the line in Berkeley and that the venue would lie in that city. He will swear to the warrant before Justice of the Peace Robert Edgar tomorrow morning. Chief of Police August Vollmer of Berkeley is handling the case.

The funeral of Mrs. Bigelow was held at 2:30 this afternoon from the undertaking parlors of E. James Finney, on Eighteenth street. Interment was in Mt. View Cemtery.

President Taft Sends Name of New Yorker to Senate as Ambassador.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. — President Taft sent to the Senate today the nomination of E. V. Morgan of New York as Ambassador to Brazil to succeed Irving B. Dudley, deceased.

Other nominations included: Surveyor general of Arizona, Frank S. Ingalls; surveyor general of New Mexico, John W. March.

FLORES RESIDENCE AT SAN LEANDRO LOOTED

SAN LEANDRO, Jan. 15. — The home of Thomas Flores, on Harlan street, was loted by burglars last night. Entrance was gained by a pass key while the family was away for the evening. The house was left topsy-turvy by the thieves, who had not even overlooked an electric iron.

Among the loot were some valuable musical instruments, a quantity of silverware, jewelry and several valuable ostrich plumes, which had been torn from Mrs. Flores' hat. The local authorities are making every effort to apprehend the burglars and circulars giving the numbers of the musical instruments stolen and description of other loot have been sent broadcast. The loss is estimated by Flores at several hundred dollars.

ORDERS PLACED FOR 20,000 AFFIDAVITS

County Clerk John P. Cook notified the supervisors today that he had placed orders for 20,000 affidavits of registration, the amount equally divided between two firms. The order is a portion of a requisition for 50,000 allowed by the board on January 8.

SAN LEANDRO MAN HAS PECULIAR BRAIN MALADY

SAN LEANDRO, Jan. 15. — T. R. Medeira, a well known resident of this place, is lying at the point of death with an affliction of the brain, the nature of which is puzzling the doctors. A consultation between Dr. C. L. Coleman, W. A. Clark and Dr. Herbert Hoffitt of San Francisco will be held this evening. Madeira is married and has two children. The family reside on Hawes avenue.

COOK WILL NOT GET THE $500

Supervisors Turn Down County Clerk's Request for Appropriation.

County Clerk John P. Cook was today denied his request for an allowance of $500 to be used in defraying the expenses of registration deputies in traveling about the county and for the hiring of halls, upon motion to this effect by Supervisor F. W. Foss, when the matter, which had been postponed from the last meeting was presented to the supervisors for disposition. Supervisor Murphy seconded the motion and upon roll call the ayes stood, Supervisors Foss, Murphy and Chairman Mullins; the nays, Supervisors Bridge and Kelley.

In explaining his vote, Supervisor Murphy said:

"So far as the registration in Livermore, Murray and Washington townships is concerned, the voters can be registered there free of charge. There need be no expense attached for hiring deputies or halls. So far as that goes County Clerk Cook need not travel there at all. I myself, two years ago, while acting as registration deputy, registered 250 voters after Cook had been in the district. I will guarantee that in my district I will register them free of charge to the county."

The statement of Murphy followed the announcement of Supervisor Kelley that County Clerk Cook was at this time in the outlying districts registering the voters and that he had begun his schedule.

Supervisor Foss said that he felt the same way about the matter as Supervisor Murphy and that he had made a thorough investigation.

"The statement of Supervisor Murphy may apply to Berkeley as well," he said. Some time ago County Clerk Cook notified the city clerk there not to register any voters until he (Cook) had finished holding his registration meetings. I do not doubt but that there would be a goodly number left over even after he got through with his side shows."

"If looks as if we were reversing ourselves," said Supervisor Kelley. "A week ago we allowed a requisition for 60,000 postal cards to be used in notifying the voters of the registration meetings to be held by the county clerk. If these meetings are unnecessary why should we have gone to the expense of printing the cards; so long as we did would it not be in keeping to assist the county clerk in fulfilling his appointments? I do not believe that the members of the board have given the matter sufficient consideration. We'll lay politics aside. I do not believe that Cook should be compelled to pay $500 out of his own pocket to accommodate the voters. On other occasions like sums have been expended for less important purposes."

"Merchants and taxpayers are working hard to support the county government and I believe that we should do all we can to assist them," said Chairman Mullins in conclusion.

Senate to Talk Over Treaties in Public

Lodge Seeks Immediate Consideration of Amendment to His Resolution.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The senate, in executive session today, after a lively debate decided by a vote of 58 to 8 to consider the arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France in public sessions. Senator Lodge sought immediate consideration of his amendment to the resolution for ratification of the treaties designed to meet all differences.

AGED TRAIN VICTIM DIES OF HIS INJURIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Isidor H. Wise, 57 years old, of 1273 O'Farrell street, who was injured by a Key Route train at Fortieth street and San Pablo avenue, Oakland, on January 8, died today at the St. Francis Hospital.

DELEGATES BACK FROM THE SOUTH

Speak in Terms of Praise of Counties' Committee Meeting.

Delegates from Oakland to the meeting of the Counties Committee of the California Development Board in Los Angeles on last Friday and Saturday are returning home with extended accounts of the good work accomplished in plans for state development. These representatives from this city and county were sent from the various civic and commercial organizations and included John P. Irish, Secretary A. A. Denison of the Chamber of Commerce, Colonel Theodore Gier, R. B. Hale, Henry Lachman, John Chestnut, L. H. Wakefield, Craigie Sharp, Charles Smith, George W. Arper and Robert Robertson.

Among the addresses made in the two days was one by Colonel John P. Irish, who spoke before the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce on the preparations Oakland is making for the completion of the Panama canal in the development of its harbor. Secretary Denison was also among the speakers.

Following the Los Angeles meeting Denison went on to San Diego, where he was informed it is the intention of the directors of the Panama-California exposition to pay especial attention to publicity work for Oakland and Alameda county. Representatives of the local Chamber of Commerce will be asked to accompany the special booster train which will be sent throughout the East, and every effort will be made to give due prominence to this vicinity.

NINE IN FAMILY GET ON REGISTER

James Merritt, Wife, Four Daughters and Three Sons-in-Law Sign Book.

James B. Merritt, a retired attorney and pioneer of Oakland, who is one of the most prominent Scottish Rite Masons in the state, not only registered his vote this morning at the county clerk's office, but directed the enrollment upon the great register of the county of the names of his wife, Catherine E. Merritt; his four daughters, Mrs. Gertrude E. Gardner, Mrs. Mary E. Cowell, Mrs. Sarah T. Robinson and Mrs. Augusta M. Norris, together with those of three sons-in-law, Charles H. Cowell, Edward C. Robinson and Thomas W. Norris. The esntire family registered as Republicans.

Merritt gave his age as 72 and Mrs. Merritt stated that she was 66. The former explained that he and Mrs. Merritt were about to leave the city for an extended trip through the country which may last until the eve of the next primaries, so that before departing he wanted to make sure that all available members of his immediate family were properly registered before he went away. Mr. and Mrs. Merritt reside at 1400 Jackson street.

ACCUSED SMUGGLER TO BE SENT SOUTH

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Judge Bean of Portland, sitting in the United States Court, this morning, ordered Kuni Umino, a Japanese, sent to Los Angeles for trial for an alleged attempt to smuggle two Chinese into this country. The coolies were landed at Monterey, and Umino was arrested by the Federal authorities.

DRINKS CARBOLIC ACID ON PORCH OF HOME

Thomas Landregan, 27 years old, drank carbolic acid last night on the porch in front of his room at 1717 High street last night and died before medical aid could be obtained. The body was removed to the Fruitvale morgue and an inquest will be held. No motive for suicide is known to the family of the decedent.

$75,000 GIFT MADE BY MRS. HEARST

Gives Great Club Building to Miners of Homestake Company.

LEAD, S. D., Jan. 15.—Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, through the Homestake Mining Company of Lead, which she owns, has given the miners in that institution a $75,000 club building. Plans for the building have been made, a site selected and work will begin immediately.

The club will be run by the employes themselves under the supervision of the officers of the mining company. The management will be similar to that of the Young Men's Christian Association, but on more liberal lines.

The workmen, of whom there are 2000, will have entire control over the attractions which will be offered and the nature of the entertainments given in the club. Mrs. Hearst already maintains a number of benevolent institutions in the city.

GANG OF SMUGGLERS UNCOVERED ON PULLMANS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—In the arrest of J. N. Littlejohn, a Pullman porter captured as he was endeavoring to bring $2000 worth of opium into this country from Mexico, the customs officials believe that they have caught one of the leaders of an organized gang of smugglers who have carried on their operations by securing minor positions as railway employes on solid Pullman trains.

The latter are less likely to be thoroughly searched than trains of a lower class, and the Federal authorities ascertain the game has resulted in good-sized fortunes for the ones yet uncaught. It is their belief that this method has in considerable measure superseded the use of smuggling vessels as being safer and more rapid.

THREE DIE IN WRECK.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 15.—Three are known to be dead and ten seriously injured in a Missouri Pacific wreck which occurred at a bridge a mile west of Norton Lyndon, about 10:30 o'clock last night.

GIRL COULD NOT SLEEP

Miss Van Steenburg, a Brooklyn girl, lately found herself unable to sleep. Of course she was worried, because there is nothing that will more quickly and certainly wreck health than to be unable to rest at night.

Now sleeplessness is just a symptom of failing health, and is caused by unequal circulation of the blood. Someone evidently gave her some good advice, for she says in a recent letter, "I had been all run down and tired out for some time and got so I could not sleep nights. I had heard so much about Vinol that I tried it and found it highly satisfactory.

"It has restored my strength, made me able to sleep and eat well, and I am now quite well again."

This delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil (Vinol) does wonders in building up weak, nervous, sickly people of all ages. It makes the blood rich and pure, corrects the faulty circulation and restores appetite. We promise to give back the money in case Vinol does not please you. The Owl Drug Co., Oakland, Cal.

This club has been organized for two years past and its monthly parties have been among the most popular assemblies in the bay district.

The young men instrumental in the affairs of the club are lending every effort to make the dance of this week a great success both in point of attendance, elaborate decorations, etc.

Many invitations have been sent out and the prompt acceptance presages a very successful party. F. X. Smith, T. J. Klink, H. R. Buell, Dr. H. A. Eggert and others are the directors of the club.

WILL TAKE STEP AGAINST EXECUTION

Big Meeting Will Be Held Thursday by Anti-Capital Punishment League.

The campaign for an initiative to secure a vote on the question of capital punishment at the next general election will be inaugurated at a mass meeting to be held at Rice's Institute, Seventeenth street and San Pablo avenue, Oakland, next Thursday at 8 p. m.

V. W. Lothrop, president of the league, will preside and the speakers will include J. Stitt Wilson, Joaquin Miller, Donald Lowrie, Ed Morrell and Miss Helen Todd. The Woman's Professional League and other organizations will cooperate in the meeting.

"The execution of Wilkins," said Secretary Young of the league, today, "in the face of a widespread and spontaneous protest from all parts of the state, has increased the interest in the movement, and it is hoped that Wilkins will be the last man to be hanged in California. I have no doubt the governor, if not the judges on the bench, will be glad to be relieved from taking any responsibility in maintaining this generally recognized relic of barbarism."

GUILELESS YOUTH FLEECES FIREMEN

And He Was From the Country, at That; Collects Much in Raid.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15. — Hopes which scores of members of the Chicago fire department had built on enjoying fresh country eggs and home made butter went glimmering last night when they found they had been victimized by a guileless country youth.

The boy gave his name as Frank Anderson and said he lived in Wheeler, Indiana. He was in hard luck, stranded in a big city and unable to find an aunt whom he had come to visit. He wanted money enough to get back home.

Anderson told the firemen his mother had a big farm in Indiana and promised them if they would help him, he would repay them by sending them butter and eggs when he reached home. The firemen gave willingly, and Anderson, by making the rounds of many engine houses, collected several purses of about $10 each.

The firemen found they had been swindled when a police message was sent out to arrest Anderson for operating a confidence game.

STOCKTON CASHIER IN JAIL FOR BIG THEFT

STOCKTON, Jan. 15.—J. C. Sterling, former cashier of the Union Safe Deposit Bank of this city, who recently confessed to having stolen $15,000 from the savings department of the institution, has been arrested and placed in jail. The complaint, which was sworn to by John C. Gray, alleges that Sterling misappropriated the sum of $500.

Immediately upon the issuance of the complaint by the District Attorney's office Sterling was taken into custody. His bond, which was fixed at $4000, will be arranged tomorrow, so it was announced by his friends. The bank officials are endeavoring to ascertain the period of time over which the cashier's speculation extended. When the defalcation was found by Cashier McGown, Sterling was summoned, and when confronted with the evidence he admitted the crime.

WILSON TO SUCCEED AMBASSADOR BACON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. — Huntington Wilson, Assistant Secretary of State, is to succeed Robert Bacon as Ambassador to France, according to persistent rumors in diplomatic circles here.

Thomas C. Dawson, resident diplomatic officer of the State Department, whose name was mentioned in connection with the post of Ambassador to Brazil, to which Edward V. Morgan was named, will be made Assistant Secretary of State, the same rumors say.

E. H. Lohmann Makes Two Important Downtown Loans.

There were placed of record today by E. H. Lohmann, the broker, two loans—one of $20,000 and another of $10,000 on properties in the block bounded by Fourteenth and Fifteenth, Clay and Jefferson streets.

The placing of these loans is part of a deal of large magnitude involving the immediate erection of two fine buildings which have already been leased for a term of years at a handsome rental.

CURRY WOULD GO TO U. S. CAPITAL

Announces Intention of Seeking Republican Nomination for Congress.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 15. — Charles F. Curry, former Secretary of State and candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor in the 1910 prmaries, announces that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress from the Third district.

Curry had intended contestng with Congressman Kent in the old Second district, but reapportionment changed the geographical line up. Former State Senator Charles M. Belshaw of Contra Costa county and Judge Frank R. Devlin of Solano county are mentioned as likely candidates.

No Democratic candidate has appeared, though Major W. A. Gett of Sacramento is consdering the advisability of getting into the race.

CORPORATION TAX DAY IS AT HAND

State Controller Nye Issues Open Letter Bearing on the Subject.

The Editor of THE TRIBUNE, sir: There are a number of corporations having their principal places of business in Oakland, as well as many others elsewhere, which have not yet paid the second half of their State taxes, besides some which have not paid even the first half. On Monday, February 5th, the second half of the tax, in the cases of all these corporations, will go delinquent, and if the tax is not paid by that time proceedings will be taken looking to the forfeiture of charters. Furthermore, State franchise taxes became a lien on Monday, March 6, 1911, on all the property of the corporations on which they were levied, and will remain a lien until paid, even though the charter be forfeited and the property transferred. Again, the law contemplates suits by the Controller against the delinquent corporations or their officers.

The larger corporations are generally paying up, but there is danger that a great many small corporations, of which many are not very busness-like, will be caught out, and have to pay penalties, even if they do not suffer a worse fate.

If you see fit to do so, I should be glad to have you make such a news item as will call the attention of Oakland corporations to approaching delinquency.

Very truly yours,
A. B. NYE,
State Controller.

Sacramento, January 13, 1912.

CAPITAL CITY TO VOTE ON $1,250,000 BONDS

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 15.—City Trustee E. J. Carragher states that three bonding propositions are expected to be submitted to the voters of Sacramento within the next six months. Sewer and drainage systems for the recently annexed suburbs, it is estimated, will require a bond issue of $750,000.

The city's levee system is acknowledged to be too low, inviting an overflow from the Sacramento and American rivers. It is estimated that bonds to the sum of $500,000 will be necessary to raise the levees to the necessary height. The demands on the municipal water system are such that the present pumping facilities have for some time been taxed beyond their capacity, and another big pump costing 100,000 must be provided for by the bond issue.

SALVAGE CORPS ANSWERS 1 CALL HOUR FOR 13 DAYS

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 15.—Members of Salvage Corps No. 1. of this city, answered an average of one alarm every hour during the first 15 days of the year. According to the captain of the corps, the records broke those of 37 years' standing.

Within the 24 hours beginning January 6, the corps made 28 runs, the first one being to a hotel at which the men fought in a temperature of 14 degrees below zero.

DOG GETS DIPHTHERIA.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Jan. 15.—When Sanitary Inspector William Schaffer went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Reed to quarantine the house on account of the illness of their daughter Eleanor with diphtheria, he was told that a neighbor's dog with which the little girl had been playing had every appearance of having diphtheria, too. The matter was reported to Health Officer Turb, who found the dog suffering from the same malady. He gave orders that the dog be kept confined and the owner's home quarantined until the animal got well.

NEW SUB-TREASURY READY IN 20 MONTHS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce has received information from its Washington (D. C.) bureau indicating that the new United States Subtreasury building at Pine and Sansome streets, this city, will be completed at an earlier date than has been announced before. Official information is to the effect that the structure will be ready for occupancy within twenty months from the time the contract is signed and that it will be at an early date.

Recently the successful competing architect notified the supervising architect that the dtails of the accepted plans would be sent to the Treasury Deparment before the end of January. The necessary advertising for bids will require forty days after the plans are received. Signing up the contract and arranging all sureties and other details in connection with it will consume another fifteen days.

SAN DIEGO PLAYS HOST TO STATE'S DELEGATES

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 15.—One hundred and fifty counties' delegates, county supervisors and officials of the Panama-Pacific Exposition arrived here from Los Angeles yesterday in response to a cordial invitation from Mayor Wadham, the chamber of commerce and citizens generally that they accept the hospitality of the city. The visitors were taken in automobiles, fifty in all, and practically every point of interest was shown them.

They visited the site of the Panama California Exposition in the center of San Diego's 1400-acre park, drove along Point Loma boulevard, inspected the harbor and spent an hour on the Coronado strand. A luncheon was served in their honor at the Grant. Last night a portion of the delegation returned to the north. The others will leave today. Nearly every county in California was represented. The visitors were led by J. A. Filcher of Sacramento. Mayor Wadham received the visitors.

SCALPING TO BE BARRED BY CHICAGO COUNCIL

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Theater ticket "scalping" is expected to be dealt a death blow in Chicago at tonight's meeting of the city council. An ordinance has been prepared by Alderman Britten, which will permit the city to revoke the license of any theater which is shown to be in collusion with outsiders to sell tickets at advanced prices. It is believed there will be no opposition to the ordinance.

ACCUSED SLAYER IS SPIRITED AWAY

Bowman Taken to Olathe for Arraignment; Trial Set for February 13.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 15.—Chas. K. Bowman, an Indiana farmer, charged with the murder of four persons on the Bernhart farm near Olathe, Kan., in December, 1910, was spirited away from the police station in Kansas City, Kan., yesterday and taken to Olathe, where he was arraigned today. His preliminary trial was set for February 13.

Two separate charges, both of first degree murder, were filed against him by Prosecuting Attorney C. B. Little. One charges him with the murder of Mrs. Emeline Bernhart, the other with taking the lives of George Bernhart and two farm hands.

Bowman was not represented by counsel. He was committed to jail without bond and was brought back to Kansas City, Kan., after the arraignment. Bowman will try to prove that he was in Arkansas at the time of the murders.

HUMPHREY OPPOSED AS FEDERAL JUDGE

SEATTLE, Jan. 15.—A resolution protesting against the proposed appointment of Congressman William E. Humphrey of Seattle to the Federal Judgeship that will become vacant February 1 when the resignation of United States Judge George Donworth of the district of Western Washington takes effect, was adopted at a mass meeting of citizens held here at Dreamland Pavilion yesterday. The resolution was addressed to President Taft and contained a clause requesting Senators Jones and Poindexter to prevent the confirmation of Humphrey should President Taft appoint him.

ICE CROP RECORD ONE; PRICES TO REMAIN SAME

CHICAGO, aJn. 15.—Although the ice crop is the greatest in many seasons, there is no prospect of its being any cheaper during the summer months than it has in recent years, according to local dealers.

The ice, according to the head of one of the largest concerns, cannot be harvested as easily this winter as it has been in the past. The usual implements cannot be used, and the weather is too cold for the harvesters. All these things lead to the "cost of production," and consequently there seems no cause for rejoicing on the part of the consumer.

SAILOR LOST FROM STEAMER.

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 15.—With the cry "man overboard" the propellers of the steamer State of California were stopped when the boat was near Santa Barbara yesterday afternoon, but every attempt to recover the body was futile. The unfortunate man was Charles Swanson, a seaman, of San Francisco, who lost his balance while arranging some rigging.

W. Morgan Shuster's Successor Compels Persian Cabinet to Retract.

TEHERAN, Jan. 15.—F. E. Cairns, the American to whom W. Morgan Shuster, the former treasurer general of Persia, transferred the affairs of that office, has informed the government that while he and his colleagues intended at present to perform their respective duties, he disclaimed all responsibility for the management of the treasury administration from the moment M. Mornard took summary possession.

M. Mornard, who is the Belgian former director of Persian customs, recently assumed control of the department as head of the committee appointed by the Persian government.

In acquainting Cairns and the other American officials with the contents of the cabinet's message directing him to take possession of the treasury offices, M. Mornard told them that if there was any further delay in turning over the treasury not only would they be dismissed from their position, but punished.

Cairns, in his notification to the government, said that the cabinet's improper language was incomprehensible. He added that he had communicated with the government at Washington regarding the subject of employment of Americans by the Persian government and the government's threats of punishment against himself and his American colleagues.

The cabinet appears to have repented of its inconsiderate language and Cairns received an official communication politely urging him and the other American officials, in the interest of financial administration, not to refuse the assistance of M. Mornard. The tension, therefore, is relaxed for the present.

FRESNO BURGLARS HAVE BUSY SUNDAY EVENING

FRESNO, Jan. 15.—Three residences in this city were burgalized early last evening and small sums of money were stolen. In each case the rear windows in the houses were pried open in identically the same manner and houses were ransacked. The dwellings which were robbed belonged to Owen F. Foln, Roy Pulliam and H. O. Bucker.

In the first two houses the burglars stole stick pins and a diamond stud while in Bucker's home $10 was stolen. D. J. Craig and Jake Garnett were found near the scene of the burglaries and they were taken into custody. Revolvers were found on both men. Their shoes failed to fit in the tracks left by the burglars.

HUNDREDS PAY BIG TRIBUTE TO CARDINAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Catholics of Washington paid their respects yesterday to Cardinal Gibbons, who came to the capital in accordance with his custom of eight years' standing that he orient receive members of his church at a new year reception, which for this city is held on the second Sunday of January. Hundreds were greeted by the Cardinal in Carroll Hall, adjoining St. Patrick's church.

SACRAMENTO VALLEY TO HAVE NEW ROAD

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 15.—It has been ltarned from an authentic source that the Central California Traction company has secured rights of way for a branch line from its main Sacramento line at Galt road to Galt, and that it proposes to extend the branch line through Thornton and on to Walnut Grove, on the Sacramento river.

There are also indications that the traction company's proposed branch line to Lockeford will be extended on to Jackson and possibly to San Andreas. Surveyors have been running lines in the hills between Lockeford and Jackson for several weeks.

SCHOONER THAYER PICKED UP.

EUREKA, Jan. 15.—The schooner C. A. Thayer, waterlogged and leaking badly and with her pumps out of commission, was picked up twenty-five miles off Cape Mendocino by the steamer J. B. Stetson and is being towed south, according to a wireless message received by the government station at Table Bluff.

'QUIT STRUTTING UP AND DOWN,' SAYS THE JUDGE

Dynamiting Case Enlivened by Court and Opposing Counsel.

MYSTERY SPRUNG IN JURY BRIBING TRIAL

Government Attorney Hastens Probing of McNamara Conspiracy.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15. — The Conner's hall of records dynamiting trial was enlivened today by a tilt between prosecution and defense in which Judge Willis finally joined. Horace Appel, one of the attorneys for the accused iron workers, was grilling Mansell Parks, the county detective who gave damaging testimony regarding an alleged dynamiting plot concocted by local labor leaders, when Ray Herton, assistant district attorney, declared Appel was trying to bully the witness and appealed to the court to protect him.

Judge Willis ordered Appel not to shake his fist in the face of the witness and the attorney retorted that the court had joined with the prosecutor to degrade him in the eyes of the jury.

"Sit down at the table reserved for attorneys," Judge Willis ordered. "Quit strutting up and down, and conduct your cross examination properly or I will attend to your case."

Appel sat down. The defense so far has not been able to damage the testimony of Parks to any appreciable degree.

Assistant District Attorney W. Joe. Ford threw an additional veil of mystery over the grand jury dynamite investigation today when he first served Bert H. Franklin, the McNamara detective accused of jury bribing, with a subpoena to appear before the inquisitors forthwith and then summoned the jurors from their own chamber to his office.

Lecompte Davis, attorney for the accused man, declared that if the prosecution forced Franklin to testify before the grand jury with reference to the charges filed against him in the suprior court, he could not be tried on them. Ford, as usual, was silent, but according to the defense the serving of the subpoena may have been merely an effort to bring Franklin again into Ford's office so that another effort could be put forth to induce him to make revelations on which indictments might be returned against persons who are alleged to have supplied the funds to corrupt jurors in the McNamara trial.

Only two witnesses were heard this morning before the jury adjourned to Ford's office. They were John Veenhuyze, an official of the German Saving bank, and a former venireman in the McNamara trial from Sierra Madre.

WILL PUSH CASE.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 15. — With the arrival here today of Oscar Lawler, assistant to the attorney general, it was apparent the government intends to push with all possible speed the investigation of the dynamite conspiracy. Mr. Lawler, who in Washington recently is believed to have fully acquainted the department of justice with the progress of the inquiry, had a long conference with United States District Attorney Charles W. Miller.

Soon afterward a number of subpoenas were issued, supposedly for witnesses whom the government had been considering whether to call.

The part Ortie McManigal, the confessed dynamiter, had in the explosions and his relations with others not heretofore publicly implicated, probably will take up the greater part of the federal grand jury's attention this week.

Butter Price Soars Like an Aeroplane

ELGIN, Ills., Jan. 15. — High price records of 24 years were smashed on the Elgin butter board this afternoon when the quotation committee ruled butter firm at 40c a pound. Last week's quotation was 36 cents a pound.

FRIENDS PAY TRIBUTE TO MRS. LINFORTH

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—Funeral services for the late Mrs. Mary Jane Linforth, grandmother of Dr. Ivan M. Linforth, assistant professor of Greek in the University of California, were conducted at St. Clement's Episcopal Chapel by the pastor, Rev. F. H. Martyr, this morning at 11'oclock. Mrs. Linforth was a pioneer woman of the state, aged 84 years.

The pall bearers at her funeral today were Captain J. H. Rinder, F. Mortimer French, Carl T. Cook, W. H. Souther, Dr. Ivan M. Linforth and Rex Linforth. Interment was in Sunset cemetery.

COURT STANDS PAT.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The Supreme Court declined today to review the decisions of the Third Circuit Court of Appeals, which held that the armor plate processes of the Midvale Steel Company of Pennsylvania did not infringe the German patents of the Krupps.

UMITALLA HERE AFTER ROUGH TRIP

Gale After Gale Attacks Passenger and Freight Liner on Voyage.

Completing the worst passage of her career the Pacific Coast freighter and passenger liner Umatilla arrived this morning from Puget Sound and docked at Long wharf. According to Captain Scoby who was in charge of the vessel during the run from the north the big steamer had hardly cleared from the Sound when she was set upon by gale after gale that lasted until she reached this port late Saturday night. The first signs of hard weather began at Umatilla lightship and from that portion of the coast down to Cape Mendocino one continuous southeast gale swept the vessel until it appeared as if she were doomed to destruction. According to the vessel's log book the gale reached a velocity of over 90 miles an hour and for six hours the big liner was forced to run along under slow power, the huge waves almost paralyzing her progress.

According to a number of the Umatilla passengers of whom about one hundred made the trip the passage was one continuous night of horror. The water kicked up by the strong southeaster was whipped into seas that ran mountain high and tossed the big liner about as if it were but a cork. Practically all of the passengers were confined to their staterooms with seasickness. Not only were the passengers uneasy over the weather but even some of the officers today admitted that they were rather doubtful as to whether the vessel would get into port undamaged. All speak well of Captain Scoby who during the worst of the storm paced up and down the bridge or along the deck calm and unruffled and at the same time giving heart to the more timid by cheerful words.

When the liner docked on this side she was in charge of Captain Riley who relieved Captain Scoby while the vessel is in this port. She is discharging 2200 tons of freight and picking up about 100 tons of merchandise. The vessel was undamaged when she came into port.

WILL PICK UP WHEAT.

The big four-masted ship William T. Lewis which for the past week has been discharging freight at Long wharf left late yesterday afternoon for Port Costa where she will pick up wheat for Europe. She is one of the Hind-Rolph and Company's windjammers and is in charge of Captain Manning.

Considerable inconvenience was caused to navigation on the bay Saturday night and in the early hours of Sunday morning by a heavy fog which hung over the water and nearly paralyzed travel. Although this side was little effected by the dense mist, the ferry boats being the only ones to suffer being forced to run under speed and half time the San Francisco side was practically buried in the heavy bog blanket and it was only by using bells and whistles that any shipping was done.

LIGHT OUTSIDE GATE.

Outside the Gate the fog was considerably lighter than inside, although vessels running up and down the coast were forced to use their whistles and bells. The only accident recorded was the collision of a Santa Fe barge under tow with one of the barges being used for the destroying off Rincon Rock. The damage done was slight and both barges were able to go on without being laid up. According to some of the local waterfront men who ran up to the vicinity of the Sacramento river for hunting the fog in those parts was blacker than coal and it was nearly impossible to get any shooting.

The little schooner Mary Francis came in under tow by the Oakland Launch and Tugboat Company's tug Panama and laid at the city wharf. She is discharging pipe and comes from Baden.

The steam schooner Ravalli after working all day Sunday at Long wharf steamed around to the Sunset Lumber Company's wharf where after discharging lumber she left for San Francisco. Other vessels at the Sunset Lumber Co.'s wharf are the steam schooners Hornet 300,000 feet and the Seme, 250,000 feet.

After discharging 200,000 laths at the Oakland Dock and Warehouse Company's wharf the steam schooner Temple E. Dorr left for San Francisco.

WIDOW OF DR. HERMANN B. FOX DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Annie Fox, 77 years old, widow of the late Dr. Hermann B. Fox, is dead at the family home, 860 Fifty-fifth street, after an illness of several days. Mrs. Fox was born in Warsaw, Poland, and resided in Oakland only about two years. She is survived by three sons—Frederick, J. M. and Otis M. Fox—and two daughters—Sarah and Rebecca Fox. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family home. Interment will be at Mountain View Cemetery.

SEAMAN'S BODY FOUND IN CASE OF STEEL

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 15.—Welded tightly in a case of steel formed by a buckled piece of the vessel's wrecked hull, the body of John Deyell, the seaman killed in the collision between the Strathalbyn and Virginian Friday night, was found by longshoremen engaged in discharging the cargo. It had been supposed that he was knocked overboard and drowned when the vessels collided.

ACTION REGARDING ESTUARY SUBWAY

$3500 Appropriated by Supervisors to Obtain Data as to Probable Cost.

Steps were taken by the board of supervisors today for collecting data on the probable cost of running a tunel underneath the estuary for the purpose of accommodating transportation between the cities of Oakland and Alameda in a resolution presented by Supervisor Joseph Kelley, the same being unanimously adopted, as follows:

Whereas, In the judgment of this board of supervisors of the county of Alameda, State of California, it is deemed advisable, in the interests of commerce, for the benefit of the residents of said county of Alameda, and for the purpose of expediting travel between points on the opposite sides of the Oakland harbor or estuary between the cities of Oakland and Alameda, to build and construct tubes, tunnels or subways under said Oakland harbor at such point or place upon said Oakland harbor as shall be determined upon by the said board of supervisors; and

Whereas, This board of supervisors is authorized by the provisions of an act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An act concerning tunnels, tubes and subways under navigable streams and bodies of water in the State of California," approved March 23, 1911, to expend not to exceed the sum of thirty-five hundred dollars ($3500) for the purpose of ascertaining the probable cost of such tubes, tunnels or subways; and

Whereas, The mayors of the cities of Oakland and Alameda, and the citizens thereof, have requested this board of supervisors to avail itself of the provisions of this act; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the board of supervisors of the county of Alameda that the county surveyor be, and he is hereby instructed to make such investigations, surveys, estimates, calculations, maps and plans, and collect such other data as in his judgment may be necessary to determine the probable cost of such tubes, tunnels or subways under said Oakland harbor, said investigations by said county surveyor to be made at a cost not to exceed the sum of thirty-five hundred dollars ($3500).

Councilman A. L. Morgenstern of Alameda and J. G. Kearney of that city appeared before the supervisors with a request that they act in the matter immediately, as the sum of $3500 had already been made available for the purpose of surveys and estimates. Both men represented the improvement clubs of Alameda. Morgenstern said that the people of that city were anxious that something be done at once.

Chairman Mullins of the board relinquished the chair temporarily to Supervisor Kelley and from the floor stated the matter from his standpoint. He said in part:

"After considerable investigation on the part of the committee, consisting of the mayors of Alameda and Oakland and myself, we determined that the large interests of both cities desire that the tunnel be built. On the whole, the sentiment is generally favorable to the project. If the $3500 is judiciously expended it will give the people an estimate of what the cost of the tunnel would be, and I recommend at this time that the board take action."

The resolution offered by Supervisor Kelley was seconded by Supervisor Foss and passed by unanimous vote of the board. The representatives from Alameda complimented the members upon their prompt action and stated that it would meet with approval of Alameda citizens.

GIRL DISAPPEARS; POLICE CALLED IN

Isabell McColl Enticed From Home Is Belief of Parents.

MELROSE, Jan. 15.—The disappearance of Isabella McColl, 15 years old, living with her parents at 3718 Orchard avenue, was reported to Captain Brown of the Melrose police station this morning. The girl disappeared several days ago and is believed to have been enticed from home. The girl is described as five feet, six inches, fair complexion, blue eyes, and weighing 130 pounds. Every effort has been made to locate her by the authorities.

Raiding Police Fight Vicious Bulldogs

Officers Subdue Canines With Sledge Hammers; Chinese Arrested for Gambling.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—A squad of policemen had to subdue two vicious bull dogs with sledge hammers before they could effect an entrance into an alleged Chinese lottery den. After the animals had been effectively quieted, the raiding party was compelled to break through triple-barred doors in order to reach the room, in which the alleged illicit traffic was in progress.

Sergeant Varey who led the squad reported today that the dogs evidently had been placed in the yard to guard the place.

One Chinese with lottery tickets in his possession was arrested.

CAFES RUN AFOUL OF FISH AND GAME LAW

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Wild ducks are something of a luxury, and are quite popular with the bohemians who nightly frequent the down-town cafes. Techau Tavern especially has a great demand for them, but their supply has necessarily been limited as the result of the activities of the Fish and Game Commissioners. Today warrant was sworn to against Techau's charging that on January 13 they had ten ducks more than the law allowed. They are permitted 25, and according to Deputy Fairfield they had 35. The Tait-Zinkand cafe, also fell under Fairfield's notice, but with them it was crawfish that caused the issuance of a warrant by Judge Deasy. It is claimed that they had fish shorter than nine and one-half inches in length.

HITCHCOCK WOULD TAKE OVER U. S. TELEGRAPH

Postmaster General Plans Acquisition by Government of All Wires.

ADVOCATES MAKING IT PART OF MAIL SERVICE

Points Out That Better Service and Lower Rates Will Result.

tol today to avoid any serious consideration of the proposed plan.

"The question of government ownership of public utilities is a great one that needs long and careful consideration," said Representative Moon of Texas, chairman of the Postoffice committee. "If Postmaster-General Hitchcock's plans are embodied in a bill to be introduced in Congress and the bill comes to this committee it certainly will be given thorough consideration."

RESERVES COMMENT.

Senator Bourne of Oregon, chairman of the Senate committee on postoffices, reserved comment until after he had had time to read the details of the Postmaster-General's plans.

"On the theory that the telegraph is a part of the mails, it seems to me that it would be out of place for the government to own the telegraph lines," said Senator Collum of Illinois.

Senator Wm. Alden Smith of Michigan said:

"I have steadfastly opposed the government ownership of the public utilities for many years. The prestige enjoyed by American citizens is due to their unhampered individual intitiative, but as a natural appurtenance to the postal system, I have felt that the telegraph could be more appropriately operated by the government than any other branch of individual business."

There was a disposition among some Senators today to credit the report that Hitchcock's action might mean a break between him and President Taft and an alignment of Hitchcock with those who are urging the candidacy of Colonel Roosevelt for the Republican presidential nomination. This, however, is but one of the half hundred theories discussed about the Capitol.

For a year or more Hitchcock has had this recommendation under consideration. After a thorough study of the operation of government controlled lines and postal telegraph systems of foreign countries, he has decided to urge the matter upon Congress.

"Should this recommendation be adopted," Hitchcock said last night in a statement of his intentions, "I am convinced it would result in important economies and in materially lowering the telegraph rates that are now exacted. In approximately fifty countries of the world, notably in Great Britain, France, Germany, Austria, Italy, Spain, Russia and Japan, government controlled telegraphs are now in profitable operation.

"In many of the countries they are operated in connection with the postal service.

WOULD REDUCE COST.

"These telegraphs serve an average population of 950,000,000 and in every instance they have been found to be of immense practical benefit to the people in both promptitude and cost of service.

"In this country postoffices are maintained in numerous places not reached by telegraph systems, and the proposed consolidation, therefore, would afford a favorable opportunity for the wide extension of telegraphic facilities. In many small towns where the telegraph companies have offices the telegraph and mail business could be handled readily by the same employes. It is evident that the separate maintenance of the two services under present conditions results in a needless expense.

"The first telegraph in the United States was operated from 1844 to 1847 by the government, under authority from Congress, and from many viewpoints it is desirable that government control be resumed. A method for the acquisition of telegraph lines is prescribed in section 5267 of the revised statutes, which provides that for postal military or other purposes the government may purchase telegraph lines, operated in the United States, on appraised value.

"My view is that every reason for the transmission of mail under government control can be urged with equal force for the transmission of communications by telegraph.

BETTER SERVICE.

"Because of the more extensive organization maintained by the postal service and the freedom from taxation and other charges to which private corporations are subject, the government undoubtedly could afford greater facilities, at lower rates, than are afforded by companies now conducting the telegraph business. Next to the introduction of a general parcels post for which there is a strong popular demand, the establishment of a government telegraph system offers, in my judgment, the best opportunity for the profitable extension of the nation's postal service."

It is not Hitchcock's purpose to recommend the acquisition of telephone lines, except possibly, in instances where they are operated as telegraph lines and are an integral part of definite telegraph systems.

The appraised value of the systems proposed to be acquired would be purely conjectural, but it is said it would be approximately $250,000,000.

The experts who figured on the propositions are of the opinion that the existing telegraph rates could be reduced at least one-third to the public and yet make the operation of the lines profitable to the government.

After Postmaster-General Hitchcock had been in conference with President Taft for more than an hour today an authoritative statement was made at the White House that there had been no friction between the President and the Postmaster-General.

WHITE HOUSE STATEMENT.

The statement given out at the White House follows:

"A recommendation by the Postmaster-General that it would be well for the government to buy the telegraph lines and incorporate them in the postoffice system appeared in an earlier annual report submitted by him to the President. After some discussion it was decided at the President's suggestion to postpone reference to the matter to another year and not to bring it forward then because of the recommandation of many other important changes, including the postal savings bank and the parcels post. These, if adopted, would take all the energy of the postoffice department in making the necessary changes.

"The Postmaster-General intended to bring this matter to the attention of the President before the publication in advance of this part of his report. After having made preparations for publication he was suddenly called out of town without having done so.

"His conclusion as to the wisdom of taking over the telegraph lines had been reached only after full investigation and consideration. As the report containing the recommendation has not yet been submitted to the President it has not yet been considered by him or by the Cabinet with a view to presenting it to Congress as an administration measure."

BOLT OUT OF CLEAR.

NEW YORK, Jan., 15.—The announcement from Washington that Postmaster-General Hitchcock is about to recommend government ownership of telegraph and telephone lines was received with surprise by officials of the big telegraph and telephone companies here.

"It is a bolt out of a clear sky," declared Theo N. Vail, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, and of the Western Union. Mr. Vail said that there had been no conference on the subject and that not even a suggestion had been made to the companies here that such a proposition was being considered by the Postmaster-General.

Edward J. Nalley, vice-president and general manager of the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company, did not believe Congress would favor Mr. Hitchcock's idea.

TVEITMOE SPEAKS AT BIG MEETING

State Building Trades Council Convenes at Fresno.

in this report; neither will they be discussed in the newspapers by the defendants or by any of their attorneys. Suffice it to say that there is no foundation for any of the charges, that so far as the defendants know, the indictments were returned without a vestige of scintilla of evidence tending to connect them with the crime alleged. They consider it all a personal, political prosecution. But it is more, it is a blow aimed at union labor."

The report included a general review of industrial conditions in the state touching on the problem of Asiatic labor, the year's history of strikes and lockouts, the attitude of labor on questions arriving from the Panama-Pacific Exposition and legislative activities of labor unon representatives. Governor Johnson and the members of the last legislature are commended for the passage of the eight-hour law for women and other labor legislation. In speaking of Asiatic exclusion, Tveitmoe said:

"The Oriental coolie question is far from settled. The present Chinese exclusion act has proved wholly inadequate, and the gentleman's agreement with Japan is anything but satisfactory. Chinese coolie laborers are coming in by the hundreds and thousands, disguised as business men and students. Another evil of large proportions is the almost daily arrival of large numbers of Japanese women. The Hindu influx has been checked to a certain extent. However, these subjects will be dealt with more in detail by reports from the Asiatic Exclusion League; and, when they are considered, your secretary-treasurer recommends that the convntion take definite and proper action in support of the Raker bill, now pending before Congress.

"Union men and women work for peace because peace means greater happiness to all," the report continues. "They believe that murder is the most herrible of all crimes and that the taking of human life, whether committed by individual, society, state or nation, in an ordinary brawl, an industrial struggle or a so-called civilized war, is murder.

LEAST RESISTANCE.

"Trade unions operate along the lines of least resistance and practice the doctrine of non-resistance more faithfully than does any other organization of modern times, with the exception of one or two religious denominations.

"If labor should invoke as a law, 'an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth,' the world would have a deluge of human blood, without a saving ark or a Mount Ararat, but with numberless Ceasar's columns to mark the final landings."

"Whether of short duration, or months or years, labor's battle will be fought in field and factory, in mine and mill, in court and at ballot box. It matters not if few or many fall in the struggle, other militant workers will take their places. The battle for the emancipation of the toilers and freedom for the children of the world goes on and on and on, and no power can change its course any more than it can stay the motion of the planets. Remember that no noble cause has ever grown to greatness except through oppression and martyrdom. The progress may seem slow. It is true. God purifies slowly by faith; but urgently by fire."

M'CARTHY'S SPEECH.

P. H. McCarthy, former mayor of San Francisco, now general president of the California Building Trades council, read his annual report before the eleventh annual state convention of the council here today. McCarthy did not refer to the McNamara case or to the indictments now pending against state union labor officials, but spoke of "conspiracies" to destroy union labor and said the present time was the most critical period in the history of the state industrial organizations.

"All the guns of appressors of labor are turned on the union movement," he said. "They who oppose labor know that the destruction, disbandment or retardation of the trades union movement in any manner whatever is a benefit to them. The employers of labor, who in competition figure on the lowest possible basis of wage cost to be paid the men who do the work, are always willing to assist in any manner in the destruction of the union movement.

BRANDS IT DISHONEST.

"When anything goes wrong within the confines of labor, it has become the custom of those opposed to labor immediately to charge labor as a whole and particularly to charge those who are entrusted with the duties of guiding the destinies of the organization with the most horrible of crimes.

"I repeat this is not honest. On the contrary, it is distinctly dishonest and un-American. The millions of men and women who toil for a living in this country and who are associated with organized labor, are among the most honest, law abiding God fearing of our citizens. They have always been so; they will always continue to be such, our traducers, our oppressors and our enemies to the contrary notwithstanding.

"It might just as well be understood by the opponents of labor now as any other time that the more they abuse labor, the stronger labor is bound to become, organized labor has come to stay, and, resting, as it does, on a foundation of equality, justice and fair play is bound to succeed."

BARON'S SPEECHES CAUSE SENSATION

Fuchs Declares Italy Is Preparing to War on Austria.

VIENNA, Jan. 15. — Considerable sensation has been caused in political circles here by some recent speeches delivered by Baron Fuchs, the clerical leader, who declared that Italy is arming against Austria and that when the war in Tripoli is over the king of Italy must either fight Austria or go into exile.

Baron Fuchs insisted that the intimate relations which have for so long existed between Austria and Germany are becoming weaker as the result of Austria's failure to support her ally during the Morroccan crisis. He likewise complained that Austria's relations with the Russian empire had not been well handled.

Baron Fuchs is said to have demanded an explanation from the Austrian foreign minister, Count Alois Lexa von Aehrenthal of the difficulties between Austria and Germany in which he said he possessed accurate knowledge; but the foreign minister maintained absolute silence on the subject.

COUNCIL ORDERS PROPER SIDEWALK

Baccus Declares Realty Companies Are Laying Inferior Article.

Commissioner of Streets William J. Baccus this morning notified the city council that he had sent letters to several realty companies instructing them to place a competent inspector on sidewalk work in Melrose Heights. Complaint has been made that poor work is being done by the contractors employed by the land companies, and Baccus received the endorsement of the council, this morning in his action taken to protect the property owners.

The letter from Commissioner Baccus is as follows:

January 13, 1912.

Talcott Land Co., care M. T. Minney Co., Syndicate bldg., Oakland, Cal. Gentlemen: There has been considerable complaint to the council that the contractors laying cement sidewalks in Melrose Heights are not complying with the specifications. The city council has taken this matter up and has referred same to me with directions that you be required to place an inspector continuously on the sidewalk work to see that the specifications are strictly complied with.

The walks which have been laid are already showing indications of failure due to poor workmanship or lack of proper materials, and we are taking this up in the interests of the purchasers of your property. Unless the work is constructed so as to last, the city will be compelled within a short time to force the construction of sidewalks under the ordinance governing same and the tearing out of the defective walks. This expense will fall on the innocent purchasers, and in justice to them and the public in general, you are hereby directed to place a competent inspector on the work immediately and keep him there until the work is completed.

Yours truly,

W. J. BACCUS,
Superintendent of Streets.

SOME ONE'S PAPA ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

But Who It Is, Neither Police Nor Dr. Daniel Crosky Know.

"Who is papa? Where does he live? Did he succeed in his fell intent?"

These three questions are troubling Dr. Daniel Crosby of East Seventeenth street and Fruitvale avenues, the police of Oakland and the annexed district, and Deputy Coroner Bert Sargent. Oakland is being carefully searched for the body of "papa" and every effort is being made to find out whether he really hanged himself.

The commotion over the possible demise of father saw its genesis at a late hour last night when the slumbers of Dr. Crosby were rudely disturbed by the shrill ringing of the telephone bell. Half asleep, Dr. Crosby shuffled in slippered feet to the telephone and took down the receiver.

"Hello!" called the physician crossly.

"ZZZZZZZ—This is zzzzzz—Oh, please come quick. Papa has hanged himself," came a feminine voice in accents of dispair and horror over the wire.

"Who did you say you were?" called Dr. Crosby.

There was no answer, for daughter had hung up the telephone to hasten to the front door to await the doctor, or to go and cut down father.

Dr. Crosby tried in vain to find out from what line the message had come to him, and finally in distress of spirit rang up the police and the morgue. The combined efforts of the doctor and the police and coroner's staff have been unavailing in the attempt to find out what's the matter with father. Since the suicide has not been reported, it is presumed that daughter may have been successful in the rescue work, and that he's all right.

GOOD COMRADESHIP AT ANNUAL JINKS

Nile Club's Egyptian Hall Was Scene of Merriment Saturday Night.

Good fellowship prevailed at the annual dinner and jinks given last Saturday evening by the members of the Nile Club in the new Egyptian Hall, Thirteenth street. The affair was exclusive and was considered one of the most enjoyable of the season. Throughout the evening there was a continuous performance, furnished by the talented thesplans of the club.

The dinner was served in the Kafe Kiro under the direction of Charles Heesoman, chief cook, and assistant chef, Dave McLaughlin, who were aided by the following under-cooks: Al Lavenson, George B. M. Gray, Dr. H. B. Mehrman, Pete Lynch, M. Chester Parker.

The waiters were: Ezra Decoto, Ben Heath, Ira Breedlove, Fred Samuels, Claud Barton, Harry Perry, Dr. John McMath, Anson Weeks, J. W. Quinn, Stanley MacLewee, Carl Volker, Howard Robbins, Edward Hughes, Dr. Fred Wilkins, Captain Holloway.

The entertainment closed with a sketch entitled "A Night on the Nile." The chief actors were William Hill, Chief Ptolomey Emigh, Frank Biiger, Dave McLaughlin. The music was supplied by Carl Volker, Frank Figone and Captain Holloway. There was a quintet composed of Messrs. Meiggs, Fritsch, Robbins, Wythe and Robertson.

MARY L. BREWER CASE PUT OVER TO FEB. 5

Mary L. Brewer, accused in the criminal department of the Superior Court of the murder of Mrs. Annie E. Emrick of 8734 East Fourteenth street on September 29, 1911, should have been placed on trial this forenoon before Judge John Ellsworth, but owing to the pendency of the case of Annie Jordan, charged with deadly assault, the matter had to go over until February 5. Mrs. Emrick died from the effects of an illegal operation for which Mrs. Brewer is alleged to be responsible. The latter is at liberty on a bond of $10,000 and Attorney Lin S. Church appears as her counsel.

Assistant District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes appeared in court today for the first time since he was stricken with ptomaine poisoning last Friday. He will prosecute the Brewer case.

UNDER ARREST.

BERKELEY, Jan. 15. — Lemuel D. Campbell, on parole from San Quentin penitentiary for manslaughter, is under arrest charged with breaking his parole by failing to report to the police regularly. He was sentenced in February, 1905, for ten years and released on parole September 1, 1908.

'EASY MONEY' IS LAUGH-GETTER

Dillon and King Walk Home With Mirth at Columbia Theater.

Those who were fortunate enough to secure seats at the matinee yesterday at the Columbia theater, considered themselves lucky. Long before the opening of the box office, the lobby was filled with anxious playgoers desirous of seeing, "Easy Money," Dillon and King's offering for their eight weeks.

This clever little musical playlet was thoroughly enjoyed at yesterday's performance, if general applause counts for anything. The situations are funny, the lines have a punch behind them, and the characters amusing and entirely human. The story concerns the feats of an experienced stock juggler, who decides to throw some gold bricks in the shape of watered stock, into a sleepy, unsuspecting country town. Wall street becomes a mere joke when compared to the main thoroughfare of the town, as the inhabitants fall one by one for the smooth talk from the tongue of the clever stock manipulator.

Ben T. Dillon and Will King are extremely amusing this week, and as usual keep those in front in a happy frame of mind throughout the entire entertainment. Dolly Bunch in the role of a female Sherlock Holmes, gave an interesting and clever portrayal of the character. Charlie Reilly played Bill in the regular Reilly way, which always means a pleasing performance. Miss Beatty comes back strong this week in several Paris creations that become her nicely, and Hazel Gottung in the part of Grace, made a very favorable impression. Frank Bonner and the remaining members of the company contribute their share of the fun, and the chorus in several new songs and dances was pleasing.

Among the musical numbers, there are several that deserve special mention. Charlie Reilly with the chorus gave us, "The Top O' the Morning," in true Irish style and dainty Dolly Bunch sang the song that is no stranger, "I Wonder Who Is Kissing Her Now," in a new way that brought forth rounds of applause. Francis Tallerand and Elsie Yates introduced a song that is comparatively new here, "Kiss Your Ministrel Boy Goodbye." Maude Beatty and Charlie Reilly had in "Red Rose," a duet that proved an immediate hit.

"Easy Money," will be presented for the balance of the week with the regular evening and matinee performances.

GROCERY FIRM TO ERECT BUILDING

Dodge, Sweeney & Co. Starts Work on Fourth Street Warehouse.

The wholesale grocery district on Fourth street, east of Franklin, is about to get a new addition, as Dodge, Sweeney & Co., the wholesale grocery firm now doing business on the southwest corner of Twelfth and Harrison streets, in the Produce Exchange block, has started the erection of a two-story warehouse on the north side of Fourth street, 75 feet west of Webster street, covering a lot 50x100 feet. The firm expects to move from its present location and occupy the new premises within the next 90 days. The land was broken for the new building today.

The latter will be a brick structure with a stone front. Three wholesale grocery firms are already located in the eastern half of the Fourth street block, between Franklin and Webster streets, namely, William Cluff company, the Cudhay company and Frank B. Peterson company. Dodge, Sweeney & Co., will be the fourth wholesale grocery firm doing business in Oakland to locate there, which fixes future of this street as a wholesale warehousing and distributing agency thoroughfare, for which it is specially suited owing to its proximity to rail and water transportation and to the central retail district.

WORK OF MISSIONS TO BE GONE OVER

Congregational Union and the Women's Board to Meet This Week.

The members of the Congregational Home Missionary Union and the Northern California Branch of the Woman's Board of Missions for the Pacific, will gather at the first meeting of the winter season to be held Thursday morning at 10:30 in Plymouth Congregational Church, Moss and Piedmont avenue. Miss L. N. Richards of Saratoga, president of the branch, will preside. The afternoon session will commence at 1:30 o'clock, when interesting addresses will be delivered by missionary workers. The morning hours will be devoted to short talks and the reading of reports. The speakers will be Miss Martha Brokaw, Miss Allen of Bronsa, Turkey, and Rev. Augustine Jones.

The officers of the Northern California branch are: Miss L. N. Richards, Saratoga, Cal., president; Mrs. J. E. Bell, vice-president; Miss Alice M. Flint, home secretary; Mrs. George M. Hinman, foreign and field secretary; Miss Harriet G. Merriam, recording secretary; Mrs. E. V. Krick, treasurer; Mrs. R. C. Young, secretary of literature; Mrs. C. A. Kofoid, secretary of Young People's work; Mrs. E. W. Piper, secretary of the cradle roll; Mrs. S. R. Yarrow, secretary of mission study, and Mrs. H. G. Chappel, secretary of boxes.

GROWS HAIR ON BALD HEADS

Resorcin is one of the latest and most effective germ-killers discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, also a powerful antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs, which rob the hair of its nutriment, and thus creates a clean and healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpine is a well-known agent for restoring the hair to its natural color, where the loss of color has been due to disease. Yet it is not a coloring matter or dye.

The famous Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of Resorcin, Beta Naphthol and Pilocarpine, combined with pure alcohol, because of its cleansing and antiseptic qualities. It makes the scalp healthy, nourishes the hair, revitalizes the roots, supplies hair nourishment and stimulates a new growth.

We want you to try a few bottles of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic on our personal guarantee that the trial will not cost you a penny if it does not give absolute satisfaction. That's proof of our faith in this remedy and it should indisputably demonstrate that we know what we are talking about when we say that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will grow hair on bald heads, except of course where baldness has been of such long duration that the roots of the hair are entirely dead, the follicles closed and grown over, and the scalp is glazed.

Remember, we are basing our statements upon what has already been accomplished by the use of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, and we have the right to assume that what it has done for hundreds of others it will do for you. In any event you cannot lose anything by giving it a trial on our liberal guarantee. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at the Owl Drug Company stores in Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Sacramento, Portland, Seattle, Spokane.

YOUTH READY TO FACE MUSIC IN NEW JERSEY

SAN JOSE, Jan. 15.—Francis Sydoloski, wanted at Paterson, N. J., for defaulting with $1400 from the German-American Trust Company, was taken East today, and an indictment is to be returned in Paterson against the lad. Sydoloski, who is 17 years old, was arrested two weeks ago at Pajaro, suspected of a Sunnyvale burglary to which he confessed in the hope that he would be given shelter for the winter. He had started out from the East to make a name for himself on the stage, after he had spent the $1400, which he stole from the bank while acting as a messenger.

The boy will waive extradition, being anxious to get back home and "face the music."

TEXAS TOMMY DANCERS AT BELL HEAD BILL OF QUALITY

Two of the Texas Tommy dancers who are creating a sensation at the Bell Theater this week.

A Texas Tommy carnival, a contest for honors in which three young couple in evening dress participate is, perhaps, the big applause winner in the new show at the Bell Theater this week. As an index of the hold this much-mooted dance has on the general public, it might be well to add that marvelously increased box office receipts attest the interest of the lay public in this dance which, as Manager Pearl Wilkerson says, who is staging this unique contest this week, had its inception in a San Francisco beach resort, but has wended its way into the most exclusive circles of society.

The new bill also contains the name of Harry Thomson, known from coast to coast as "His Honor the Mayor." This is Thomson's second visit to the coast, which is a recommendation for his act. He is a treat to every lover of good, wholesome humor. If it is fun you are looking for and desire to expel any cares look up Harry Thomson at the Bell this week.

It has been said that dog is man's best friend. This statement has never been disputed. It matters not whether one is fond of pets or not, we all marvel at the intelligence demonstrated by these poor little dumb creatures. Anna Buckley has drawn together a bunch of sagacious little canines who show a marvelous amount of individuality in the various stunts they perform this week. Children all seem to take the keenest interest in animal acts, perhaps because most of them have a pet of some kind at home.

There is about twenty minutes of the most refreshing entertainment in the juvenile offering of Rawson and Clare. Miss Clare is a charming little comedienne who is quite some singer. The offering is a comedietta without a consistent motif, but was written chiefly for the purpose of exploiting the individual talents of each. The act is beautifully staged and costumed.

Many of us have wondered what sort of harmony would emanate from a saxaphone and xylophone in duet work. This question is answered at the Bell this week, where Newell and Niblo offer their novel entertainment of just music. They have been kicking up quite a bit of favorable comment in the Eastern houses by reason of their ability to extract the heart-throb harmony from these well-known and always popular instruments.

Belle Dixon, a young woman of surprising talent and wonderful voice, introduces melodies. Miss Dixon is a graduate of several conservatories, both in this country and abroad and comes to Oakland with recommendations galore, as to her ability and talents. She includes several popular hits in her repertoire.

Mlle. Bartholdi's cockatoos, several dozen or more, continue with their little feats to interest the children and the Bellscope pictures prove particularly interesting.

PRESIDENT RIPLEY IN CARNEGIE PEACE ACT

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 15.—Announcement is made that the wrangle between Mayor E. J. Boeseke and the members of the City Council, which all last week caused rumors of recall elections to remove all of them, has been definitely settled. Thanks for a settlement of the municipal strife are due to E. P. Ripley, president of the Santa Fe Railroad, who makes his winter home here. The trouble was over the appointment of a city engineer, the Council refusing to confirm a man recommended by the Mayor.

Several special meetings of the Council were held in an effort to come to an amicable agreement without avail, and when the situation was at its worst, President Ripley, who has a keen civic pride in Santa Barbara, suggested that he might be able to secure a first-class man from the engineering force of the Santa Fe. The offer was gladly accepted and last night R. B. Ball of San Francisco arrived in the city ready to meet the Council and Mayor. Mr. Ball is highly indorsed by President Ripley and at a special meeting of the Council his name will be presented by Mayor Boeseke for appointment.

MOB VIOLENCE FEARED BY SLAYER OF SNEAD

FORT WORTH, Tex., Jan. 15.—When an effort was made yesterday by attorneys to get bail for J. B. Snead, millionaire Amarillo banker, who yesterday shot and killed Captain A. G. Boyce Sr., Snead protested, declaring he preferred to remain in the Tarrant county jail temporarily. The intense feeling aroused by the murder of the aged rancher has reached the ears of Snead. The guard at the jail has been doubled.

Telegrams have been sent to Canadian and United States cities in an effort to get in touch with A. G. Boyce Jr., who eloped with Snead's wife last November. They were arrested together recently in Winnipeg.

ARBITRATION RAISES PAY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Telegraph operators on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad are to receive an increase in wages as a result of the arbitration between the men and the road before Commissioner of Labor Neil and Judge Knapp. The telegraphers asked for a 20 per cent increase in pay, but this was not allowed. The amount of the increase was not made public, but it is believed to be 10 per cent.

RABBI WISE FLAYS WM. J. BRYAN

Noted Jew Declares Race Has Been Libeled by Former Candidate.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A revision of the third commandment, to make it read, "Thou shalt not take any name in vain," was suggested by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise at the close of an address on Zangwill's epigram, "Nearly every label is a libel," in the free synagogue in Carnegie Hall yesterday.

Dr. Wise said he spoke from the viewpoint of a Jew, as of all men the Jew is most justified in resenting the many labels applied to him with their libelous shadings and implications.

"We hear 'as rich as a Jew,' though no people on earth are so miserably poor as the Jews of Russia and Roumania; 'As unassimilable as a Jew'; doomed and damned to the Ghettos for decades, excluded from the walks of most men, and then called exclusive; 'as usurious as a Jew,' though he was not permitted to live by other means than by lending money, when his religion called all interest usury. I wonder if they know whereof they speak?

"I wish to call your attention to a speech made recently at a Y. M. C. A. breakfast in Nebraksa by a man who, five or six times, has attempted to inflict himself upon the people of this country as their President. A similar speech made at the Waldorf-Astoria might be explained as a natural result of the previous proceedings, but this speech was in the Y. M. C. A.,

W. J. Bryan said the community may be aligned in two groups, those who attend the Christian churches and all others.

IN TWO GROUPS.

"'In the first group,' he said, 'is practically every man who exerts a force in the community, while in the other (you and I) are the worthless, the criminal and the degenerate. The first group is composed of the salt of the country, the State and the community; those in the second are a burden.

"There is a tendency to use the word 'Christian' as interchangeable for all that stands for grace and charity and perfection and nobility. It is an arrogant assumption of a label, and labels are used to save the users from thinking.

"Those people substitute the term for the thing, the epithet for the substance, and are neglectful of the things for which the name of 'Christian' ought to stand. Woe to the man who has reached finality of judgment. He has ceased to think.

"To me Judaism is not a finality. I regard it as something more than a preparation for Christianity, but I believe that some day it will pass; that it will grow; that it will be merged and lost in something still greater."

Rabbi Wise referred also to the abuse of other labels, particularly "Orientals" and "Asiatics," in a contemptuous sense.

"By their use we belittle all that we value most in life," he said.

CLARK COMPLAINS OF ALASKAN LAWS

Governor Tells of Failure to Develop Mining Claims and of Litigation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—There are serious defects in the general mining laws of the United States as applied to Alaska, and these defects are becoming more apparent, according to Governor Clark, who sets forth his views in his annual report to Secretary of the Interior Fisher.

The existence of provisions tending to retard development and to encourage more speculation has been complained of frequently by intelligent and progressive mining men in the United States, he says, and adds:

"In Alaska there still is more ground for complaint, for the owners of mining claims in many cases have no intention of operating their claims. The motive to develop as a condition of ownership is entirely wanting in Alaska."

One of the worst discouragements to mining development under present conditions, he says, "is the frequent and long drawn out litigation over mining claims and water rights which the present system induces."

Commenting on the fact that there was no increase in population in Alaska last year, Clark says that "any considerable increase in the population of the territory must await a more liberal governmental policy as a whole, including a revision of the present land laws and the enactment of new ones; and, furthermore, in some measure a more considerate attitude on the part of the press and the people in the states toward the development of Alaska by highly capitalized interests."

The prime importance of providing a means by which coal mining in Alaska may be made possible under the law is appreciated generally, he says, adding that "the patenting of any number of existing claims would fail to bring complete solution of the fuel problem."

WINS RACE WITH DEATH OVER WEAKENED BRIDGE

REDMOND, Or., Jan. 15.—Realizing as his engine struck the bridge over the Deschutes river, that the high water had carried away some of the supports for one span, and that there was grave danger of the entire Oregon Trunk train, with sixty persons aboard, being plunged into the swollen torrent, Engineer W. B. Dixon opened the throttle wide and raced with death over the remaining spans. As the rear coach was half-way to safety the last span let down, throwing the one car from the track.

The train was then stopped and the passengers hurried out of danger to the end of the bridge. Had the span given away ten seconds sooner, nothing could have prevented a loss of life among the passengers and train crew.

PASTOR'S SONS SEEK BIG GAME IN HILLS

SAN JOSE, Jan. 15.—Forest and Lewis Beacock, aged 14 and 9 years respectively, sons of Rev. William Beacock of Campbell, were returned to their home at Campbell yesterday by Assistant Probation Officer Walther. The boys started out last Tuesday, withdrawing savings accounts amounting to $27 in a San Jose bank, and started for the hills back of Napa to hunt big game.

They were a wild and wooly pair, being armed with an old army pistol and a shotgun. At Nada they begged for a meal at a back door and were directed to the home of the town marshal, who took them into custody and returned them to this city. One of the lads is lame, but they wandered about by the bay cities unapprehended for three days, finally landing in Napa Friday.

HOG GETS DECISION.

MILLBRAE, Jan. 15.—John Silva, one of the foremen of the Mills dairy on the estate of D. O. Mills near this city, had five stitches taken in his left thigh as a result of an encounter with an infuriated hog. Silva entered the pigpen to feed the stock, when he was charged by the hog, knocked down and badly bitten. Dr. N. D. Morrison of San Mateo, answering a hurry call, not only found it necessary to stitch the bitten portions of the thigh, but to treat Silva for severe contusions and abrasions.

NO INDIGESTION OR SICK STOMACH

Gas, Heartburn, Dyspepsia and All Misery in Stomach Vanishes.

Take your sour, out-or-order stomach—or maybe you call it Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas, or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapepsin.

BRITISH TAKE OVER FUEL CORPORATION

Million Dollar Coal Company to Be Controlled by Englishmen.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—British interests which are represented by two Canadians at the St. Francis are expected in a few days to take over the Western Fuel Company, the million-dollar corporation headed by John L. Howard of this city, which controls the coal business of the Pacific coast.

Negotiations for the purchase of the Western Fuel Company have been in progress for more than a week, and the deal, it was said, awaits only the signing of papers on Wednesday to complete the transfer.

The intending purchasers of the fuel company are said to represent a syndicate in which are the Dunsmuirs of Victoria, Sir Donald Mann, the Canadian railroad builder, and the sons of Sir William Mackenzie, partner of Mann.

Their agents here are A. E. Hepburn, a coal baron of Victoria, B. C., and A. R. Bickenstein of Toronto, who is a partner of the eldest son of Sir William Mackenzie. Hepburn and Bickenstein arrived at the St. Francis Hotel from the north ten days ago. They allowed the report to go out that they were here in connection with an oil deal, and immediately proceeded to a conference of several days' length with John L. Howard, president of the Western Fuel Company, and James B. Smith, vice president and organizer of the concern.

There had been previous negotiations, and Hepburn and Bickenstein came here more as experts to inspect the company's property.

Just what price has been agreed on by the parties concerned is a matter they will not make public, but it is believed to be several times larger than the company's million-dollar capitalization.

It was estimated recently that James B. Smith's interest in the Western Fuel Company alone was more than $3,000,000. Associated with Howard and Smith in the company are Balfour, Guthrie & Co., W. H. Talbot, the millionaire lumberman, and several others, who, at the time Smith undertook to control the coal consumed on the coast, advanced him $100,000 each with which to launch his big project.

BIG PASADENA HOTEL DESTROYED BY FIRE

PASADENA, Jan. 15.—The Pasadena Hotel on Fair Oaks avenue, formerly the leading hotel of this city, caught fire at 11:15 last night and the entire building was destroyed.

There were 100 guests in the hotel when the fire was discovered, and it is believed all have escaped, although with the loss of their personal effects.

Attempts to save any part of the hotel have been given up, and the efforts of the fire department are now concentrated on preventing the fire from spreading. The whole building, which occupies an entire block, is in flames, but there is little danger of a disastrous conflagration owing to the lack of wind.

Manager Wilson says all of the guests escaped. They include many wealthy easterners. The loss may reach $250,000.

MERCHANT, POISONED BY LOBSTER, DIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Abe Stern, secretary of the Levi Strauss company, died yesterday morning in his apartments at the Fairmont from ptomaine poisoning after having eaten lobster. He was in perfect health until he partook of the shell fish in the home of a friend last Tuesday evening. Two days later he suffered intense pains and slowly succumbed.

He was born in San Francisco 45 years ago, and was the son of the late David Stern, who was president of the Levi Strauss company and a pioneer merchant of this city. Stern is survived by a widow and one son, John Stern, 11 years old.

Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made. Stern was a prominent member of the Argonaut club and other social organizations here.

EASTERN BREWERS BUY CALIFORNIA HOP LANDS

SALEM, Or., Jan. 15.—A powerful commission of eastern brewers is acquiring hop lands in California and Oregon and is entering the business of raising hops to prevent a repetition of the high prices of 1911. The announcement was made yesterday by Theodore Eder, general superintendent for the E. Clemens Horst company.

Already the company has acquired 1100 acres in California and 200 in Oregon, which will be planted to hops this spring. The work will be largely extended next year. The interests of the Horst company are being taken over by the eastern brewers, as are the interests of other growers. Half a million dollars has been appropriated for this year's operations.

JOY RIDERS REFUSE TO AID BOY VICTIM

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—Coolly ejecting their mangled victim from the automobile into which he had been thrown when his bicycle collided with their machine, a party of four unidentified joy riders placed J. A. Caminati by the roadside, and, disregarding his appeals to be taken to a physician, turned around and dashed away, leaving the boy helpless with a badly broken leg and severe cuts on the head.

The accident occurred about three miles east of El Monte. Caminati was not able to avoid the rush of the oncoming auto, driven at high speed. Glen Broome, who accompanied Caminati, summoned help, and after some hours he was taken to his home. The indignant citizens of El Monte organized a search party for the motorists.

Efficiency of the Parole Law.

A paroled convict was arrested at Berkeley for violating the terms of his parole, and the newspapers generally printed an account of the arrest. Such incidents occur every now and then, and each time the press chronicles the story. An erroneous impression is likely to gain currency in consequence. Men are prone to jump at conclusions without inquiry as to the facts. No doubt the printed accounts of the occasional arrest of a convict who has violated his parole will be taken as proof that the parole law is not working well.

Such is not the fact. The parole law is working well. Hundreds of convicts are at liberty on parole, and all but a very few are behaving themselves properly and attending to their business quietly. Of such the public hears nothing. It is not news to say that a paroled convict is fulfilling the conditions on which he was given his liberty. It is only the occasional one who violates his parole of whom anything is heard. That one is a rare exception, but the publicity given his dereliction is apt to create a wrong impression.

The parole law is working well in this State. It has worked so well that its provisions have twice been broadened in accordance with the recommendations of the prison board. The law is an aid to discipline in the prisons. It is an incentive to industry and good behavior. It promotes good order, and a spirit of hopefulness among the prisoners. It exerts a potent moral influence that every prison official recognizes. The occasional lapses are by no means typical or discouraging. They are mainly chargeable to human weakness, to temptation and the ordinary perversities inherited by mankind.

Every inmate of the penitentiaries is given hope by the parole law. Even the life-termer can win his freedom by industry and good conduct—a restricted liberty, it is true, but still freedom from the pall of life confinement. The second and third-termer has the hope of redemption. The first-termer may shorten his term by half. In short, the parole law lifts the beacon of hope for every prisoner, but it makes the fruition of that hope depend upon obedience, the faithful performance of tasks assigned and a general demeanor of good conduct and respect for authority. The convict seeking a parole is careful not to transgress any rule or to show any disrespect for the officials. The beneficial effect on the whole body of the prisoners is noticeable. The habit of self-imposed restraint is of immense value to the individuals seeking to earn their liberty under the conditions the law prescribes.

No one should be misled by the fact that a paroled convict now and then forfeits his freedom by violating the conditions of his parole. Other men fall into evil ways. The extraordinary thing is that so small a proportion violate the terms of parole. That so few do is cause for gratulation and a complete vindication for the law.

A Washington dispatch says Senators Perkins and Works will recommend Chester H. Rowell of the Fresno Republican for appointment as minister to Brazil. We trust the appointment will be tendered and accepted. There is yellow fever in Brazil.

The Case of Richeson.

It has been rather taken for granted out here that the death sentence imposed on Rev. C. V. T. Richeson would be commuted to life imprisonment, but commutation is not so certain if one is to judge from the comments of the Massachusetts press. The Springfield Republican, for instance, is not hospitable to the plea for clemency. It says:

"Having been sentenced to death, Rev. C. V. T. Richeson will appeal to the Governor for clemency. The Governor and council will have some difficulty in granting it. If Mr. Richeson should escape execution, how could this commonwealth ever again put an offender to death? True, capital punishment is a survival of barbarism, and should be abolished; but here is the wretched Phelps within arm's length of the electric chair. It would be a travesty on justice to put him to death, if the clerical assassin, who had all the advantages of the best schools and the moral influence of the finest New England atmosphere to restrain his vicious propensities, were to escape execution."

This sounds the note of clear common sense. Richeson's cloth makes his offense more atrocious, if that be possible, instead of extenuating it. He was a clergyman and basely betrayed a young woman whose affections he won under promise of marriage, and whom he murdered that he might be free to marry a woman of wealth and social position. His crime was not expatiated by self-mutilation and confession, although loathing has been tempered by pity since he maimed himself and threw himself on the mercy of the justice he had outraged.

But, as the Republican points out, if ever a crime deserved the death penalty it is Richeson's. Its motive was base and venal, and the murder itself was the sequel au amour disgraceful to his calling. He denied his guilt till exposure came and conviction was morally certain. Let it be conceded that he is remorseful and penitent, but if remorse and penitence are to avert the death penalty in this instance, why should they not avert it in all instances?

Occasionally men are executed whose guilt is not absolutely certain and others pay the death penalty despite extenuating circumstances. In this case there is no doubt, no extenuating circumstances. We do not argue that the sentence should not be commuted—we rather hope a commutation will be granted—but merely point out the inconsistency it would involve. Still the quality of mercy is not strained, and justice without mercy would be something terrible beyond comprehension. And it is extremely doubtful if society would in any way be benefited by making Richeson pay the extreme penalty.

Andrew Carnegie appears to know as little about the Sherman law as Colonel Roosevelt knew when he was President. Carnegie did not know whether his company was violating it or not and Colonel Roosevelt was quite certain that the Steel Trust was not violating it; moreover, he did not very much care.

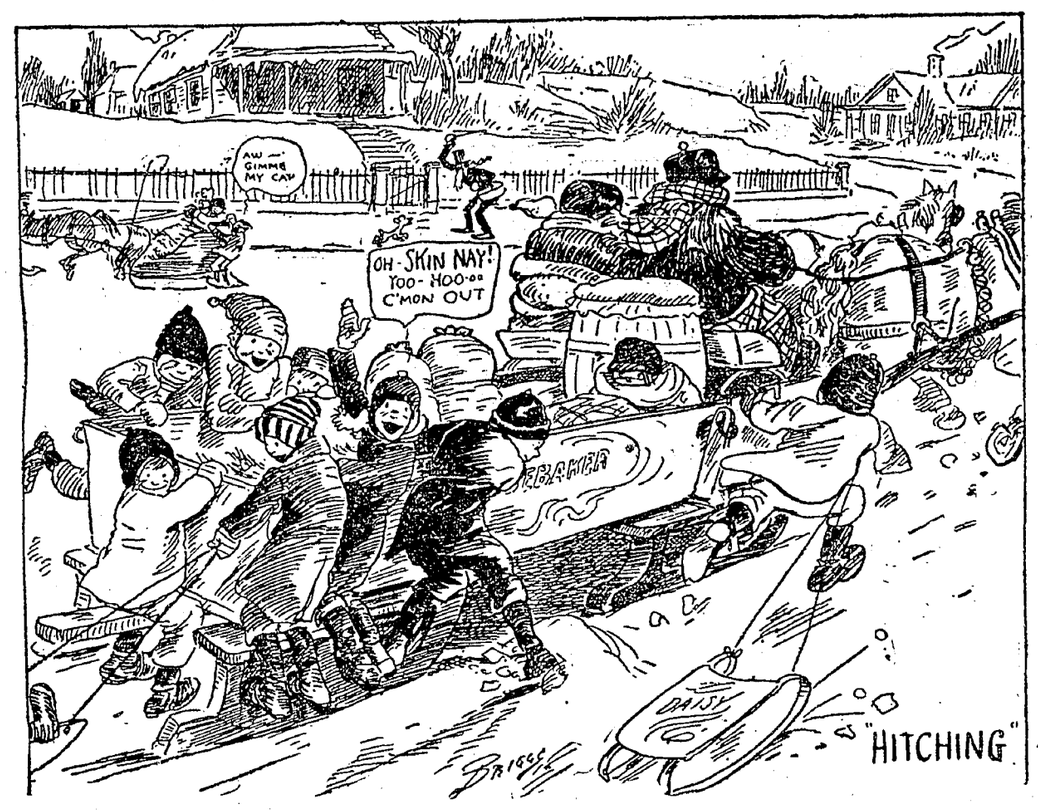
Evil of Compounding Felonies.

A bank employe in Stockton embezzled $15,000, and it was announced in the first dispatches that friends had made good half the amount and would make good the remainder. The inference conveyed was that the thief would not be prosecuted in case the money he stole was paid back to the bank—in other words, that a felony would be compounded if the bank was protected from loss. We note, however, that the young man has been arrested. The presumption is that his friends were unable or unwilling to pay over the balance of the defalcation or that the State Superintendent of Banks took a hand in the matter and insisted that the bank officers should prosecute the offender.

It is too often the case that embezzlers are permitted to escape punishment on condition that they refund their stealings. Every arrangement of that kind is a violation of the law, and every person participating in it is guilty of a felony. Nevertheless it is a common practice to hush up the story of embezzlements by compromise, prosecution being waived if repayment be made.

This method of dealing with embezzlers and defaulters is an encouragement to crime. The knowledge (or belief) that stealing can be squared encourages men to steal. It encourages them to take a chance with the money of their employers. Every time a defaulter is permitted to go free a premium is offered for some other man to follow his example. That is the theory of the law, and it is sustained by the lessons of daily experience. If every bank employe knew for a certainty that he would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law in case he steals, there would be fewer defalcations. The ability to purchase immunity from punishment is an incentive to crime.

IN THE DAYS OF REAL SPORT



—CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

General Francis T. Nicholls, the man who drove the Louisiana lottery out of New Orleans, died on January 6. General Nicholls had led an active and adventurous life, having lost an arm and a foot in the Confederate army, but he lived to be a very old man. When Governor of the Pelican State he made war on the Louisiana lottery and finally expelled it from the country. After serving two terms as Governor he was elected Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court. General Nicholls was a garduate of West Point and served against the Seminoles and on the frontier prior to the Civil War.

A Protest Against Ribaldry.

Phil Francis of the Stockton Mail, Ed Devlin of the Santa Cruz News and Editor Jackson of the Watsonville Register are running Colonel Dunk McPherson, the sweet singer of the San Lorenzo, for United States Senator—or say they are. It is a merry race they are having. A bunch of village gamins trailing up a country dog with a tin can tied to his tail could not be having more fun. The Colonel has entered into the spirit of the game and is running to beat the band and he bids fair to beat it. There will be no band to welcome him when he gets to the Senate. Now we cordially second the motion that Colonel Dunk be elected United States Senator—when everybody else is dead—but we protest against the ribald abuse heaped upon his verse. It is the best ever. It can be eaten for tripe or used for making rag carpets, for whitewash or hog feed. The poet lariat of the Santa Cruz Sentinel turns out a brand of poetry that baffles imitation or comprehension. No greater songsmith ever lived, or sung, or wore whiskers. What more do we want in a Senator? But the Colonel will have to muster up a more respectful and respectable following than the trio of madcap editors who are raising such an exultant halloo at his heels. It is too much like the Hunting of the Snark—and Colonel Dunk McPherson is no snark—no snark ever wrote poetry and wore whiskers; no snark ever hid his head like a whangdoodle hopelessly outclassed in the poetical prize ring. This business has got to stop—not Colonel Dunk's race for the Senate, but the unseemly mirth of the false friends who are making a circus of the grandest bard that ever calloused his hands making poetry with a red rubber stamp and a bottle of Wahoo Bitters.

Governor Johnson has gallantly signed the bill relieving women voters of the legal obligation to give their ages when registering. Thus sex privilege is asserted the very moment that equal rights are conceded. Perhaps the matter is important, but the special exemption claimed and conceded indicates the feminine conception of equal rights.

The Hon. Joe Folk is meeting the success in grinding with the water that has passed that every other man has met who tried the experiment. The favorable notoriety he gained by successfully prosecuting a band of grafters in St. Louis has faded from the popular mind, and now he is trying to play sexton at his own resurrection.

GERMANY "SPY-MAD"

Germany seems to have gone "spy-mad." Recent heavy punishments meted out to two Englishmen convicted of this offense against the imperial laws are the opening moves in what promises to be a drastic campaign to deter Britons from manifesting too great curiosity concerning Teutonic battleships and fortifications.

The German attitude makes it plain that the tense feeling that pervades England with relation to Germany finds a counterpart in the latter land. All the fear and uncertainty and dread is not borne upon one pair of national shoulders.

For many years there has been anything but good feeling between the countries. England has regarded the young German giant as a foe with whom she must clash some day in a battle that will have vital consequences to her own enduring dominance.

Germany, ambitious from a military viewpoint, aggressive commercially and supremely confident of its ability to meet any situation that may be developed on the continent of Europe or elsewhere, has been rather inclined to sport a chip on its shoulder.

The recent clash over Morocco, in which England cast her lot decisively with France, has had the effect of intensifying the mutual dislike between the governments.

So acute has the situation become that the English foreign office virtually has exercised despotic powers in maintaining secrecy concerning its activities.

Germany has been no less aggressive. France has merely served as a reason—not as a deciding factor in the affair. Her importance has been dwarfed by the mightiness of the contending parties who were striking at each other over her head.

The manner in which the government has taken up the apprehension of English "spies" and the drastic punishment meted out to them indicates how severely the strain has told upon the Teutonic temper.

FACT AND FICTION

The Atchison Globe Man, who has some appreciation for works of the imagination, is dolorously skeptical and protests accordingly against late issues of aviation literature, which, according to the plodding son of Atchison, "has the facts beaten to a deep brown frazzle."

No doubt it is exasperating to be baited by the imagination run mad, and to have it done in the line of literature that lays claim to serious excellence. Nevertheless we should be very careful how we throw the blanket of skepticism over the steed of fancy. In this day and age he is a restive, prancing animal, that pays little heed to the bit of fact; and he is liable at any time to land a hoof in the pit of the skeptic's stomach in a fashion that will make him sorry that he spoke.

Dinner in London, and then to Quebec over night, with a late breakfast the next morning in the Canadian city. It will not do to frown too savagely at the prediction. Mr. Graham-White predicts the passage of an airship of heavy tonnage at a sustained speed of better than 200 miles an hour.

Four thousand miles a day. It would take just 60 days to make a trip to the moon at that rate, and that's half the time that it takes to round Cape Horn in a sailing vessel, which was the fastest thing going but a few generations ago. It is no use to get seriously at outs with these improbable predictions. We have only begun to fly and already we are going better than a mile a minute. Just give the aviator a chance, and it may be that before these literary fellows pass, they will wonder that they ever mistook such slow plodding fancy for the real record-breaking article.—Portland Telegram.

GALLANT

A Washington street car was getting under way when two women, rushing from opposite sides of the street to greet each other, met right in the middle of the car track and in front of the car. There the two stopped and began to talk. The car stopped, too; but the women did not appear to realize that it was there. Certain of the passengers, whose heads were immediately thrust out of the windows to ascertain what the trouble was, began to make sarcastic remarks, but the two women heeded them not.

Finally the motorman showed that he had a saving sense of humor. Leaning over the dashboard, he inquired, in the gentlest tones:

"Pardon me, ladies, but shall I get you a couple of chairs?"—Lippincott's.

THE TRUSTFUL AVIATOR

The Rev. R. J. Campbell of England was talking to a Philadelphia reporter about politics.

"Modern politics," he said, "is worse than modern business. You, here in the States, are so used to political corruption that you joke about it.

"I heard a joke about it on the boat. An aviator—the joke ran—descended in a field and said to a rather well-dressed individual:

"'Here, mind my machine a minute, will you?'

"'What?' the well-dressed individual snarled. 'Me mind your machine? Why, I'm a United States Senator!'

"'Well, what of it?' said the aviator. 'I'll trust you?'"—St. Paul Dispatch.

MINDS AND FACES

Mrs. John Martin of New York is an authority on the woman's movement and on political, social and domestic economy for women. She is so important that her conclusion was worth telegraphing to the Post-Dispatch when she finally decided that the "economic independence of woman is not favorable to good looks" and that the business woman cannot compete in charm with the "home woman."

It is physiology that the economic independence of woman is destructive to dimples. At the point where the strain of thought begins, dimples begin to disappear. Dimples are charming to most. To some they are almost maddening. Hence a woman who keeps her dimples and does not think may always be sure of greater power to charm, than one who thinks. As the "magic spell" of beauty belongs to the charm of dimples, science demonstrates beyond question that the "spell" disappears when the mind begins its destructive operations on dimples.

On the other hand, the best mind is certain to show in the face. Mrs. Martin and all others who have thought out things until their dimples have disappeared have still the better part of the physiology of beauty to learn by experiment. If they go on thinking the right thing in the right way, it is strictly scientific that their "ideal of mind" will show in their faces. After losing their dimples in learning to think, women who do not thing wrong, may go on beautifying their faces with intelligence until they are 80 years old and still beautiful. Science is experimental. This is science. Try it.

THROWING STONES

The great mystery of how the suffragettes of England in their lasts "demonstration' managed to break so many windows is at last explained by one of their number now in this country. No two articles of popular faith are more firmly held than that women cannot throw stones and that they cannot hit anything when they do throw them. Writers on physiology have fostered this delusion by explaining why it is anatomically impossible for women to throw anything, in any proper sense of the word as it is commonly understood by the hitherto superior or throwing sex. And young girls have prettily illustrated the alleged difficulty, doubtless as a ruse to impress the throwing male with his wondrous superiority of construction.

But this is a long distance from those broken windows. They are accounted for in this way: When the "demonstration" was approached the suffragettes went to the seashore and practised with the abundant missiles there until they could hit what they aimed at—took a sort of training trip, like that of the Giants in the spring. When they returned to town every stone found a window.

Wondrous are the errors in what is universally believed! In the face of the demonstrated falsehood of the firmly held and scientifically sponsored belief that women cannot throw stones, what becomes of the belief that they are not fitted to govern the world? What demolishes an opinion like a stone that reaches its mark?—New York Tribune.

LO, THE POOR JOLOAN

The fact that General Pershing has decided that the natives of the island of Jolo, in the Southern Philippines, shall be disarmed, has been taken as ground for another attack by the coffee-cooling element among journalists upon the soldiers who are trying to maintain peace in our island possessions.

This attitude clearly indicates ignorance as to the facts, or a candid wish to be unfair.

General Pershing is not at Jolo by his own wish. He was ordered there by the government he serves. He is confronted by conditions, not by theories. He has ample ground for his decision to disarm the Mohammedans who people the Sulu group of islands.

Regularly, since the occupation of those islands by the American troops, the Moros have ambushed small bodies of soldiers and have murdered them. The natives have pretended a perfectly child-like friendship for the soldiers; have accepted gifts from them; have suffered no indignities at their hands; and yet, when the opportunity came they have fallen upon them and killed them.

Moreover, the Moros are murderously inclined toward each other. They have the least respect possible for human life. Preferably, they kill "Christians," who are their hereditary enemies. In the absence of any white men they are adept in finding grounds for killing each other.

General Pershing knows what the conditions are in Jolo; he knows what he is doing. And that, perhaps, is more than can be said for some of his critics who, in their eagerness to decry the administration at Washington, are willing to place the soldiers who go to the front in the meanest light possible.—St. Louis Times.

S. P. BUILDS FIVE ROADS FOR BATTLE WITH HILL

Pacific Great Western to Meet With Powerful Resistance in California

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15. — The Southern Pacific company has at last recognized the efforts of James J. Hill to obtain an entry into California.

Up in Oregon the Pacific Great Western, the probable name of Hill's California transcontinental road, is being projected to connect Eugene with Coos Bay and the Coos Bay territory. Surveyors of this Pacific Great Western are already working in the northern part of California attempting to map out a route for the Hill lines' entry into this city before 1915. And the Southern Pacific company is fighting Hill with Hill's own weapons and the weapons are new railroads.

Five new lines working out of or toward Eugene are being projected by the Southern Pacific or Harriman lines.

These are: The Oregon Eastern, which is building the Southern Pacific's cut off between Eugene and Klamath Falls.

The Oregon Electric, which is building south from Salem and which will connect Eugene with Portland, and which is said to be a Harriman enterprise, because of the fact that many of its stockholders are essentially Harriman men.

The Willamette Pacific, which is the Southern Pacific's line between Eugene and Coos Bay and which is the most direct rival of the Pacific Great Western.

The Oregon Eastern, which will connect with the Oregon Short Line, a distinctly Harriman enterprise, on the eastern border of the State and build through Malheur canyon and across Central Oregon to Eugene.

The Portland, Eugene and Eastern, which is building an electric road from Monroe, and which will provide another line to Portland via Corvallis and the Southern Pacific's so-called west side line.

FIRST LINE COMPLETED.

Figures presented to William Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific company, show that the Oregon Electric will probably be the first line completed. Most of the grading, according to these figures just presented to Sproule, has been done between Salem and Albany, and a portion of the work is under way between Albany and Eugene. It is the opinion of Sproule and other Harriman officials that cars will be running between Portland and Eugene by next fall.

Work on the Klamath Falls cutoff has been under way for more than two years, and will probably be finished before the expiration of 1912. The year of 1911 saw approximately 45 miles of road completed and the present year, according to Southern Pacific officials, will see the remaining 50 miles of road completed. There is little doubt but that Eugene is to be the headquarters for the Southern Pacific's centralized fight against Hill, as the Southern Pacific has recently improved facilities for handling trains at that point and has many plans for new improvements before the expiration of this twelve-month.

When this line is completed, Klamath Falls will be on the main line of the Southern Pacific between Portland and San Francisco, and not until the Hill purchase of terminal facilities at Klamath Falls was a determined fact did the Harriman lines establish this main line point.

CONTRACTS ARE LET.

An illustration of the Southern Pacific's work upon its Coos Bay invasion is found in the fact that contracts were recently let for the building of the first 140 miles of the Oregon Eastern's cross-state line from Vale to Eugene. This will give the Harriman line a direct outlet to the east from the Willamette Valley, and may be used as the main line between Portland and the east. The road is destined to connect the Southern Pacific's new line at or near Crescent, a short distance south of Eugene. And it is not unlikely that a point north of Crescent and nearer Eugene will be selected as the western terminus for this road.

It is calculated by railroad officials that it will take four years to build the line from Vale, the eastern terminus, to the western destination. The Hill road—the Pacific Great Western — is projected to build from Eugene to Coos Bay along the same general route that has been adopted by the Southern Pacific.

The Portland, Eugene and Eastern is without doubt a more pretentious enterprise than is apparent. This concern is building between Monroe and Eugene and is known to be backed by Harriman interests. It is known that the logging road between Corvallis and Monroe recently passed into the hands of the Southern Pacific. The line between Monroe and Eugene will give the Harriman system a through electric road to Portland, inasmuch as present plans contemplate the electrification of all the so-called west side lines between Portland and Corvallis.

TO MEET ON EQUAL TERMS.

This will enable the Southern Pacific to meet the Oregon Electric, its Hill rival, on equal terms for the heavy traffic centering in and about Eugene. And Southern Pacific is prepared to fight it is all conceded to show that the Hill's proposed entry into this state via Oregon, and to fight the Hill lines every inch of the way.

It is known in this city that a visit of Sproule and E. E. Calvin, vice-president of the Southern Pacific, to Oregon, had a good deal to do with orders to rush the recent Harriman improvement in Oregon. And it is also known as soon as Sproule returns from the southern part of the State he and Calvin and Traffic Vice-President McCormick are to make another tour of their Oregon lines.

Their visit will doubtless result in the announcement of a number of new lines projected in such a manner as to compete more vigorously with Hill, according to local railroad officials. The Oregon battle is considered only the preliminary to the real competitive fight that, it is said, is bound to ensue when Hill's official footfall is heard in this State.

WINDOW UNVEILED TO PAPER MAN'S MEMORY

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 15.—A window was unveiled here yesterday at Grace Episcopal Church to the memory of the late Alexander Butts, newspaper man and humanitarian, and at the time of his death associate editor of the Kansas City Star. The service was conducted by Bishop Cameron Mann and Bishop Sidney C. Partridge. The window was provided by a fund contributed to by Butts' friends and admirers.

PSYCHIC WAVE SWEEPS COUNTRY, SAYS ZELLAR

PEORIA, Ill., Jan. 15.—Dr. George A. Zellar, superintendent of the Illinois State hospital at Bartonville, expressed the belief in a lecture here last night that a great psychic wave of conscience and remorse is sweeping the country. He was led to believe this, he said, by the confessions of hundreds of Adams county voters, the McNamara brothers, Henry Clay Beattie, Rev. C. V. T. Richeson and Dr. Harry E. Webster.

TAXICAB STRIKE FAILS; M'ARTHUR ADMITS

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 15.—National Organizer McArthur of the Teamsters' Union admitted last night that the taxicab strike in this city was a failure. He declared, however, that the drivers should remain out until the companies are forced out of business, although they do not expect the companies to meet their demands.

FOUR KILLED IN FIRE.

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—Two women and two children lost their lives early today when a lamp exploded in their bedroom in a tenement block in the west end, setting fire to the block.

ROARING FARCE CREATES MERRIMENT AT ORPHEUM

RUBY RAYMOND and her street urchins, who are among the newcomers at the Orpheum.

That utterly utter farce is holding its own in these days of delicate comedy was demonstrated yesterday when "Won by a Leg" won by a neck in a race for applause at the Orpheum. The sketch is played by Gordon Eldrid and a company of two and depends on Eldrid and an overworked cork limb for its existence. The good taste of the thing may be questioned, its success as a laugh-maker not.

Eldrid is Bert Dasher, who would discover if Kitty, his best beloved, has her eye on his money or cares for him alone. With that as an excuse, supplemented by a desire to return in kind a practical joke the girl has played on him, Dasher trumps up a railroad wreck, the loss of a leg and the substitution of an imitation. With the aid of a chair, bottomless by right of dramatic license, he creates much merriment and consternation, for the audience and the mummers.

If you are not finicky there is much to laugh at in "Won by a Leg," and you probably will, anyway, if you visit the Orpheum. Kitty is played by Grace McHugh and there is an aunt and a colored servant to help the thing along.

CONTRAST IS GREAT.

The contrast between farce and comedy is well brought out by Eldrid's sketch and "Honor Among Thieves." The situations of the former must be forced into existence by dramatist and farceur; those of the Hart tabloid have a natural right to live, they follow one another as a matter of course. "Honor Among Thieves" is better to one's liking the more one sees of it. The lack of acting and stagy tricks, the perfect plausibility of it all and the originality of its scheme are shining examples for dramatist and producers to follow.

Newcomers are the three members of the Esther Trio. To them, also, may be accorded the much sought after wreath of originality. They perform, for the most part, in a position little cultivated by the most of us and which may go as upside-down for lack of something better to call it. The two men folk of the company leap up and down a flight of tables and chairs on their hands, with an ease that ceases to be creditable and becomes a thing to be wondered at.

ADD TO LAURELS.

London's latest contribution to American vaudeville, the Eight Palace Girls, continue adding to their laurels at the Orpheum. There is little new in their dancing steps but much to admire in team work and setting. Simone De Beryl, heralded as a subject for Parisian raving, also claims credit for beauty of person and act—and gets the credit, Alfred.

Ruby Raymond, James Hughes and James Graham offer bits of character work, singing and toe-wagging that when they are good are very, very good and when they are bad are horrid. Mack and Orth in twenty-eight minutes of nonsense and Felix and Caire remain. A motion picture featuring clever Violet Kelley and Conductor Kowalski's splendid musical program are features of this week's bill.

ADA REEVE COMING.

Announcement is made that Ada Reeve, whose illness necessitated postponing her Oakland appearance, will be here next Sunday for a week. Ada Reeve's mother was an actress too, and was looked upon as a first class exponent of "chamber-maid," or as they are called today "soubrette" parts, so it seems probable that much of Ada Reeve's great talent is inherited, although its brilliant perfection is undoubtedly due to her life long training, and her eager striving for that completeness of detail, which is so conspicuous in everything the fascinating little lady undertakes. Ada Reeve made her first stage appearance at the theater in the Yorkshire town of Dewsbury at the early age of six. The company of which her parents were both members was organized by the veteran actor, Fred Wright, who is still acting with Martin Harvey.

MARYLAND DETACHED UNDER SEALED ORDERS

HONOLULU, Jan. 15.—The Maryland was detached from other cruisers of the Pacific fleet here yesterday and sailed from this port at 5:30 p. m. under sealed orders. It is rumored that the Maryland's destination is the Galapagos islands, and that her mission has to do with reported impending disturbances at Ecuador, to which gunboats recently were dispatched by the American government.

WILD HORSES GIVEN TO NEW YORK MUSEUM

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The Museum of Natural History here has received from the Duke of Bedford two specimens of the rare prjewalski, the only surviving species of true wild horse.

They were captured with others in the desert of Mongolia and brought to England by an expedition sent out by the Duke. The skeletons will be mounted as part of the exhibit illustrating the evolution of the horse.

SOCIALIST CHIEF ON GRILL.

SEATTLE, Jan. 15.—The Socialist party voted in convention last night to support Hulet M. Wells, editor of a Socialist paper, for Mayor. It is believed Edwin J. Brown, a dentist, who has run for office on the Socialist ticket several times, will withdraw. Brown was attacked in the meeting as a member of the capitalist class and was charged with using the Socialist party for exploiting himself.

RELAXES HOLD ON PURSE; STOLEN

Elias School Expected Visitation of Pickpockets and was Not Disappointed.

Reports of the operations of pickpockets led Elias School of 3426 Wilson avenue to keep a tight hold on his purse while in a crowd in front of a local theater in San Pablo avenue yesterday afternoon. School relaxed from his watchfulness only for about 30 seconds while he purchased a ticket at the window, but in that time a pickpocket took a purse containing $37 in coin and a check for $34.50. Payment has been stopped on the check.

L. A. Bearce of 608 Taylor avenue, Alameda, also reported to the police that he was robbed by pickpockets in a crowd before the theater. A purse containing $8.50 was taken.

Charles Fenerge of 1104 Thirty-fourth street, Oakland, was also standing in the crowd in front of the same theater when his pocket was picked of a $5 gold piece.

Fred Garcher of 1911 Filbert street reported that his pocket was picked of $25 while on a San Pablo avenue car.

The police believe that all three thefts were committed by the same man, who was operating in the vicinity Saturday night.

Henry Winkleman of 803 Clay street had his pockets picked and $15 taken while boarding a San Pablo avenue car at Fortieth street and San Pablo avenue.

Paul Yelich, 505 Eighteenth street, reported his room entered and two gold nugget pins und a suit of clothing, all valued at $50, stolen.

James C. Dollard, 819 WPashington street, reports jewelry to the value of $45 stolen Saturday night from his room during his absence.

E. L. Arnest, 570 Nineteenth street, reports his apartments entered and jewelry to the value of $10 stolen.

Miss Pearl Brown reports her room at the Gladstone House, Eighth and Washington streets, entered and $25 taken.

Antone Fereria, 808 Webster street, mourns a suit of clothing just received from the tailor and valued at $20 stolen from his room, while M. K. Miller wants the police to locate a set of drawing instruments valued at $20, taken from room 34 in the Bacon block.

M'DONALD TAKES GOVERNOR'S CHAIR

Democrat Inaugurated in the Presence of Great Crowd in Santa Fe.

SANTA FE, N. M., Jan. 15.—W. C. McDonald, Democrat, was inaugurated Governor of New Mexico today. The inaugural party was escorted to the capitol by an imposing military and civic procession, which was witnessed by the largest crowd ever assembled in this city.

The oath was administered by Chief Justice Roberts of the supreme court and addresses were made by retiring territorial Governor Mills and by Governor McDonald.

MANY NEAR DEATH IN NEW HAVEN BLAZE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 15.—A four-story brick building on Grand avenue, owned by Governor Simeon R. Baldwin, was destroyed by fire early today, with a loss of $75,000. The fire started in a restaurant and spread rapidly to the apartments above. Many of the tenements were taken down ladders in an exhausted or unconscious condition.

5-YEAR-OLD GIRL FATALLY BURNED

Angelina Abria Sets Fire to Clothing; Mother Hurt in Rescue.

While playing with matches yesterday afternoon in the yard of her home at 165 Second street, Angelina Abria, 5 years old, set fire to her clothing and was so badly burned that she died at the Receiving Hospital shortly after 6 o'clock, four hours later. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Abria.

The child's mother rushed to her rescue upon hearing the little one's shrieks of agony while the flames were consuming her clothing and searing her flesh, but was unable to extinguish the fire until after it had inflicted fatal burns. The little girl died in terrible agony.

FIRED PISTOL IN LIMITS OF CITY

Antone Cierco Declares He Shot to Call Police to the Scene.

On a charge of shooting within the city limits, Antone Ciecro, proprietor of a billiard hall at 1015 Seventh street, was arraigned before Judge George Samuels this morning. At the same time, Tony Gonvia and Manuel Maguel were arraigned on charges of disturbing the peace preferred by Ciecro. The cases were put over for hearing.

According to Cierco, who has virtually pleaded guilty to the formal charge of shooting within the city limits, the two men refused to leave his place when he ordered them to do so, after they had created a disturbance there. His efforts to remove them being in vain, Ciecro says he finally fired two shots from a revolver, both to frighten them and to call the police.

When Patrolmen Wallman and Doolan arrived, Ciecro placed the two under arrest and was himself taken into custody. All are out on bail.

BIG FIRE IN PIANO BUILDING.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 15.—Damage estimated at $300,000 was wrought by fire originating in the Cable Piano Company's building early yesterday morning.

HOUSE BUILT IN 1648 DESTROYED

Oldest Frame Structure in U. S. Razed in New York State.

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Jan. 15.—The oldest frame house in the United States is being razed by workmen today by order of the authorities. It was built in 1648 by Thomas Sayre, an Englishman, who came to this country in Cromwell's time and was one of the original settlers near Southampton in 1610. The Sayre house is in the center of the village and has long been a point of historic interest. With proper caretaking the old house would have stood for a century yet, but it was allowed to decay and crumble.

All the material in the old building with the exception of the glass, was home made. The timber, boards, shingles, slabs and brick were turned out within a block or two of the house, and even the nails were manufactured by the old village blacksmith. Huge fireplaces were made in the walls.

During the Revolutionary war the house was used by British officers. The property is owned by a direct descendant of Sayre.

ST. LOUIS MAN WEDS WOMAN HE WOUNDED

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 15.—By marrying the prosecuting witness William P. Klauber today halted a charge of assault with intent to kill which was filed against him by his bride's family. Miss Beatrice Whitehead was shot by Klauber December 15, while standing on a porch of her house. Klauber then shot himself, but was not fatally injured. Miss Whitehead's father accompanied Klauber to the city hall to procure the marriage license.

WILL OPPOSE EBERHARDT.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 15.—S. Y. Gordon of Browns Valley, Lieutenant Governor of Minnesota, late today authorized the announcement of his candidacy for Governor in opposition to Governor Eberhardt.

GIN FOR THE KIDNEYS

Gin is one of the oldest known remedies for kidney and bladder troubles, especially when used in the following formula: "Six ounces of good pure gin; half ounce fluid extract Buchu; half ounce Murax compound." Any druggist can supply or mix these ingredients. Shake well each time and take in doses of one to two teaspoonfuls after meals and at bed time.

This is the most effective remedy known for the quick relief of kidney and bladder disorders. Such symptoms as backache frequent or highly colored urine, rheumatic pains in the groin ought to have prompt attention to prevent Bright's disease or diabetes.

OAKLAND'S BOYS AND GIRLS

TWENTY BOYS ARE IN EAST OAKLAND CONTEST

Twenty boys entered the coaster contest in East Oakland last Saturday afternoon as one of the preliminary tryouts to the Wagon and Coaster Contest to be held February 3 in Bushrod Park playground. There were a number of wagons destroyed in the meet but there were no accidents. Elbert Vail, superintendent of the Garfield school playground, acted as judge. He will award diplomas to the following boys, who carried off the honors:

William Curow and James Moore, first race, free-for-all.

Ward Jennings, second race, free-for-all.

James Moore and William Repose, third race, for boys under twelve years of age.

Ray Holmes, William Currow and Ward Jennings, fourth race, against time.

Jacob Burdwater, fifth race, bought coasters.

Ray Holmes and James Hopkins, sixth race, free-for-all, fight for the curve.

James Moore and William Currow, seventh race, gravity.

TACK IN HIS LUNGS; WANTS IT TO STAY

FRESNO, Jan. 15.—Although he spits blood occasionally and has pains in his lungs, Frank Gomez who, several days ago, swallowed a large upholstering tack, has refused to undergo an operation and have the tack removed. Doctors assert that he will be compelled, sooner or later, to have the tack removed. Gomez, while at work, accidentally swallowed the tack. He has returned to work and claims that he will not submit to the surgeon's knife.

MISSING MAN FROZEN.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 15.—Charles H. Reagan was found frozen to death west of this city yesterday. Reagan, who was a retired saloonkeeper, disappeared from his home last Tuesday morning, and since then officers of this and other cities have been searching for him. Reagan had been in ill health, and it is thought that his mind had become affected.

GRAFTING SAVES LIFE OF CHILD

DORIS GEISTLICH.

Doris Geistlich, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Geistlich of East Oakland, is the youngest person upon whom skin has been grafted for the purpose of saving life. About a year ago a kettle of hot water fell upon the arm of the child and scalded it. For many weeks she was compelled to remain in bed. Her physicians recommended that the grafting of skin would prevent the amputation of that limb. Upon the suggestion of the doctor, Mrs. Geistlich volunteered to give many inches of skin from her body for the girl. The patient was treated in Fabiola hospital. While Doris was there her mother, who was also suffering from the removal of the skin, was in one of the wards under the care of a nurse and physician.

Only a scar appears upon Doris' arm. It was considered one of the most successful grafting treatments recorded in the medical world.

PIEDMONT SCHOOL OPENS FOR NEW SEMESTER

With an increased enrollment, the School of Piedmont, which was closed for the Christmas vacation for three weeks, opened this morning at 9 o'clock. During that period a number of improvements were made in the school house and upon the grounds.

According to plans made by the members of the Mothers' Club of the school, many entertainments will be given for the benefit of the school prior to the close of the year. Many playground apparatus have been installed for the pleasure of the youngsters. After school nours the gates of the school yard are open to the pupils, who look upon the playgrounds as one of the most interesting resorts in the city.

HEART---TRIBUNE'S PAGE FOR WOMEN---HOME

MISS CAROLINE HALL of Alameda and Alan Field of Berkeley will plight their troth this evening before 125 friends, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Jennison Hall. The wedding will be a pink and white one and will be both elaborate and beautiful.

In the living room, which will be decked in white, in a bower of white roses and tulle, with trailing vines of smilax, the ceremony will take place at 8:30 this evening.

The bride, who is an attractive and vivacious blonde, will wear a lovely gown of white satin trimmed in lace, over which will fall the filmy tulle wedding veil caught with orange blossoms and attached to a becoming Juliette cap of pearls. Her sister, Miss Jessie Hall, will be the bride's maid of honor and will be gowned in pink crepe metior with an overdress of chiffon, daintily elaborated with pearls. She will carry a gilt basket of pink roses.

Roberta Field Holmes and Wilfred Wiggins, the latter being a cousin of the bride, will be the two ribbon bearers and will carry gilt baskets of pink roses. Charles K. Field is to be his brother's best man. Mrs. Hall, who will give her daughter away, will be gowned in lavender crepe metior.

The wedding is of wide social interest because of the prominence of both families. The Halls have taken an active part in the social life of Alameda and this city.

Young Field is the son of Mrs. Henry R. Field and the late H. K. Field, one of the best known insurance men around the bay. He is a Stanford University man and a member of the Zeta Psi fraternity.

MISS CAROLINE HALL, an Alameda belle, who tonight will wed Alan Field of Berkeley.

NEWS OF TRAVELERS.

Miss Eliza McMullin, with her aunt, Mrs. Jack Hayes, will soon cross the Atlantic for a pleasure trip on the continent. They will travel through Italy and will go to Paris in the spring, where they will join John McMullin.

Others travelers are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cooper of Berkeley, who left last week for an indefinite stay in Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phelps of Piedmont and Miss Alice Graham of this city, and Miss Phoebe Binney are in Cairo.

Dr. and Mrs. George Lyman are among those who will visit Paris late this season and also will sojourn in London, Italy and Vienna.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hillsdon Hutton have sailed for New Zealand and after visiting relatives of the latter they will go to Hawaii for a tour of the islands.

DANCE THIS WEEK.

The Berkeley Assembly will hold its dance on Wednesday the 17, in Masonic hall, and it is being a much anticipated affair. The patronesses include Mrs. William Boericke, Mrs. Charles Butters, Mrs. Edward B. Clapp, Mrs. Clinton Day, Mrs. Henry Glass, Mrs. John Snook, Mrs. Allen McKenzie, Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Mrs. Raymond Wilson, Mrs. S. E. Woodward, Mrs. Charles Gayley, Mrs. A. O. Leuschner, Mrs. Henry Martines, Mrs. Carl Plehn, Mrs. Wilfred Page, Mrs. Frank D. Stringham, Mrs. Sydney V. Smith, Mrs. J. S. Van Loben Sels, Mrs. Harry A. Williams.

RETURNS TO PIEDMONT.

Mrs. John Potter Littlefield, formerly of Piedmont, is visiting at the family home, together with her husband. The couple will remain a few weeks here and will then take apartments across the bay. The many friends of the former Oakland belle are delighted at her return to the bay cities.

AFFAIRS ON WEDNESDAY.

Mrs. Walter Starr's luncheon for her sister-in-law, Mrs. Stanley Moore, will be an event of Wednesday. Mrs. Harry Bishop's bridge party for Mrs. Arthur Greenough will also take place on the same day.

A FREQUENT VISITOR HERE.

Mrs. James Francis Yoes and her husband are established in Vallejo. The young matron before her marriage of the early winter was Miss Inez Titus. She is a sister of Louis Titus, whose Piedmont estate will be one of the beautiful homes of the state. Mrs. Yoes has done some creditable work along literary lines and appeared a number of times in amateur productions before local clubs. Since her marriage she has been a frequent guest in Oakland, coming down from her Vallejo home every week or so.

EARLY SUMMER WEDDING.

Another wedding of much interest will be that of Miss Albertine Detrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edington Detrick Jr., to John Jerome Alexander of Portland, to take place early in April. Definite plans for the wedding have not yet been made by the attractive bride-elect, who is being showered with social favors by her friends on both sides of the Bay. The engagement of Miss Detrick to Alexander was announced during the summer at an elaborate reception given at the Detrick home in Berkeley. Alexander is engaged n business in the northern city, where he and his bride will make their home after an extendd honeymoon trip. Miss Detrick is a cousin of Miss Ernestine McNear and Miss Marian Miller of San Francisco, both of whom made their formal bow to society last winter. Her fiance comes of a prominent Portland family. He formerly attended the University of California and is a member of the Chi Psi fraternity.

TO REVISIT OAKLAND.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Adams of this city will have as their guests in a week or two Mr. and Mrs. Leland Drew Adams, who will arrive from Canada. The wedding of young Adams and Miss Jean Hunter Cameron took place early in October in Tucson, Ariz., and after a honeymoon the couple established their home in Quebec. Mrs. Adams is the daughter of Senator Colin Cameron, brother of Don Cameron, Senator from Pennsylvania, and a graduate from a college in Arizona. Adams is a graduate of the State University and is superintendent of one of the largest mines in Quebec.

SERIES OF COMPLIMENTS.

Miss Dorothy Boericke, who will wed Laurence Metcalf Symmes on the seventh of next month, is being feted by many friends. The Misses Laura and Mildred Baldwin are to give a bridge tea for Miss Boericke on the twenty-third of this month, and the Misses Ruth and Edith Slack will add their quota to the list of complimentary affairs by giving a tea for the bride-elect. Another tea will be given on the 17th, when Mrs. I. R. D. Grubb and Mrs. Mary Hanson will be the hostesses.

RECEIVING CONGRATULATIONS.

The friends of Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Morse of Madison street are congratulating them upon the advent of a small son in the family.

ENJOYABLE AT HOME YESTERDAY.

A pretty informal at home was enjoyed yesterday when a dozen friends of Mrs. Edwin Garthwaite called at her residence to meet Miss Helen Carlisle, the English artist, who has had so much success in her work and who is said to have won many friends through her interesting personality. Sunday afternoon is getting to be popular again for 4 o'clock teas and the custom is a pleasant one.

Mrs. Garthwaite is at home every Sunday to her friends.

HOSTESS OF TODAY.

Mrs. Prentiss Cobb Hale was hostess at a tea today, when she had as guest of honor Miss Marie Louise Tyson.

WEDDINGS.

A wedding of next month that will interest scores of friends will be that of Miss Ann Flint to Dr. J. M. Murphy. The date for the wedding has not yet been decided upon further than that the ceremony will take place in February. Miss Flint is the daughter of Mrs. Caroline Flint and the late E. T. Flint.

Milton Jonas, son of A. Jonas of this city, and Miss Tessie Audrey Netter were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, 1959 Pine street, San Francisco. Rabbi Friedlander of the First Hebrew Congregation here performed the ceremony.

Irving Jonas acted as his brother's best man, while Miss Hilda Netter was maid of honor. A reception followed the ceremony.

VISITING HERE.

Mr. and Mrs. Hassett, who since their marriage of a few months ago have claimed St. Louis for their home, are spending a part of the winter in the cities bordering the bay. Mrs. Hassett will be remembered as Mrs. Gruenhagen, the widow of one of the pioneer business men in San Francisco.

RETURN SOUTH.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Darwin Fuller have returned to Los Angeles after spending the holidays with Mrs. Fuller's brother, Daniel Crotty. They were also entertained by Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Garcia.

ANAESTHETICS ARE MADE SAFE BY HOT WATER

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A method of administering ether and chloroform for surgical operations which is said to have reduced the death risk of anesthesia to nothing and to have eliminated 98 per cent of the cases of nausea which usually racks patients after operation, is to be described in a book soon to be published by Dr. James T. Gwathmey, an anesthetic ist of the skin and cancer at St. Bartholomew's hospitals, and Dr. Charles Baskerville, professor of chemistry at the College of the City of New York.

The method has been used in about 6000 cases without a single death being caused by the anesthetic. The fumes of ether or choloform or a mixture of both are forced through warmed water before the patient breathes them. The warmth of the water presents the anesthetic from irritating the mucus membrane of the lungs and bronchial tubes. The water also absorbs the poisonous aldeloydes.

COLLECTOR MENACED BY MOB AT JUAREZ

EL PASO, Texas, Jan. 15.—A mob of hundreds of excited and angry Mexicans marched from the plaza in Ciudad Juarez at noon yesterday to the Customs House in a demonstration against Collector of Customs Arguelles.

Speeches were made at the Customs House against Arguelles and the size of the mob was swollen quickly by the arrival of additional hundreds.

An attempt to enter the building was frustrated by the employes, armed with rifles, and a hurry call for the police brought officers to the scene, who persuaded the mob to retire. The trouble arose over collection of duty on flour and coal oil bought in El Paso.

MAN KILLED IN FIGHT.

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 15.—Incensed because his wife, from whom he had been separated, received a young caller, W. D. Moore yesterday shot and fatally wounded his father-in-law, J. B. Robinson, at the Robinson home at Arcadia, near here, and was instantly killed by Robinson's son. The son, John L. Robinson, was wounded, but not fatally.

BIRDMEN FLY AT REDDING.

REDDING, Jan. 15.—Before upward of 1000 people Roy Francis and Frank Bryant flew over Redding yesterday afternoon at an altitude of 1500 feet. The birdmen received an ovation on alighting. They will return and fly here in July at a three-day meet.

VICTIMS OF EQUITABLE FIRE ENCASED IN ICE

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The bodies of two more fire victims were discovered yesterday in the ice-covered ruins of the Equitable Life Assurance Society's building. The bodies were those of William Campion and Frank Neider, watchmen for the Mercantile Trust Company.

Campion's body was uncovered after the firemen, in constant danger from toppling debris, had cut through over thirty feet of ice. The body was pressed close against the steel bars, the hand raised as though supplicating help, and was untouched by the flames, having been enveloped in ice before the fire reached the Mercantile vaults.

An expert admitted to the vaults of the Equitable Company, which contain $280,000,000 in securities, pronounced them to be undamaged.

DANGER OF FLOODS PASSES IN OREGON

PORTLAND, Or., Jan. 15.—Reports received here from various places in Oregon where floods were threatened indicate that the danger has passed. The heavy rains in Eastern Oregon, which sent streams out of their banks, have ceased and though the temperature remains mild conditions are much more encouraging.

The mountain streams which feed the Williamette river are said to be falling, while at Albany it has come to a standstill. The river is expected to come to a stand in this city Tuesday at seventeen feet.

TOWED BY SHARK.

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—A mackerel shark weighing several hundred pounds made a lively time for Ed Brown, a fisherman attached to the schooner Patriot. Brown was hauling a trawl on Middle Ground. The shark was tangled in it and when Brown came near enough he harpooned it with a gaff. The fish in its pain started to sea and towed Brown five miles before the shark flopped over, dead from exhaustion. Brown then towed the shark to the schooner.

JOHN KENNY DEAD.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—John J. Kenny, better known as "The Senator from Salmon Alley," "The Mayor of North Beach" and "Little Johnny," a remnant of the palmy days of Chris Buckley, the blind boss, died suddenly yesterday. He was 58 years of age and as far as is known leaves no relatives.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

FIVE WOMEN MEET DEATH IN WRECK OF FAST TRAIN

Servants of Society Folk Are Killed While on Their Way to Church.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—Five women and a man were killed when an express train on the New York division of the Pennsylvania railroad crashed into a light station wagon at a grade crossing in Torresdale, a suburb, yesterday. The dead are: Charles Davidson, Nellie O'Connor, Bridget Malloy, Agnes Garrity, Rose Gallagher and Mary Roddy.

The dead women were servants in fashionable homes in Torresdale and were being conveyed to church when the accident occurred. Davidson was driving for a local liveryman and had been making the trip every Sunday for the last two years. The crossing usually is guarded by a watchman, but the regular man was on leave of absence and his substitute had not appeared when the coach reached the crossing. Davidson waited for the freight train to pass and then drove directly in front of the approaching express.

The horses cleared the track, but the engine struck the wagon squarely on the side.

Davidson and Agnes Garrity, on the front seat, were tossed to the side of the track, but the other women were thrown directly under the wheels of the train.

Agnes Garrity was alive when picked up, but died while being conveyed to Torresdale station.

Woman's Wit Wins

REDWOOD CITY, Jan. 15.—After breaking into the residence of Mrs. George Winters, mother-in-law of Albert Mansfield, a well known attorney of this county, yesterday morning, George Silver, a negro, was captured by deputy Sheriff Michael Moran after being shot in the leg while endeavoring to make his escape.

Mrs. Mansfield was asleep in her room when the negro entered the house through a rear entrance. The woman was awakened by the burglar while he was searching for valuables and she quietly telephoned to the sheriff's office for help.

When Moran arrived Silver was in the bathroom. The deputy attempted to open the door, but the negro had turned the key. Moran then ran around on the outside to the window of the room and found that the man had just left and was making his way through the darkness to the front gate. The deputy sheriff called to him to halt, but the man kept on running.

The deputy then drew his revolver and fired at the retreating figure. The man fell with a bullet in his leg.

He is locked up in the local jail.

No Joy Ride for Her

NEWPORT, R. I., Jan. 15.—Mrs. Burke-Roche, her friends say, "will never be known as the owner of an automobile."

In this she has the instincts of her father, Frank Work, who owned some of the great trotters of his time and never rode in a motor car.

Mrs. Burke-Roche's New York and Newport stables have been lately added to. At the next Newport horse show she is expected to win over some of the higher habitual winners, including the Vanderbilts.

She is now out of mourning and has been giving splendid entertainments. Her twins, Maurice and Francis, are now hunting with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney in Scotland.

Is Girl Dead?

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 15.—Whether Miss Mabel E. Allen of Brooklyn, N. Y., is entitled to a share of the estate of one Johathan Merry, a merchant of Boston, who died in 1828, or whether she is "legally dead," is a problem which, it is said, will be decided by the depositions of Dr. Cyrus Northrop, president emeritus of the University of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Northrop.

Miss Allen's attorney asserts that Dr. and Mrs. Northrop were acquainted with her when a child, and that their depositions will go far toward establishing her identity.

"I know nothing of the Merry fortunes or of Miss Allen's rights," Dr. Northrop said, "but I can swear that a Miss Mabel Allen once lived opposite my house in New Haven."

Calls the Bluff

WASHINGTON, C. H. Ohio, Jan. 15.—Oscar Peddicord of Wilmington, who has been here in connection with the Ohio horse sales, came across a woman in the B & O. station here who was not easily bluffed.

After entering the men's waiting room Peddicord lit a cigar, and after smoking a while spied a woman not far away. Going up to her, the horseman said:

"Lady, if this smoke annoys you, you can step into the ladies' waiting room."

The woman, however, paid not attention to his suggestion. In a short time, going up to her again, Peddicord pulled a cigar from his vest pocket, and offering it to her, said: "Have a smoke?"

"Thanks!" said the woman, and taking the proffered cigar and biting off the end of it, said: "Got a match?"

The match was presented to her, and striking it on the bottom of her shoe, she lit the cigar and smoked away just like a man, to the merriment of the crowd in the depot.

Finds Lost Sister

DUQUOIN, Ill., Jan. 15.—After a separation of fifteen years, David Boyd of Hallidaysboro, south of here, has found his only sister at Oakdale, Cal. They lost trace of each other when adopted from an orphanage in Chicago. The long search ended this week with a letter from the sister, and Boyd left here today to make his home with her.

Queeners, Ahoy!

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 15.—After being shunned by all the coeds and students for years, the picturesque Old Frenchman's lake once more will be the rendezvous of queeners.

This famous old lake, which is connected with the earliest history of the university, has been used in the past as a dumping ground for old papers, cans, etc.

During the absence of the students over vacation the business office has had the lake drained, and all cans and papers removed from its bottom. It is perfectly sanitary now, with a newly constructed drainage ditch and with the renovated overflow pipe.

'Ragging' Barred

SANTA ROSA, Jan. 15.—Santa Rosa society is putting its ban on "ragging," and many prominent women have been outspoken in their opposition. It is not permitted at any of the future dances of the social set here.

The situation has been summed up by one of the social directors here, and it is generally accepted at the commandment to be henceforth followed:

"The dances are not graceful in motion, are not dignified in character, and having originated in places of vile repute, they have not the approval of respectable people. If the beautiful old waltz and the more modern two step et al., have lost their place in society, cut out the dancing and take up politics."

MILLIONAIRE FOR DAY 'HITS TIES' FOR HOME

WILESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 15.—When John J. McDevitt stepped from a sleeping-car at 8 o'clock yesterday morning he pulled his pockets inside out, and they were as empty as the day they were made. The "millionaire for a day" was broke. Upon stepping from the car he slipped $1.50 to the porter and, retaining 3 cents of the $2500 he started out with, he flipped it to a waiting newsboy. Then he headed for the nearset luncheonroom. Seating himself on a stool and using the board for a table, he yelled in audible language "one thousand," which goes here as the signal for a plate of beans. With the beans he received bread and a large cup of black coffee, which an admirer paid for. Today he hit the ties for his home town.

HERO OF FIRE IS BURIED.

MADERA, Jan. 15.—One of the largest funeral processions held in this county followed the body of Jack Kingston, a volunteer fireman, who was electrocuted while fighting a fire on Friday night, to the burial grounds yesterday. Five hundred persons, members of fraternal organizations with which Kingston was affiliated, participated in the ceremonies.

VERE GOLDTHWAITE DIES AFTER ROMANTIC CAREER

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 15.—Death ended a remarkable and romantic career last week when Vere Goldwaite passed away at the home of Dr. J. E. Sanford in Rochester. He was famous in the legal profession and also was well known as the husband of Ellen Beach Yaw, the noted coloratura soprano.

Goldwatie's father, S. V. Goldwaite of Boston, left his young son and wife in the west to go to Boston to complete his medical studies. The little boy was kidnaped by Indians and grew up with them on the western plains. Before his kidnaping his mother died, and when kidnaped he was living with his grandparents, the Armours, who later became identified with the packing interests in Chicago. Years later his father found him, at the age of 21 years. He died Monday, but his death was kept secret until yesterday.

HORSE KILLS FARM HAND.

STOCKTON, Jan. 15.—Harry Keenan, a farm hand employed on Roberts island, was killed when his horse became unmanageable and ran into a post, throwing Keenan to the ground with great force. The horse was instantly killed. Keenan died shortly afterward.

The Effect of Good Manners

(Copyright, 1912, Lillian Russell.)

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

CHARLES W. ELIOT, president of Harvard University, said in the Christmas number of the Century Magazine that "manners affect for good or ill the daily happiness of every human being and the fortune and destiny of every tribe or nation. Their influence on human existence is profound and incessant. Good manners are founded on reason or common sense and good will. They put people at ease in social intercourse, welcome graciously the stranger and friend, dismiss pleasantly the lingering visitor who does not know how to withdraw, express alert sympathy with others, and prompt to helpful co-operation with others. They enable people to dwell together in peace and concord, smooth the rough places and make things pleasant in human intercourse. They are, indeed, a fine art, for their means of expression are generally mere tones, inflections, quick glances, momentary gestures or postures, or other slight gradations of sound or movement, and they need at their best a quick imagination and ready wit."

Dr. Eliot has ascribed to good manners the entire gamut of sympathy, good will and sincerity which we call magnetism, and certainly the woman who has them will always be called beautiful, whether her hair is blonde or brunette, or her eyes gray, black or blue. There is no acquisition of such great worth to a woman.

It is said that it was Mme. Recamier's exquisite manners that made her votaries declare her the most beautiful woman of her time, even after she had passed the half-century mark; and to the brusque manners of Mme. de Stael may be ascribed much of her unpopularity, for she was a brilliant woman and not as ugly as she has been painted.

Mothers should be more particular of their daughters' manners than of any other of their characteristics. I have known people who said that if a person had good manners they would not inquire into his morals. This is carrying the matter a good ways, but every one knows how many scapegraces there are tolerated in society because they are pleasant.

However, when one begins to teach manners it is not surface politeness that will fill the bill, but the honest, sincere kindness which springs from the heart. It's something that every woman should know and every woman practice. Remember, good manners are always in fashion even in the best society.

M. B.—There is nothing that will turn the hair white. You will just have to possess your soul in patience until your "Joseph's coat" turns from "something of shreds and patches" to beautiful cloth of silver.

L. C.—I am awfully sorry, but I cannot recommend any one in this column, although if I were you I would go to the largest shop in my town and ask them for their adavice. I do not think cigar smoke would harm the growth of the hair. Do not wash it too often.

V. R.—If you will practice deep breathing, take plenty of exercise, and abstain from desserts, pastries and greasy foods I think you will find your cheeks will become rosy. I don't understand just what you mean by something that will whiten the face. Do you want a powder that will whiten it temporarily or a cream that will do the work more slowly but more effectually?

L. H.—If you will go to sleep with your mouth tightly closed and practice breathing entirely through the nose you will find that you do not snore. Most people only snore when they lie on their backs, which shows that their mouths are more apt to be open when they lie in this position. The only real cure for snoring is to impress it upon your mind the last thing before you go to sleep that you will keep your mouth shut. By the way, keeping your mouth shut in day time is a good practice, also.

$500,000 REALTY SALES IN COURSE OF 30 DAYS

TRADE AREA OF THE CITY EXPANDS

Property in Vicinity of New City Hall Meets With Ready Sale.

Within Three Years Values There Increase from $500 to $2500 Per Foot.

Growing out of the prospective occupation of the new building on Clay street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, by the H. C. Capwell company, within the next six weeks, March 1 having been announced as the opening day, much activity exists in realty trading in that neighborhood. Within the past thirty days, at least $500,000 worth of realty has changed ownership there.

The latest sale announced is the transfer by George Howell and Dr. George H. Derrick to Lillian Sparks Fuller of a lot 50x100 feet on the north side of Sixteenth street, 50 feet east of Jefferson, for a consideration of approximately $30,000. Another sale in the same neighborhood is practically closed for a similar consideration.

As the result of the sale at the close of last week of the southeast corner of Fifteenth and Jefferson streets, 50x103 feet 9 inches to R. J. Pavert, the 50-feet frontage on Fifteenth street, the buyer is already preparing plans for the erection thereon and on the adjoinng 50 feet on Fifteenth street, which he bought previously from Richard Garnett, a modern five-story business block. This new building will be started without delay. Garnett sold his property to Pavert at a matierial advance before he had actually completed his own purchase, Pavert taking over the title in escrow on January 5.

PROPOSED NEW BUSINESS BLOCK.

The southwest corner of Fifteenth and Jefferson streets, 35 feet fronting on Jefferson and 90 feet on Fifteenth street, is owned by Nat Crossley, who has practically bought the adjoining lot, 35x90, fronting also on Jefferson, from Welles Whitmore, the attorney, for $1000 per front foot, and is closing a deal for the lot 35x90 adjoining the Whitmore lot on the south for $800 per front foot. The latter is the property of Mrs. G. N. Zumwalt. The acquisition of these properties by Mr. Crossley gives him a frontage on the west side of Jefferson street south of Fifteenth of 105 feet with a uniform depth of 90 feet and a corresponding frontage on Fifteenth street, and he contemplates erecting a business block on it and holding it as an investment.

INCREASES IN PROPERTY VALUES.

Three years ago Taft & Pennoyer bought the property now occupied by the firm's magnificent emporium at $500 per front foot. In this brief period adjacent property has advanced to a frontage of $2500. It is foreshadowed that the opening of the H. C. Capwell Company's emporium March 1 will result in the further advancement of realty values there immediately.

LONG LEASE OF LOCKE BUILDING.

It is worthy of mention in this connection that F. B. Maiden of the Leymance Real Estate Company has negotiated a ten-year lease of the John M. Locke building, now in course of construction on the north side of Fourteenth street fifty feet west of the Taft & Pennoyer emporium, to the Golden Gate Cloak & Suit House of San Francisco, at a total rental of $112,800. This rental pays the owner, John M. Locke, a recent Eastern investor in Oakland property, 6 per cent net interest on a ground value of $2000 per front foot.

The Golden Gate Company is the biggest cloak and suit house in San Francisco, and the Oakland establishment will be one of the finest appointed of its kind here.

The Locke building has a basement twelve feet in the clear and will be used by the lessees as a salesroom.

PLANS OF STRUCTURE.

While the plans of the building call for a five-story structure and the foundations, frame and walls have been built to carry the load, the present intention is to carry it two stories in height above the ground floor. The first floor will have a height of fifteen feet in the clear and the mezzanine above it ten feet in the clear. An elevator will be operated to carry customers from the floor of the salesroom to the upper stories.

The building will have an emporium front on Fourteenth street, with a broad arcade, and the whole interior is to be finely finished.

CONSIDER INVESTIGATION OF SO-CALLED TRUSTS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The House committee on rules began consideration today of proposed investigations into the so-called money, shipping and harvester trusts. The committee probably will suggest the appointment of a special committee to conduct a joint investigation of the trio of industrial concerns.

MME. SCHUMANN-HEINK SEEKS DIVORCE

GIVEN CHOICE OF HUSBAND OR CHILDREN

MME. SCHUMANN-HEINK and her eight children. The prima donna is to sue for a divorce.

'No Word ta Say Against Mr. Rapp,' Says Diva, 'but It Is Better That We Part'

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 15.—When Mrs. William Rapp, known to the music-loving world of two continents as Madam Schumann-Heink, files her suit for divorce, as she will do soon, she will have demonstrated in real life the theme of the only comic opera in which she ever appeared in America—"Love's Lottery."

Madam Schumann-Heink and her husband, William Rapp, twelve years her junior, separated some time ago, but neither, until last night, acknowledged there was an estrangement.

The great contralto, in her apartments at the Planters' Hotel, after appearing in two concerts at the Odeon yesterday, where it was noted she was in better voice than on any former appearance in St. Louis, admitted the separation and said the divorce petition would be filed soon, but where she could not say.

COULD ENDURE NO MORE.

The marriage of the singer to a man not a professional and a dozen years younger than she, was not a happy one. With as much feeling and expression as she ever put in any of the songs that have made her famous, she spoke of the mesalliance, and said she had endured it as long as she could, and while she dreaded having the name of Schumann-Heink in the divorce courts, there was no other alternative.

"I have no word to say against Mr. Rapp," said the diva. "He is a gentleman, cultured and refined. But it is best that he should go his way and I go mine. He is in New York, where he has an office; and I—I am on the road, singing.

"There were no ugly quarrels nor any scandal—please say that for both of us. It was just for the best that I have acted as I have.

"It is my children that caused the separation. He could not understand and I should not blame him too harshly for it. He has no children of his own, while I have eight, and some of them are grown.

"When it came to a question whether it should be my children or my husband, to whom I have been married six years, I clung to my children. And what good woman would not? They are my life, and I love them with every breath that I draw.

"It is my children that have been my inspiration in life. It was they who gave me the ambition to achieve what I have achieved. I have given my life for them and I never have regretted it, and I do not regret it now.

"When I was in my native land and, oh, so poor! and the first of my eight children came, I wanted to do all I could for it. And when others came I felt that I ought to do more work for them. It was that they might profit by it that I desired, above all things, to become a great singer, a great artist, that I might give to them the things that had been denied to my own childhood.

CHILDREN HER INSPIRATION.

"And I worked so hard, and I denied myself so many things to achieve my ambition. It was to work for them and to build them a home that I came to your America, that in the thirteen years I have been here I have come to love so well. But what made me come was to win money and a home for them.

"I had succeeded before I became the wife of Mr. Rapp. My estate in New Jorsey is a beautiful place and I am happy when I am there surrounded by my children. Then I have another home in California and I am happy there. And no matter where I am I want my children to know that their mother will always take them to her arms."

SINGAC, N. J., Jan. 15.—William Rapp, husband of Mme. Schumann-Heink, the singer, was not at home today and no verification or denial of the report that the latter was about to sue for divorce was forthcoming at the country estate which the couple have made their home for the last six years.

Mme. Schumann-Heink, who is in St. Louis, was quoted last night as saying that she had separated from her husband and would soon sue for divorce. She was further quoted as saying that it came to a question of choosing between him and her eight children by former marriages.

TROOPS GUARD BIG TEXTILE PLANTS

Police and Strikers Wage War Before Gates of Mills at Lawrence.

Several Operatives Slightly Injured and Number of Arrests Made.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Jan. 15.—Disorders before the gates of the great textile mills of Lawrence became so frequent and so menacing today that two companies of militia were called from the armory to assist the police in controlling the turbulent foreign operatives. The uproar at the mill gates was so great that seven of the big plants were shut down. Several shots into the air were fired by the police and some arrests were made. A dozen or more operatives were injured, but none seriously.

It is estimated that nearly 30,000 hands are idle, half of whom are actually on strike and the others forced out by the stopping of the machinery. The trouble, which began last Friday, when a mob stormed several of the mills and injured employes and property, is due to a general reduction in wages, necessitated, the manufacturers say, by a cut in the working time from fifty-six to fifty-four hours a week, by a new State law governing establishments where women and children are employed. It is believed that practically every mill in Lawrence will be forced to close.

The trouble began today with an attempt by the strikers to rush the doors at the Wood worsted mills and the Prospect woolen mills. The attempts at both places were repulsed by the police, who used their clubs freely and made several arrests.

BOMBARD MILL.

The strikers raided a train of coal cars and bombarded the windows of one mill with chunks of coal, injuring six operatives. The police then charged the mob and fired into the air, but the shots did not scare the strikers and orders were given to turn on the water n the mill hose.

At this time two companies of militia under Captain Randle were ordered to charge bayonets. The bayonets were pressed against the crowd, but the militiamen were careful not to inflict wounds. Two rioters were hurt, but not seriously.

Battery C, light artillery, were ordered out half an hour later. The guns of the battery were unlimbered, whereupon the crowd dispersed.

Vincenzo Lamarest, who, the police say, was one of the most violent in the crowd, was arrested, charged with assault.

BUEHLER GIRL ARRESTED IN NEW YORK

Missing Chicago Heiress Is Discovered at Work as a Domestic.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Violet Buehler, the missing Chicago heiress, was arrested at First avenue and Seventieth street this morning and taken to the police station. She had been working in the neighborhood, the police say, taking care of a sick woman.

Miss Buehler admitted her identity and told the police that she came to New York about a month ago with the idea of seeing the world. She declared that no man had anything to do with her leaving home. After her money began to get low she said she decided to get a position and answered a newspaper advertisement for a nurse.

She was employed by Mrs. Anna Brett. For more than three weeks Miss Buehler, who is said to be an heiress to a considerable estate, has been acting as a nurse for the mother of Mrs. Brett, as well as doing light domestic work.

The first news that the girl had been found came from Chicago, and a detective was sent to locate her. Miss Buehler said she was willing to go back to Chicago and the police in that city were wired for instructions.

POLICE HOLD NO WARRANT.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Just what steps will be taken toward returning Violet Buehler to Chicago has not been decided. The police hold no warrant for her.

As soon as it was learned that the girl had been found several detectives called on the girl's mother, but she was unable to see them.

"I hope to hear directly from Violet some time today," said Mrs. Buehler later.

WARRANT ISSUED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15. — A warrant was issued this morning by Police Judge Deasy for the arrest of Patrick F. Green on a charge of perjury. The complainant is John Ryan of 3196 Sixteenth street, who alleges that Green swore falsely in the Superior Court in the case of Green vs. Green, Ryan and Donahue.

SUPERVISORS POINT TO RECORD OF ECONOMY

Finance Committee Makes Report to the Board of Expenditure of County Funds

As a result of an investigation of the county recorder's offic the Alameda County Taxpayers' Association, through Secretary W. S. Gould, has recommended that a change be made in the office which will do away with long-hand copying. A photographic system is suggested and the board members are requested to make an appointment for witnessing a demonstration of apparatus for that purpose.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE.

The following report was made today by the finance committee of the board, Supervisors F. W. Foss, W. B. Bridge and D. J. Murphy:

The finance committee of your honorable board has deemed it advisable at this time, the close of the first half of this fiscal year, to make a report to this board and to the taxpayers of the county of Alameda of the condition of the finances of the county, which are under the control of this board.

COUNTY GENERAL FUND.

Deducting 10 per cent for contemplated delinquencies, as required by law, it is estimated that the receipts from the tax levy payable into the county general fund will amount to $598,470.36. Of the revenue provided for each year the law provides that not to exceed 70 per cent shall be expended during the first six months of the fiscal year. Notwithstanding this liberal allowance of 70 per cent the board, through the exercise of economy, has expended during that period but 52 per cent of the estimated revenue.

The board, in determining the amount of money necessary to maintain the various branches of the county government, took into consideration the requests of the various departments as well as the cost of maintaining each department last year, which cost was readily obtained from the books kept under the direction of this board.

TABULATED STATEMENT.

The following table shows for each office or department of the county government the estimated cost of maintenance for the year, as appears from the budget, the amount expended during the first half of the fiscal year and the balance to run each office or department during the remainder of the fiscal year:

DROPS APPEAL FROM TERM IN PRISON

H. R. Sinclair Moore, Psychic, Prepares to Enter San Quentin.

No Message of Freedom Comes to Him From Out "Fourth Dimension."

H. Robert Sinclair Moore, psychic, and for a while recognized leader of Spiritualism in Oakland, has decided to drop his appeal and begin his term of imprisonment in San Quentin at once. At the time he was found guilty in the criminal department of the Superior Court last November, and sentenced to serve eight years in state's prison, the medium gave notice of appeal from the judgment to the Appellate Court. On his application for a writ of probable cause he was allowed to remain in the county jail while making up his mind whether or not to prosecute his appeal. It was announced today at the county jail by the prisoner that the pending writ will be dismissed within a day or two, with a view to entering upon his prison term in San Quentin by Thursday or Friday of the current week.

The crime for which Moore must don the stripes of a felon was perpetrated upon Walter E. Bentzen, an electric car motorman, about a year ago. Bentzen, with his wife as his best witness, claimed that Moore, then operating here under the name of Sinclair, swindled him out of $700 at a spiritualistic seance. The robbery, it was claimed, was committed while both Bentzen and his wife were under the control of Moore and being led by him to believe that he would make their money grow into immense proportions through spiritualistic influences, telling them that he would keep the money in "the fourth dimension" while the wealth was accumulating. The money, however, disappeared altogether with Moore, who fled the city and wound up in Boston. There he was arrested for the crime and admitted to bond in the sum of $5000. He jumped his bail and was again apprehended in Kansas City. He was taken back to Boston as a fugitive from justice and there turned over to the Oakland authorities and brought back here for trial.

INVOKED THE DEAD.

When Moore appeared before Judge William S. Wells for sentence he invoked the spirit of his dead mother, which he declared stood at his side, to attest his innocence of the crime. Since then the suave little medium has posed as a martyr at the county jail. He has also displayed the character of a philosopher in his disgrace and declared that should he be compelled to enter San Quentin he would accept his fate with resignation and do all he could to teach the other convicts how to be better men.

The medium said this morning that he would ask for parole at the earliest possible moment, on account of his three little children and their pretty little stepmother, who are facing the world penniless and absolutely dependent upon the charity of Moore's spiritualistic friends, many of whom as wealthy women who still have great faith in him and believ in his innocence.

SAYS HE'S INNOCENT.

"You may say for me," remarked Moore this morning at the county jail to newspaper men, "that despite the showing made at my trial I am innocent of robbing the Bentzens. When I enter San Quentin I hope to be able to do a great deal of good among the other inmates. I am satisfied that there are many other innocent men behind those bars and these men I will try to reach and comfort, at the same time work to bring others to see life in the light of spirituality. I am an ordained minister of the gospel and as such ought to have some influence over convicts who will hear me. If the facilities for teaching in San Quentin are good I will endeavor to teach my companions the great truths of spiritualism. Prison life will not hurt me because I am innocent of wrong-doing."

John A. Wilson, Socialist member of the Berkeley City Council visited Moore last night at the county jail and was with him for nearly an hour. The medium referred to the call this forenoon with gratification.

"I have known Mr. Wilson for a long time," Moore said. "Both he and I are champions of unpopular causes and know the difficulties of bringing the public around to our way of thinking. As a matter of fact I am something of a Socialist myself."

Motor-Driven Fire Engines Beaten to It by Soda Syphon

A blazing rear lamp on an automobile standing in front of the Elks Club in Fourteenth street caused the calling out of Oakland's three new gasolene motor-driven fire fighting engines last night about the time the theaters were opening. While the firemen from one of the trucks were wrestling with the new apparatus to get a fire extinguisher into operation a bartender from a nearby saloon came to their rescue and did the work of putting out the blaze with a seltzer syphon. The heroic act of the bartender was applauded by a merry crowd of about 300, who had gathered at the sound of the alarm to watch the new fire apparatus in operation.

10,000 MANCHUS SLAIN BY CHINESE REVOLUTIONISTS

Reported Massacre in Shen Si District Confirmed; Rebels March on City

PEKING, Jan. 15.—The Kan Su Imperial army, after much fighting, has succeeded in pushing its way to within 60 miles of Sian Fu. The entire province of Shen Si is in a turmoil. Many towns have been looted and deserted.

The reported massacre of 10,000 Manchus by rebels in the Shen Si district is confirmed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—New Year's day was given a belated celebration in Chinatown today in accordance with the decree of the revolutionary government, which adopted the modern calendar too late to allow for festivities on January 1.

While there was a considerable display of decorations and burning of punk, the Chinese are waiting for February 17. Then the passing of the old-style calendar will be marked with the traditional ten days of feasting, visiting gift-making and religious observance, not forgotting the firecrackers. On that date also the merchants will wind up their yearly account, and every Chinese will burn his canceled bills so as to start the new year free of debt.

The February event will be the last celebrated under the old calendar, copies of which already are being bought up as souvenirs in Chinatown.

PUBLIS HOLIDAY.

AMOY, China, Jan. 15.—By special proclamation today was celebrated as a public holiday on the inauguration of Dr. Sun Yat Sen as President of the Chinese republic. Much enthusiasm is being displayed in favor of the new government. Troops are being raised and funds collected in order to prosecute the campaign against the Manchus.

RELIEF AT HONAN.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—A relief expedition which started from Tien Tsin late in November under the command of Captain Sowerby, a member of the League of Frontiersmen, and consisting entirely of Englishmen, has reached the city of Honan, and reports all is well there, according to a dispatch received here today.

The destination of the expedition is Sian Su, and the object is to rescue any foreigners who may be in the vicinity.

ABDICATION DISCUSSED.

PEKING, Jan. 15.—Discussion regarding the abdication of the Emperor continues, but up to this evening had not resulted in any decision. The court is unable to reconcile the conflicting advice of the different factions.

Some Manchu leaders urge that the Emperor abdicate and remain in Peking, while the Chinese contend that abdication would be futile unless the court departs from the capital.

The armistice between the imperial and rebel forces is looked on by military observers as pure fiction. Dr. Wu Ting Fang disclaims all military responsibility, while the imperialist suppression of the disorders is regarded as simply warfare under another name.

Captain Howerby's relif party has brought into the city of Honan 19 English Baptist missionaries and 13 Swedish missionaries from Sian Fu.

YOUTHFUL VICTIM OF TRAIN IS DEAD

Gilbert Bennison Fails to Rally From Injuries Received Week Ago.

Gilbert Bennison, 4-year-old son of Mrs. N. Bennison of 1672 Fifth street, who was struck a week ago by a Southern Pacific electric local at Seventh and Campbell streets, died at the Oakland Central Hospital during the night from the injuries received. The boy had suffered a fracture of the skull and a broken leg.

The case is peculiarly pathetic as the child was the only son of his widowed mother. The little boy was playing in the street with some companions and did not hear the approaching electric train.

Dr. W. H. Irwin was called and had the child removed from the Receiving Hospital to the Oakland Central, where an operation was performed in the hope of saving life. The shock had been too severe, however, and death occurred last night. An inquest will be held at the local morgue. The engineer of the train will be notified to surrender himself pending the findings of the coroner's jury on a technical charge of manslaughter.

BAKER ASPHYXIATED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15. — Fred Marks, a baker, was accidentally asphyxiated at his home, 2533 California street, some time during the night. This morning his body was found by the landlady, Mrs. H. Schroeder. From indications it would seem as if a breeze had blown out the light.

GIPSY SMITH IN OAKLAND CHURCH

Famous Evangelist Heard by Great Crowd in First Congregational.

Before a great audience of bible students, theosophists and local church people, Gipsy Smith, the English Evangelist, who has been delivering a series of addresses in San Francisco, spoke this afternoon in the auditorium of the First Congregational church, Twelfth and Clay streets.

He was introduced by Rev. H. H. Bell, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of San Francisco, who is chairman of the Gipsy Smith general committee of San Francisco.

Since conducting the evangelist meetings across the bay he made many converts to Christianity. He has interested thousands in the movement to evangelize the world.

ASKS $6000 FOR LOSS OF TIPS OF HIS TOES

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15. — Nearly $6000 damages are asked by John Radovich for the loss of the tips of his toes, the result of a severe scalding on November 21 at Mary's Little Lamb Restaurant, 430 Kearney street. On that day a boiler containing hot coffee was spilled on Radovich and he was laid up for 36 days. Among the losses which he puts down as the result of his illness are $1 a day in tips.

ACTION IS URGED ON DRAW BRIDGES

Federal Government Asks the Supervisors to Rush Their Acceptance.

The federal government has asked the Supervisors what disposition they intend to make of the matter effecting the acceptance of the drawbridges over the estuary.

On December 9 last Lieutenant-Colonel Thos. H. Rees of the Rivers and Harbors department notified the Supervisors that the bridges were ready for acceptance.

Members of the board felt that a thorough inspection should be made by the county surveyor before the bridges were taken over, and his report is now pending. In a communication received today from Chief Clerk Chas H. Layne it was stated that unless action was taken soon the government would be obliged to appoint a care-taker.

COLLEGE RE-OPENS FOR THE SPRING SEMESTER

Students Are Registering Today for Term at University of California.

BUT ONE ADDITION TO FACULTY IS ANNOUNCED

Many Changes Are Made in Courses of Study, However; Leaves of Absence.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Jan. 15. — The university reopened for the spring semester this morning, and the administration rooms and campus walks were again thronged with students and faculty members.

Registration is in progress today and will close at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Regular instruction in all classes will begin tomorrow.

The first issue of The Daily Californian, organ of the Associated Students, under the editorship of Morse A. Cartwright, appeared this morning. Cartwright was elected head of the editorial staff at the close of last term.

The only addition to the faculty is Professor Miles S. Sherrill, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who will be acting assistant professor of chemistry for this semester only. He is from the institution with which Professor Gilbert Lewis, chairman-elect of the chemistry department, has been connected. Dr. Lewis will not arrive until next August.

EDUCATORS RETURN.

Three regular members of the faculty who have been absent on leave during the past semester have returned. They are Professor H. R. Hatfield of the department of commerce; A. C. Miller, professor of political economy and commerce under the Flood foundation, and R. O. Moody, assistant professor of anatomy.

Leaves of absence for this term have been granted to Professor Don E. Smith of the department of history and geography, who is to prepare for the publication of a book on historical geography, and Professor C. A. Noble of the department of mathematics, who is making an annual tour of the State in the capacity of assistant examiner of schools.

CHANGE IN COURSES.

Many changes have been made in the courses announced for the spring semester. In some instances new courses are to be given; in other cases they have been dropped, and many changes in hours are announced.

English 111C, middle English, which was given by Associate Professor Hart last semester is to be repeated this term under Dr. Smithson.

Enthology of Europe, Africa and Oceania, listed as Anthropology 103B, will be given during the coming half year as a three hour course.

A study of crime as a social problem, will be given this term.

A new course in the department of education called "Vocational Opportunities for Women," will be given by thirteen lectures in 110 California hall, Thursdays, at 4 p. m.

Lyrle poetry, an entirely new course, listed as Greek 128, will be given by Professor Clapp instead of Greek 124.

An entirely new course in geography, climatology of the Pacific coast states, is to be given by W. G. Reed.

Dr. Meyer will give a new course, semitics 8, entitled "Life and Letters of the Jews of Diaspora." It will include lectures on the literary and historical development of the Jews since the first Christian century, and the significance thereof in universal history.

Owing to the absence on leave of Assistant Professor Don E. Smith, Assistant Professor Paetow will act as secretary of the department of history.

Historical geography will not be given. In its place history 1B, by Professor Stephens, will be repeated.

PARLOR TO GIVE BOXING BOUTS

Fruitvale Native Sons Plan for Entertainment and Installation.

FRUITVALE, Jan. 15. — An entertainment and installation of officers will be held tonight by Fruitvale Parlor, No. 252, N. S. G. W. The musical part of the program will consist of a concert solo by A. Hearn; piano solo by I. L. Gracier and a trombone solo by R. E. Pullen. A feature of the entertainment will be several boxing bouts as follows: Eddie Smith vs. Willie Hickey, Louis Goess vs. W. Pullen, Edward Brant vs. Carl Taft, Eddie Campi vs. Roy Firrero.

The officers to be installed are: R. J. Silver, president; Irwin L. Gracier, first vice-president; Clyde Drennan, second vice-president; Jacob Murray, third vice-president; W. S. Edwards, financial secretary; C. A. Calhoun, treasurer; George S. Borda, recording secretary; J. Boleswerth, marshal; George Hodgekins, inside sentinel; George Helmke, outside sentinel; I. S. Waterman, organist; Charles Elerle, trustee. The entertainment committee consists of the following: R. E. Reeves, T. Rossi, E. Barthold, I. Levy and W. A. Pullen.

ORDINANCE-BREAKING AUTOISTS ARRESTED

ALAMEDA, Jan. 15.—Speed burners and autoists with a penchant for driving on the wrong side of the street, were carefully looked after by the police yesterday, two autoists violating the new traffic ordinance being arrested on Webster street and a motorist being gathered in on Park street. The autoists were A. A. Sawyer of 564 Merrimac street, Oakland, and B. C. Scott of 1204 Bay street, this city. Each gave $3 bail money.

Emil Tretto, a motorcyclist living at 1152 Fifth street, Oakland, was arrested for running his motorcycle on the wrong side of the street. Tretto deposited $3 bail money.

ISHI TO BE SEEN AND HEARD IN ENCINAL CITY

ALAMEDA, Jan. 15. — Copa de Oro Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, have completed all plans for the appearance of Ishi, the California Indian, in Alameda next Saturday afternoon and evening.

The venture is undertaken by the chapter to raise funds for the erection of an Indian memorial in Lincoln Park. Ishi will appear at the Haight school under the direction of Professor Waterman of the University of California. Mrs. L. L. Gillogly, the first president of Copa de Oro chapter, is head of the committee of arrangements having the Ishi entertainments in charge.

RESENTS CRITICISM OF U. C. RUGBYITES

State University Organ Denies Football Showing Is a "Slur on Rugby."

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Jan. 15. — The charge of a San Francisco sporting writer that "California's northern showing is a slur on Rugby," and that the "loss of the trophy is a black eye to the State" brought forth an indignant reply from Editor Morse A. Cartwright in today's issue of the Californian, which expresses Associated Student sentiment.

Criticism was made of the policy of sending anything but a first-class football team on the recent British Columbia trip. Cartwright answers this as follows:

"The personnel of next year's varsity will almost undoubtedly contain the names of some of the men who played on the sidelines during the past season. When the future of the California team depends to a marked degree on the experience of former second team players, it would seem that this was ample excuse for giving these players every opportunity for experience against the strongest of opposing teams.

"Again, the showing of the team in the series just closed was anything but second class. Playing on foreign grounds, the California fifteen held their opponents to low scores, and to a no-score tie in one game. Does this showing 'discredit the game' of Rugby? Most decidedly and emphatically, it does not. We play football, not only for the love of winning, but for the love of the game and for a desire to see clean sport for the sake of the sport. We would also gently remind outsiders that if the Cooper-Keith trophy always remained in the southland, it would soon lose its significance.

"California denies that a 'better than the other fellow' feeling exists at this university. She also reserves her opinion of a writer who wilfully places before the reading public such a false assertion

"On the contrary to feeling a 'humiliation' at losing the cup, we can say that California lost fairly and squarely and that we are proud of the team that so creditably represented the Blue and Gold in the north."

JIU JITSU FOILS DESPERATE THUG

Japanese Overturns Two Highwaymen and Sprints to Safety.

Expertness in the Japanese art of jiu jitsu saved enry Domoto, a diminutive florist of Elmhurst, from being robbed by two husky thugs who attacked him about one o'clock yesterday morning at East Fourteenth street and Seventeenth avenue. Domoto overturned his two assailants with skill and speed, and then departed hotfoot down the street, clutching his savings still intact in his pocket.

The two highwaymen ordered Domoto to throw up his hands when they leaped out upon him from a dark corner, and believing them armed, the little Nipponese florist obeyed. When they came closer to search him, he observed that they were without weapons, and in an instant he put into play the mysterious wrestling art he had learned in the flowery kingdom when a boy.

With a quick grip on the wrist of one of the men, Domoto sent him sprawling in the street, and a low body hold overturned the second on the body of his companion. Then Demoto fled, making good his escape. eH reported the matter to the police, with a descriptive of his assailants and a modest recital of his manner of receiving them.

ARRANGE FIRST SOCIAL EVENT OF COLLEGE TERM

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Jan. 15.—An informal dance, the first social affair of the new term, will be given next Friday evening in Hearst Hall to raise money for boating interests. The proceeds are to be used to repair the former ferryboat Amador, headquarters of the boating department on Oakland estuary, and for the purchase of new equipment. Last January the customary benefit informal dance was under the auspices of the Associated Women Students.

SEARCH INSTITUTED FOR AGED OAKLAND MAN

Search is being made by the police at the instance of the relatives of Steven Saven, 68 years old, residing at 742 Chester street, for the aged man. Saven has been missing for several days. He is feeble minded and his relatives fear he has met with some accident or misfortune.

BERKELEY POLICE JAIL AN EX-CONVICT AND THIEF

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—John M. Griffin was arrested at 1400 Sixth street today by the Berkeley police on a charge of defrauding an inn keeper at Benicia, to which city he will be taken.

James Parrish, arrested by Sergeant of Police Becker today, and charged with vagrancy, proved to be an ex-convict who has served a term for burglary in the Kansas penitentiary.

FRIENDS MOURN THEIR DEATHS.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 15.—Mrs. Sarah Ione Pack was laid at rest this afternoon, the services being conducted by Mrs. Jennie Francis of San Francisco, a Spiritualist leader. Mrs. Peck died Friday night at her home, 1412 Ninth street, after a long illness.

The Rev. Everett W. Couper conducted funeral services yesterday afternoon for Mrs. Carrie H. Smith. The interment was held today, additional brief services being held at the grave. Many friends attended the final rites in honor of the two women, each having a wide circle of warm friends.

USES KNIFE IN QUARREL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Accused of stabbing Manual Morales during a row that started over a political discussion, Joseph Pacheco of 1141 Kearney street was arrested by Patrolman Louis Balletto and charged at the city prison with assault with a deadly weapon. Balletto, attracted by a shout for aid, rushed to the Kearny-street house and caught Pacheco coming out, followed by Morales, who was bleeding from a cut arm.

EAST OAKLAND MAN DEAD.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 15.—Funeral services were held in this city today for John F. R. Dixon, who died at his home in East Oakland Saturday afternoon. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Dixon and three adult children, Walter, Isabella and Wesley Dixon. One of the sons is engaged in the livery business on Encinal avenue, near Broadway, this city. Dixon was a native of Canada and was 76 years of age. The body was cremated.

Date indefinite — Everett J. Brown, judge of Superior Court of Alameda county. Subject: "California Prisons."

TO INTEREST CO-ED IN W. C. T. U. WORK

College Young People's Branch to Be Organized at State University.

BERKELEY, Jan. 15. — Epworth Methodist church (South) was crowded yesterday morning when Mrs. Bessie Lathe Scovell, secretary of the College Young People's branch of the National W. C. T. U., spoke on the work of the temperance union in making the nation "dry." The victory for prohibition in Georgia was vividly recounted by Mrs. Scovell, who is a University of Minnesota graduate. She devoted part of her address to a condemnation of liquor drinking by college professors.

The visitor went to Mills college last evening to take the preliminary step toward organizing a college young people's branch of the national union, and today is at Stanford University for the same purpose. She has already formed such an organization at the University of the Pacific, Santa Clara.

Next Wednesday evening Mrs. Scovell will be in Berkeley again, to speak in the First Christian church. On the following night she will be the guest of college women at a reception in Stiles hall and will start the formation of a college young people's branch at the University of California.

BERKELEY WOMAN DIES AT 75 YEARS

Mrs. Lucretia Redfield Passes Away at Home in College City.

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—Mrs. Lucretia Redfield, mother of Dr. A. M. Carpenter, a well-known physician of this city, died last night at her home, 2525 Hearst avenue, at the age of 75 years. Mrs. Redfield came to California in 1855 from her native state of New Jersey, with her first husband, the late William Carpenter. She was later married to O. F. Redfield, who died many years ago. Mrs. Redfield resided in Smartsville, Cal., until about 15 years ago when she came to BerReley. Other children surviving her besides Dr. A. M. Carpenter, of this city are Dr. W. M. Carpenter of New York City, and Miss Louise M. Carpenter, of this city. The late George A. Carpenter, a journalist, was a son of the dead woman.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock from the family residence.

ISHI REFUSES TO PERFORM UNTIL PAID

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Ishi, the Deer Creek Indian, who was discovered in the wilds a few months ago hunting game with bow and arrow and making fire by rubbing sticks, refused to perform his aboriginal arts before the usual Sunday crowd in the museum, yesterday until shown coin was forthcoming. The "uncontaminated" one has become civilized to the extent of knowng that it takes money to buy good things to eat and pretty things to wear, so he explained through the interpreter.

As the result a collection was taken among the visitors. When the pile of coin looked large enough, Ishi droned some of his native songs and did his usual feats.

GOES TO RIPON.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 15. — Rev. and Mrs. Mulholland left this morning for Ripon, San Joaquin valley. Mrs. Mulholland has been ill and will make an indefinite stay. Rev. Mulholland will return by the end of the week.

WILL MEET AND DISCUSS WHITE PLAGUE REMEDY

DR. GEORGE EVANS.

Various remedies for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis will be presented at a public meeting of the Anti-tuberculosis Society, which will be held tomorrow evening in Chabot hall, Eleventh and Jefferson streets. District Attorney William H. Donahue will act as chairman. Rev. Clifton Macon, rector of Trinity church and president of the society, will deliver the invocation.

Leading physicians of this state will present their views upon the white plague. The speakers will be Dr. Edward von Adelung, who will give his ideas upon "What Tuberculosis Really Is." Dr. George Evans of San Francisco will discuss "The Social Conditions That Favor the Spread of Tuberculosis. Dr. Snow, secretary of the State Board of Health, "The Economic Loss Through the Spread of Tuberculosis and What Can Be Done to Prevent It."

WILL COMPLETE TRACK IN 1914

Athletic Records at State College Expected to Improve After That Date.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Jan. 15. — That the proposed new running track of the university, for which land is to be purchased near California field, will be completed and paid for by November, 1914, and dedicated in April, 1915, in time for the Panama-Pacific exposition, was the announcement made to students assembling for the new term by Graduate Manager Milton T. Farmer today.

"From moneys now in hand and accruing this fall the cost of the land will be met," said Farmer. "This sum will approximate $32,000 and constitutes one-half of the entire cost of the improvement.

"It stirs college spirit and warms the hearts of all interested in the university to know that after so much endeavor it will be possible for a class now in college to see a track team trained under ideal conditions. For years past our teams have been handicapped in their competition with Stanford and other universities by unsatisfactory conditions for training. Our intercollegiate records have suffered in comparison with world and eastern records because of the deficiencies of the present oval. The completion of the new track will mark a new era in track athletics at this university.

"The board of regents, at a meeting on December 22, 1911, ratified the resolution of the buildings and grounds committee endorsing the petition of the Associated Students for the construction of the track on the southeast portion of the campus. Immediately thereafter the Associated Students asserted their option for the purchase of one of the lots which it is necessary to buy in order to complete this tract, and arrangements are pending for the purchase of the remaining three at an early date. Options have already been secured upon them.

"According to the plan which has received the sanction of the executive committee and of the Associated Students, the student body will assume the financial burden of buying the land, removing the present structures, and grading and building the running track."

Hearst hall is one of the buildings which is to be removed.

RECEPTION COMMITTEE IS NAMED FOR BANQUET

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—The annual banquet of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce will take place in Masonic Temple tonight, beginning at 6:30 o'clock. Local progress during the past year will be the theme of several well known speakers.

President B. J. Bither, who is to preside, has appointed the following reception committee:

Charles Green, chairman; A. E. Almind, Noah W. Gray, A. Howard Herrmann, Charles D. Heywood, Maurice Hirshfield, N. O. Morse, Fred A. Mueller, Captain H. R. Oakley, Dr. H. N. Rowell, W. A. Shockley, W. L. Woodward, W. E. Woolsey, Francis Ferrier, C. M. Henderson, A. A. Handle, H. D. Irwin, C. C. Juster, G. B. Ocheltree, Fred W. Foss, Dr. F. H. McNair, H. J. Ledered, Frank C. SHOOTS HIMSELF WHILE DESPONDENT

Young Alameda Business Man Is Dead From Bullett Wound in Temple.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 15. — Rodger A. Raymond a young grocer, is dead at his home, 1560 Santa Clara avenue as the result of a bullet wound, self inflicted. Raymond shot himself late last night at his home. He was alone in his room. His parents, alarmed by the report of the pistol, found him unconscious on the floor, with a 22-caliber Smith & Wessen pistol lying near him.

Raymond was hurried to the Receiving Hospital in the auto ambulance and attended by Dr. J. A. Riley, who found a bullet wound in the right temple.

It was first reported that business reverses caused Raymond to become despondent, but this report is denied by his mother, who says that no reason for the tragedy can be assigned by the family. Raymond lived with his parents and was associated with his father in the grocery business at Morton station. General despondency from unknown causes is assigned as the probable reason for Raymond's act.

Raymond died at noon today.

HUNDREDS MARCH IN GREAT PARADE

Gipsy Smith Heads the Line, Which Is Followed by Platoon of Police.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Chanting the hymns of the Evangelical church 1000 Christian converts, each carrying a bible, marched in the parade yesterday afternoon, which was led by Gipsy Smith, the celebrated evangelist and H. J. McCoy, secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, was the chief marshal. They walked together at the head of the column which was followed by a platoon of mounted police. It was one of the most imposing sights ever witnessed in this city. The cosmopolitan men of San Francisco, exemplified their religious feeling in the famous song, "Onward, Christian Soldier."

Promptly at 2 oclock the marchers gathered in Union Square park and a few minutes later they started upon their pilgrimage through the main thoroughfares of this city, singing a repertoire of sacred selections. Hundreds of spectators, who were walking along the sidewalks joined in the chorus.

The line of march was down Stockton to Market, thence west to Golden Gate avenue, which was followed out to Fillmore street, then north to Sutter and out two blocks to Pavilion rink, Sutter and Pierce streets.

The aids who assisted Chief Marshal McCoy were: John Kinsman, H. M. Strickled, J. S. Wallace, Donald MacKenzie, William H. Cook, John J. Smith, Fred D. Parr, Dr. O. G. Freyernuth, F. A. McCarl, J. W. Hatch, J. C. Astredo, J. H. McCallum, R. M. Sommerville, A. S. Johnson, Hugh Vint, George B. McDougall, Chester A. Beagles, Robert Davies, Dr. W. E. Janke, George A. Kennedy, Dr. D. C. Farnham and George A. Mullen.

Following yesterday's demonstration the night meeting at the Sutter street pavilion was the largest and most enthusiastic in the campaign of the evangelist in this city. People crowded into the great hall early in the evening and by the time Gipsy Smith mounted the platform to speak the 6000 seats had been taken and standing room was at a premium.

Gipsy Smith will conduct meetings on Wednesday and Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Pavilion; a children's hour on Friday at 3:30 and on Monday at 7:30 o'clock, he will give a history of his life.

COUNTY TO PAY 2 PER CENT INTEREST

Rate Fixed in Resolution Is Adopted Today by the Supervisors.

Interest to be paid on county funds on deposit in banks during this year is to be at the rate of 2 per cent, that rate being agreed upon by County Treasurer M. J. Kelly, County Auditor E. F. Garrison and John F. Mullins, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, in a resolution adopted today.

Clarence Crowell, present court commissioner of Alameda county, was reappointed a trustee of the Alameda County Library Board.

In a communication from J. H. Wells, County Clerk of Contra Costa county, it was stated that the Supervisors of that county were agreeable to setting a date for conference regarding a consolidated district, including Alameda county and Santa Clara county for providing an exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

The Supervisors were also notified that the next meeting of the California Highway Commission would be held in Sacramento on January 24 and that they could present their claims at that time.

A committee from the board will point out what consideration Alameda county expects from the commission in the way of a share of the $18,000,000 fund for highways throughout the state.

ALAMEDA ELKS TO SHOW IN OAKLAND

ALAMEDA, Jan. 15. — The Alameda Elks minstrels are to show before the Oakland Elks lodge at the club house on February 14 for the benefit of the Portland convention fund of the Oakland lodge. The performance will be for Elks and their ladies. The Elk entertainers recently played for four nights in Alameda to packed houses, even standing room being at a premium.

'PEEPING TOM' AT WORK IN ALAMEDA

ALAMEDA, Jan. 15.—Mrs. J. H. Bown of 1824 Eighth street, complained to the police last night that a mysterious man, accompanied by a dog, was running about the Eighth street neighborhood late at night and peering in windows. She said that the man had twice been seen looking in the windows of her home about 11 o'clock at night.

BOYS' SOCCER RESULTS.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 15. — The Lincoln Park lightweight soccer team played against the Washington Park lightweight soccer team on the cricket grounds Saturday forenoon. The result was a tie, 2-2.

In the afternoon at 2:30, on the Dow grounds, the McKinley Park heavyweight soccer team was beaten by the Washington Park soccer team. The score was 6-0.

SCORES NEW YEAR'S EVE CELEBRATION

Rev. W. E. Coffman Declares City Threw Away Coin While People Starved.

ALBANY, Jan. 15. — "If the people of San Francisco had sought to do the will of God on New Year's eve they would not have spent a hundred thousand dollars and more for champagne while hundreds if not thousands of men walked the streets out of work, ill clothed and hungry," declared Rev. W. E. Coffman, pastor of Marin Avenue Methodist church, in a sermon on "The Will of God."

"If San Francisco would seek the will of God as earnestly as it sought the world's fair, Pacific street would soon be a name and a memory only; the atmosphere of the city would be congenial rather than stifling to the Christian life, and the city would not be infamous for dances originating there," continued the preacher.

"If the people of Oakland cared as much for the will of God as for the fines collected from the Chinese gamblers the authorities would close up the gambling dens as the county authorities closed up a gambling den in Albany.

"Let the people of Berkeley ask: 'How much of the will of God can we do?' Assuming that the will of God is done when the saloon is excluded, would not more of his will be done if the brewing of beer were prohibited? As it is now, Berkeley makes the beer and her citizens come to Albany or go to Oakland and drink the beer made in the university city whose citizens say 'How much better is our city than its neighbors north and south!'

FAIREST OF SPOTS.

"If the people of Albany knew and did the will of God on earth as it is done in heaven, the city of Albany would become one of the fairest spots on God's footstool and families would flock here from all parts of the country to live in a community so perfectly adapted to the Christian nurture and education of children. Our citizens would meet in their chapels on the Lord's day, and men as well as women would be found teaching in the Sunday schools. Our saloons would not be turning out drunken men and breaking up homes. Unkind gossip would cease. There would be a spirit of cooperation and brotherly kindness. Christ would be loved and honored.

"The greatest business of a man's life is to do the will of God and it is within his power to do this on earth as it is done in heaven. This was the one concern of Jesus' life as it was the chief concern of his apostles. Nothing makes the day so interesting as to ask at its beginning, 'How much of the will of God can I do today?' and then to discover as the day passes how much of his will you are accomplishing. Life becomes more interesting than any novel or than any tale of the olden time. To do all the will of God requires an eternity of obedience. No one can do more than his will. There are no works of supererogation. There is no surplus merit of the saints to be applied to the benefit of other mortals. A man's best is nothing more nor need it be less than the will of God."

PROMINENT CLUBMAN WEDS OAKLAND GIRL

W. C. Jurgens, a well-known clubman, son of Charles Jurgens, a wealthy proprietor of the Winedale company of this city, was married yesterday afternoon, to Miss Gladys Thorpe, daughter of Mrs. Mary Thorpe, of Oakland.

The ceremony took place at the home of Charles Jurgens at 930 Adeline street and was performed by the Rev. R. H. Theiss, pastor of the German Lutheran church of Oakland. It was attended only by Mrs. Thorpe, widowed mother of the bride, and by the immediate relatives of Jurgens.

TO CONFIRM CLASS.

VALLEJO, Jan. 15.—The Church of the Ascension will be the scene of the confirmation of a large class by the Right Rev. W. H. Moreland, D. D., of the diocese of Sacramento, on Sunday, February 4. The class is now undergoing its preparation at the hands of the local pastor, Rev. John Barrett.

ALAMEDA'S REFUSAL TO BE DISCUSSED

Encinal City May Not Be Eliminated From Municipal Water District.

The bearing of the refusal of the Alameda city council to join other cities supplied by the Peoples Water company in the formation of a municipal metropolin water district will be the subject of discussion at the second meeting of the mayoral conference committee, permanently organized a week ago, which is to be held in the offices of Mayor Frank K. Mott, Wednesday afternoon. It is believed that the action of Alameda will not materially affect the plans of the conferees.

It is even possible that the action of the city council of Alameda will not eliminate that city from the proposed district. If ten per cent of the voters in the entire district petition to hold a district election, the election must be called by the county board of supervisors, and a majority vote in the district described organizes the metropolitan district, despite the wishes of any one of the smaller units.

The reason given by the Alameda council for its action was that W. S. Tevis is constructing a distributing plant in the eastern end of the county, and has secured contracts with 60 per cent of the consumers of Alameda for the supply of water and was ready to begin work there. They also claimed to be satisfied with the Tevis promises, as it offered them relief from what Mayor Noy declared were disastrous experiences with the Peoples Water company.

It is expected that Mayor Noy will withdraw from the organization at the next meeting on Wednesday, but the plans will be continued by the others, who include Mayor Mott of Oakland, Mayor J. Stitt Wilson of Berkeley, Mayor Craig of Piedmont, Mayor Christie of Emeryville, Mayor Gill of San Leandro, B. H. Pendleton, W. T. Vietch and George W. Dornin of the Oakland water supply committee and Consulting Engineer J. H. Dockweiler.

CREEDS OF POETS LECTURE SUBJECT

Interesting Series to Be Given by Dr. J. W. Buckham at Berkeley Seminary.

BERKELEY, Jan. 15. — "Creeds of English Poets" will be the subject of a course of lectures, open to the public, which will be given by Professor John Wright Buckham at Pacific Theological seminary, on Atherton (or Ellsworth) street near Allston way. The lectures will be given on Tuesday afternoons at 2 o'clock, beginning tomorrow. The subject will be "The Creed of Shakespeare."

In subsequent lectures, Professor Buckham will deal with the religious teachings of Milton, Wordsworth, Browning and Tennyson.

The lectures will be free and a large attendance is expected.

VICTIM OF AFFINITY CASE DIES OF WOUND

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15. — Frank Pera, a bartender, 27 years old, of 550 Green street, who was shot on the night of December 3, died at the German Hospital, at 8:45 o'clock this morning. His murderer, who was once in the toils, is now at liberty, having jumped his bail. According to the daughter of the accused man, this is the second shooting affray in which Savino Meinardi, the defendant, was concerned. The shooting was the result of a double case of affinity.

VETERAN BOXMEN JUST AS GOOD AS THOSE OF TODAY

Clarkson, Sweeney, Radbourne, Ward and Whitney Had Everything and Knew How to Use the Curves

Arthur F. Long, writing for the Baseball Magazine, has this to say of the veteran pitchers of a decade and more ago:

Looking back over the pitchers' records since baseball became an organized sport for professionals it will be found that only thirty boxmen have hung up the highest percentage of victories if they pitched in more than twenty-five games. It was in 1871 that Dick McBride of the Philadelphia Athletics established a percentage of .750 for twenty-five games, and led the profession.

Since then the leading pitchers have taken part in a greater number of contests, the record in this respect being held by those famous twirlers, Charles Radbourne of the 1884 Providence team and John G. Clarkson of the 1889 Bostons, each of whom pitched 72 games for percentages of .838 and .836, respectively. A. G. Spalding still holds the highest winning percentage, .899, hung up in 1875, when he was a member of the Boston team.

Following the mark set by McBride in 1871 Spalding led all pitchers for the next five years. He was with the Bostons in 1872, 1873, 1874 and 1875, after which he became a member of the Chicagos in 1876. During 1872 Spalding pitched 47 games for a percentage of .830. In 1873 he took party in 60 games for .729. In 1874 his record was 60 games and .717. In 1875 he twirled 63 games with a percentage of .899, and in 1876 he played in 60 games for .783. Thomas Bond supplanted Spalding as the National league's star pitcher in 1877 and 1878. Bond was a member of the Bostons, and he had the noted Charley Snyder behind the bat. His record in 1877 was 49 games and a percentage of .646, while in 1878 it was 59 games and .683.

JOHN WARD A PITCHER.

John M. Ward was the league's crack twirler in 1879. He pitched 65 games for Providence that year and his winning percentage was .702. Providence won the championship and Ward was chiefly responsible for the honor. Larry Corcoran, short in stature, but with a great arm, helped Chicago to win the pennant in 1880 and 1881. His side partner in the box was Fred Goldsmith, and together they made monkeys of the other teams in the league. Corcoran led all the pitchers in those two years with 56 games and .798 in 1880, and 45 games and .667 in 1881. Goldsmith carried off the honors in 1882, when the Chicagoans won the pennant for the third consecutive time, for he pitched 43 games with a percentage of .655.

"Grasshopper" Jim Whitney, a California phenomenon, pitched 62 games for the champion Bostons in 1883, and had a percentage of .838. Whitney was more than six feet tall, as lean as a bean pole, but a powerful man physically. He had terrific speed, and with the "walk up delivery" in vogue in those days, made life miserable for his catchers. Radbourne proved a veritable horse for work in 1884, when he pitched 72 games for a percentage of .838 and practically won the pennant for Providence. The previous year saw Radbourne hang up a record of 37 consecutive games in the box, 28 being victories. Radbourne was one of the first pitchers to use "change of pace." He had perfect control of the ball and mixed up the fast and slow ones in a most perplexing manner. Radbourne has a wonderful co-worker in Charley Sweeney, whose record of 21 strike-outs in a game played against the Bostons in 1883 still remains unequaled.

IS A HARD WORKER.

When Detroit won the National league pitcher with the Chicagos in 1885. He pitched seventy games, winning .745 per cent of them, and showed superb science. Clarkson was another student of strategy. He was not a big man physically, but he had a head filled with brains, and he knew how to pitch. He was wise to the weak points of all the batsmen, and was about the coolest proposition imaginable when under fire. Clarkson, a native of Cambridge, Mass., was delighted when the Chicago club sold his release to Boston in 1889 for $10,000, and he promptly showed his appreciation of the deal by pitching 72 games for a percentage of .736. The Giants nosed the Bostons out of the pennant that year, but it was not the fault of Clarkson, who practically pitched his arm off in a game attempt to keep the Hub team in front.

When Detroit wo nthe National league championship in 1886 the Wolverines' star pitcher was "Lady" Baldwin, a lefthander. Baldwin received this nickname because of his quiet habits, but he was an iron man in the box, and had nerves of steel. He pitched 56 games and won 75 per cent of them in impressive style, the Detroits playing with supreme confidence behind him at all times.

Although the Philadelphias did not capture the pennant in 1887, they had the leading pitcher in Charley Ferguson, who officiated in 35 games for a percentage of .686. Ferguson was not only a fine twirler, but also a splendid general player and batsman, and when he died the baseball sharps said that it would be many years before the game could produce his equal.

Tim Keefe of the Giants was the champion pitcher in 1888. He took part in 50 games with a winning percentage of .745. But he received much assistance from "Smiling Mickey" Welsh, who had a record of 47 games and .577. Keefe was an artist. Like Radbourne and Clarkson, he knew what a good slow ball meant, and he worked it with glittering success; yet he had tremendous speed and perfect control. One of his fast shoots nearly killed John Burdock in Boston that year, which caused Sir Timothy to bridle his speed in a measure the rest of the campaign. Keefe had a star catcher in "Buck" Ewing, considered by many veteran critics the best backstop that ever donned a mask. They worked together like clockwork and science was never lacking.

Tom Lovett of the Brooklyns led the pitchers in 1890, the Brotherhood year, when the National league was a wreck. This did not mean that Lovett was not a first-class boxman, however, for he had a percentage of .738 for 42 games.

Bill Hutchinson of the Chicagos carried off the honors in 1891 with 63 games and .696, but Anson's team did not win the championship.

The Bostons had a gigantic pitcher, physically, in Jack Stivetts, who worked in 47 games in 1892 and had a percentage of .702. "Kid" Nichols, however, pitched 51 games for Boston that year, but his percentage was only .686. Still, all things considered, Nichols was probably the better man, as he was steadier and possessed more headwork.

Frank Killen, a left-hander, was the league's leader in 1893. He was a member of the Pittsburg team, and pitched 44 games for a percentage of .772.

RUSIE AND MEEKIN.

When the Giants finished second in 1894 and then won the temple cup from the champion Baltimores in the post-season series, Jouett Meekin and Amos Rusie electrified New York fans by their wonderful pitching. Meekin led with a percentage of .790 for 47 games, but Rusie was not far behind him. Rusie, for that matter, was generally regarded at that time as the best pitcher in the country, and he led the league in 1897 with a percentage of .784 for 37 games.

Hoffer of the Baltimores topped the pitchers in 1895 and 1896. In the former season he pitched 37 games for .784, and in the latter he took part in 35 games for .823.

Lewis of the Bostons led in 1898 with 34 games and .757, and Jimmy Hughes, a Californian, dug up by Ned Hanlon, helped the Brooklyns to win the pennant in 1899, with a record of 34 games and a percentage of .823.

It was in the following year that "Iron Man" McGinnity attracted much attention by pitching 41 games for .769 for the Brooklyns, who won the pennant again.

The Happy Jack Chesbro led the league in 1901 and 1902 while a member of the Pittsburgs, his records being 30 games and .700 and 33 games and .818 respectively. Later, when a member of the Highlanders, Chesbro hung up a record of 14 consecutive victories, which was equaled by Reulbach of the Chicago Cubs last year.

Clarke Griffith, with the Chicago White Sox in 1901, led the American league twirlers with 31 games and a percentage of .774.

Sam Leever of the Pittsburgs was the National league's star pitcher in 1903 with 36 games and a percentage of .781. Leever was with the Pirates last year, but his days appeared to be nearly over.

McGinnity pitched 51 games for the Giants in 1904 and won .814 per cent. of them. Mathewson, in the same year, worked in 48 games for .733, and the Giants won the pennant with 106 victories, 47 defeats and .693 per cent.

Leever of Pittsburg led in 1905 with 33 games and .800.

The Chicago Cubs won three pennants in succession after that, and Reulbach carried off top honors each year, with 33 games and .826, 27 games and .810, and 31 games and .774.

COAST LEAGUE MAGNATES END SESSION; RETURN HOME

Adopt New Style Ball, a Schedule and President Baum Appoints Wheeler Sixth Umpire of Organization

After one of those baseball meetings in which everybody knows what's coming off the magnates of the Pacific Coast League wound up their business at Los Angeles Saturday evening and yesterday the around-the-bay fellows hiked for home. That is, President Baum, Frank Ish and J. Cal Ewing came back on the choo-choo cars and Ed Walter of the Oaks took to the water route.

Outside of adopting a schedule, appointing another ump and selecting a new brand of ball, the Pacific Coast League fellows did not do much except auto about the Lemonville town and indulge in a beefsteak dinner. It was a very pleasant meeting and everybody came back well satisfied with the way things had gone.

As for the new pellet, it's to be a Goldsmith, made in Cincinnati. The ball isn't one of the cork-center affairs that we heard so much about last year, but just an ordinary every day sort of pellet five ounces in weight and nine inches in circumference, with a wee piece of rubber in the center bound round with yarn.

GEO. WHEELER GETS JOB.

While in the southland President Baum completed the list of men that will do the arbitrating in the Coast League for the season of 1912, or at least he gave out the list of those that are billed to start. Whether they finish remains to be seen.

With Finney signed up and likewise Hildebrand and McGreevey to hear from, Sam Mertes got his appointment a week ago and Pearl Casey gathered his a day or so ago. This left one more to pick and Baum sent in the name of George Wheeler, veteran all round ball player of the Coast League. George has been a diamond star for many many years and knows every rule, so he ought to make good. Being a nice fellow personally and always a credit to the game THE TRIBUNE wishes him success in his new job. This also for the rest of the boys, for they seem to be nice fellows too.

ORIGINALS OUTPLAY YOSEMITE TEAM AT FOOTBALL

Oakland's Crack Eleven Has Easy Time Winning From Lighter Opponents.

The Yosemite American football team of San Francisco, was put out of the running for the championship of the State at the Grove street park yesterday afternoon by the crack Originals of Oakland by the lopsided score of 16 to 0.

In every branch of the pastime the Originals outclassed their opponents. Their heavy line work opened up many holes in the Yosemite's lines, and bucks often netted substantial gains.

O. C. S. L. BASKETBALL TOURNEY OPENS SUCCESSFULLY

The Oakland branch of the Catholic Schools Athletic league basketball tourney opened yesterday afternoon at St. Mary's gym with three games.

St. Joseph's academy of Berkeley won two of the games, taking the lightweight and unlimited class events while the St. Joseph team of West Oakland defeated the Sacred Heart five.

The following scores were made: St. Joseph academy of Berkeley, 110 pound team, 31, East Oakland team 6. Unlimited weight team 25, St. Anthony 11. St. Joseph academy 16, Sacred Heart 7.

The unlimited teams were:

St. Joseph's—Hennessy, Lydon, forward; Torres, center; Allen, Rocha, guards.

St. Anthony's—Cunningham, Harding, forward; Righton, center; Kurtz, Perkins, guards.

Referee—Dillon.

The lightweight fives were:

St. Joseph's academy — D'Arcey, K. Este, forward; Bissinger, center; Cochrane, L. Este, guard.

St. Anthony's—Kennedy, Harrel, forward; Toole, center; Cosgrove, Byrne, guards.

Referee—Dennis.

St. Joseph's institute—Treacey, Rescoci, forward; Healey, center; O'Brien, Smith, guards.

Sacred Heart—Harrison, Nolan, forwards; Braun, center; Mitchell, Constantine, guards.

Referee—Dennis.

OAKLANDERS JAILED FOR AUTO SPEEDING

SAN JOSE, Jan. 15.—Using his new racing car, Emil Agraz, county traffic officer, captured five offenders on the county roads yesterday. G. C. Reis of 3251 College avenue, Berkeley; E. T. Stimson of Fresno; F. Burke of 1065 Franklin street, Oakland, and F. Kelley and E. Wilson, both of Oakland, will appear before Justice F. B. Brown in this city to plead to speeding charges.

Kelley and Wilson were riding motorcycles. Reis had a friend and two women in the machine.

Fine weather brought the autoists out in force yesterday, and the San Jose-Oakland road, where the speeders were taken, was as smooth and hard as an asphalt track.

Agraz has lately taken to driving a little racing car that offenders have rightly dubbed the "Gray Streak," and speeders who have been opening their machines up to the limit because the familiar yellow motorcycle was not in sight have come to grief.

FIRE AT JEFFERSON BARRACKS.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 15.—Although 500 soldiers led by Colonel L. P. Wood fought flames for two hours early yesterday, fire destroyed a double residence at Jefferson Barracks. The loss was $9000.

JOHNSON SAYS JIM FLYNN MUST NOT BOX PALZER

Colored Scrapper Afraid Fireman Might Get Licked and Spoil Big Hippodrome.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15. — Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight, declared last night that unless he is consulted regarding the Jim Flynn-Al Palzer fight in New York, there will be no fight between himself and Flynn next July for the heavyweight title.

Johnson says that he has a verbal agreement with Flynn's manager that neither fighter shall engage in a boxing match without the consent of the other.

The champion fears, he says, that Palzer may defeat Flynn and this would injure his match with the latter or result in it being called off.

SKILL SHOWN WITH BATS BY GANLEY AND WILLIAMS

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—Charles William of England, world's champion racquet player, and William Ganley of the Tennis and Racquet Club were victors over Jack Soular of Philadelphia, professional, and Fitz. Clockler of the Tennis and Racquet Club in a match game of racquets at the Boston Club yesterday.

The match by games resulted 15—10, 13—15, 7—15, 15—11, 5—15, 18—13 and 15—6.

VARSITY BALL TEAM WILL OPEN SEASON ON JANUARY 27

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Jan. 15.—College baseball season will open for the spring term one week from next Saturday, with a game on the local field with Heitmuller's Independents.

Arrangements have been made by Manager Farmer for thirteen games, between January 27 and April 13. Three will be against Stanford. A Washington's birthday game will be played with the college All Stars.

In addition to the schedule arranged negotiations are pending with the University of Oregon, Barney Frankels, Ireland's Indepependents and Oakland team of the Pacific Coast League.

The following schedule was announced today by Manager Farmer:

January 27—Heitmuller's Independents.
February 3—College All-Stars.
February 10.—Santa Clara College at Santa Clara.
February 17—Heitmuller's Independents.
February 22—College All-Stars.
February 24—St. Mary's College.
March 2—Santa Clara.
March 9—Heitmuller's Independents.
March 16—St. Mary's College.
March 23—University of Southern California.
March 30—Stanford University.
April 6—Stanford University.
April 13—Stanford University in event game necessary.

BIG GREEK WRESTLER UNDERTAKES HARD TASK

William Demetral, a big husky Greek from the Northwest, with a scrapbook full of press notices, will undertake to throw four men on Thursday evening over the bay in 75 minutes.

Little or not interest is being taken in the match among sport loving people, for this game does not appeal to them. There are too many opportunities to bunk the people, the recent Peter Buzukoe-George McLeod match at Piedmont rink being but one example.

SMITHSON IS SURE TO MAKE AMERICAN TEAM

Forrest Smithson, the worlds' champion hurdler who successfully competed at the Olympic games Friday evening, over the bay, left for his home in Los Angeles last night.

He will continue to compete in the various try-outs for a berth on the American team that will go to Stockholm in June and is confident of being one of those selected to go.

TWO INFIELDERS AND BACKSTOP ARE WANTED

A fast baseball nine is organizing for the summer and desires the services of a good catcher and a couple of infielders. Fair tryout guaranteed. For further particulars address E. Streib, No. 1548 Tyler st., South Berkeley, Calif.

HUGH M'INTOSH SEEKS TO REGULATE SCALE OF RING MEN

Difference in Weights of Various Classes Should Be Fixed Up.

The weight question has been taken up once more by Hugh D. McIntosh, the Australian promoter, who intends to try and get some action regarding it. Writing from Sydney Mr. McIntosh gives his version as follows:

About the most serious question and one of the utmost importance to the boxing world today is that which has reference to weights. There is no definite scale of weights existing throughout the world, while in England the weights vary to a considerable degree, a fact which is not conducive to the full satisfaction of those concerned in the sport of boxing, or so far as championship contests are concerned.

For the purpose of setting out more lucidly my contentions in regard to this question, I should first of all like to draw your attention to the various weights as follows:

English — Bantamweight and under, 118 pounds; featherweight and under, 126 pounds; lightweight and under, 135 pounds; welterweight and under, 147 pounds; middleweight and under, 160 pounds; light heavyweight and under, 168 pounds; heavyweight, over 168 pounds.

American — Bantamweight and under, 116 pounds; featherweight and under, 122 pounds; lightweight and under, 133 pounds; welterweight and under, 142 pounds; middleweight and under, 158 pounds; light heavyweight and under, 175 pounds; heavyweight, over 175 pounds.

Australian—Featherweight, 126 pounds; lightweight, 140 pounds; welterweight, 146 pounds; middleweight, 158 pounds; light heavyweight, 175 pounds; heavyweight, over 175 pounds.

From the foregoing it will at once be noticed that this disparity in weight scales is trying and misleading to lighter boxers, said Hugh McIntosh, or any other champion lightweight. They cannot meet the champion lightweight of America over 133 pounds; while in England it would be 135 pounds; and with the lightweights half a stone is of more importance than a stone or a stone and a half with a man who scales over 175. I have given this matter some consideration, and personally I favor the American limit, with a slight alteration, and think 133 would be a proper limit for lightweights, 142 welterweight limit; 158 for the middleweight and for the light heavyweight, 175 pounds.

As this question is of vital importance, it seems to me that conference of all the principal sporting promoters and representatives of the boxing clubs of the world should decide upon a scale of weights which will not harass or worry our present boxers when competing in foreign lands. This question of weights has in the past given rise to endless and harassing discussions, which have only proved unsatisfactory to all parties.

ST. MARY'S FIVE WIN AND LOSE BASKET-BALL GAMES

St. Mary's crack unlimited basketball team opened the season Saturday evening with a clean-cut victory over the Polytechnic High school team in the College gym by a score of 22 to 11.

In the first half the score was at a 9-to-9 tie, but the College boys came back strong in the last half and out-distanced their opponents. The players were:

St. Mary's—Diller and Russell, forwards; Wheaton, center; Gochulco and Mallen, guards.

Polytechnic—Neilson, Lewis and Street, forwards; Hanley, center; Fay, Sullivan and McMahon, guards.

Referee—Rittler.

In the 130-pound class contest with the Loyal Sons the college team was defeated by a score of 42 to 41. The players were:

St. Mary's—Davis and Young, forwards; Weber, center; Concannon, Quinn and Healey, guards.

Loyal Sons—Neilsen and Pease, forwards; Waddell, center; Miller and Tyler, guards.

Referee—Greeley.

SUGGEST THAT MANY ATHLETES BE SENT TO STOCKHOLM

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—At a meeting of the Intercollegiate Athletic Association it was urged by Christopher T. Kirby of Columbia that a large delegation of college athletes be sent to the Olympic games in Stockholm next summer.

The shot-put record of Russell Beatty of Columbus, who made a mark of 48 feet 7 3-8 inches in Columbia field last November 8, was admitted as an intercollegiate record.

JOE CARNEY TO GO AFTER POOL TITLE

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 15.—Joseph Carney of San Francisco, recent conqueror of Alfred de Oro, three-cushion billiard champion, may be matched to meet Pool Champion Hueston here within the next week. Hueston already has agreed to the conditions of the match and it is expected Carney will sign soon.

SOCCER EXPERTS HAVE FAST CONTESTS ON VARIOUS FIELDS

Luck Favors San Francisco Team in Game for Honors With Barbarians.

YESTERDAY'S SOCCER RESULTS.

At Ocean Shore grounds — Barbarians 3, San Francisco 3.

At Croll's grounds, Alameda — Burns 1, Thistles 1.

At Freeman's park, Oakland — Independents 3, Vampires 1.

BAY COUNTIES LEAGUE.

At Lincoln park, Alameda: Morning — Barbarians 5, Argonauts 2. Afternoon — Alameda Rangers 1, Independents 0.

Luck favored the San Francisco soccer football team in the game with the Barbarians yesterday afternoon and through its agency they were enabled to get a tie score.

When the second half opened the score was 3 to 0 against the San Francisco boys. With the chances of the championship trials fading away from them, the San Francisco boys began to play desperately and because the referee did not see an offside play in which Bastow scored, the San Francisco team secured enough points to tie it up, but the decision was a poor one and caused considerable wrangling.

Referee — Farmer.

INDEPENDENTS 3, VAMPIRES 1.

While the recent rains had left Freeman park in a somewhat soggy condition, the Independents and Vampires played a clever game on Al. White's preserves, the former winning by a score of 3 to 1. Following is the line up of the teams:

BURNS AND THISTLES DRAW.

At Croll's park in Alameda, the Burns and Thistles struggled manfully through two halves only to have the game result in a tie score.

BAY COUNTIES GAMES.

In the Bay Counties league games the Rangers held on to first place by defeating the Independents by a score of 1 to 0 at Lincoln park, while the Barbarians defeated the Argonauts by a score of 5 to 3.

LATEST NEWS FROM OUTSIDE TOWNS

RICHMOND WATER TRAFFIC GROWING

Heavy Shipments by Ocean-going Vessels to All Parts of the World.

RICHMOND, Jan. 15.—The new year is already starting to make a record at Richmond as far as waterfront business is concerned. During the past week more products of the Standard oil plant went forth to the outside world by ship and car than in any other one week in the history of the refinery at this point. During the week, including today, the following ships have departed or arrived with cargoes:

The Maverick and the Satania, both for Portland with fuel oil; the Loomis, refined oil for Redondo; steamship Minna Brea arrived from South America with benzine; the bark Andrew Welsh is loading with oil and manufactured goods for Honolulu; the tug Drake left yesterday for Seattle with barge No. 3 and the new oil carrier "Petroleum" in tow, all laden with fuel oil; steamer William F. Herrin is loading with fuel oil for Seattle; steamer F. S. Loop discharged 2500 poles at the Belt Line docks for the Western Electric Company; steamer Navajo is due to arrive today at Winehaven to take on 4000 barrels of wine consigned to New York; steamer Albion is discharging 3000 railroad ties at the Santa Fe wharves; steamer Phoenix is unloading 103,000 feet of lumber consigned to Berkeley; steamer Arctic has just left four cars of lumber at the same wharf, consigned to Topeka, Kansas; steamer Pallac unloaded 100 large piles for wharves at Antioch; steamer John Poulson discharged 150,000 feet of lumber for use here at the Standard Oil plant.

PLAN TO ANNEX SCHOOL DISTRICTS

Decoto and Alviso May Be Brought Into Alvarado Section.

ALVARADO, Jan. 15.—A movement has been started here to annex the Decoto and Alviso school districts. Petitions are being circulated in the section it is proposed to annex, but there is considerable opposition to the movement.

School Trustee Vandepeer and Principal T. E. McCarty of this place were the instigators of the plan. The school trustees of Decoto will send a remonstrance to the board of supervisors. It is understood that like action will be taken by the Alviso board of school trustees.

SYNDICATE WOULD BUY VALUABLE CROSS ISLAND

VALLEJO, Jan. 15.—Rumors are current here that a syndicate whose members are said to include R. O. Wilson and George E. Hansen of Oakland, is negotiating for Cross Island, adjoining Mare Island, the property of Dr. L. E. Cross of Stockton.

The island contains thousands of acres of reclaimed land. It is said that the syndicate will pay $250,000 for the property and will spend a large sum in addition to building up the levees and making other improvements.

PLAN PROTECTION FOR S. P. BRIDGE

NILES, Jan. 15.—A stone wall or pier, on the north side of the Southern Pacific bridge over Niles canyon is being built to protect the structure from the danger of floods during the winter months. The wall will deflect the current to the middle of the stream, thus protecting the foundations of the bridge. The work will be completed very soon.

VALLEJO RESIDENTS DIE.

VALLEJO, Jan. 15.—The deaths of two well known Vallejo people occurred here yesterday. They were Frank Lewis, a Mare Island employe, and Mrs. William Ward. Lewis died after a short illness. He was a Spanish-American war veteran and had been employed at the Navy Yard for a number of years. Mrs. Ward's illness was a lingering one. She is survived by Albert Morrow, a brother, who lives in Lake county.

RICHMOND PERSONALS

Schools opened today with a record attendance. But one change is made in the force of teachers; Miss Ward being added to the high school faculty as assistant in the commercial department.

A new Baptist organization has just been formed, composed of men belonging to Baptist churches at Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Richmond. Its work will be for foreign missions.

The Contra Costa Medical Society enjoyed an intellectual treat at is meeting at the Abbott hospital, in the lecture of Dr. Rattan of Martinez, and Dr. R. L. Rigdon of San Francisco.

Early in the spring an election will be called to vote on the annexation of the territory to the Alameda county line. The first attempt at this formation of a greater Richmond failed to carry but it is thought it will carry this time by an overwhelming majority.

A new factory for the manufacture of crucibles and appliances used by assayers is being established on an acre of ground recently purchased near the porcelain works. Such ware is made almost exclusively in Germany, but this firm has found earth suitable for it near Santa Barbara, which will be shipped to Richmond.

FRIENDS HONOR PASTOR AND WIFE ON ANNIVERSARY

REV. B. DENT NAYLOR.

HAYWARD, Jan. 15.—Rev. B. Dent Naylor, pastor of the Hayward Congregational church, and his wife, Mrs. B. Dent Naylor, were recently given a surprise party by their many friends, the event being the celebration of their silver wedding. A feature of the occasion was the presentation of several handsome cut glass pieces and a rug, the latter being the gift of Mrs. E. V. Haner, 32 years old and the oldest member of the pastor's congregation. The presentation of the cut glass was made by F. P. Johnson, on behalf of those gathered. The affair was held in the auditorium of the church.

MAN IS ARRESTED ON GRAVE CHARGE

Parents of Richmond Girl Terrified by Actions of Infatuated Man.

RICHMOND, Jan. 15.—After spending Sunday in jail, Tony Abrao is facing a statutory charge, in Judge Lindsay's court here this afternoon, brought by Mr. and Mrs. Stievers of this city, parents of 14-year-old Lulu Stievers. This is the second sensational chapter in the case.

Abrio met the young girl some months ago and induced her to run away with him. They lived together in a lonely cabin in Wild Cat canyon in Moraga valley and were finally arrested as they were en route to San Pablo for food. The man was held in jail here for a period but the father declined to prosecute at that time owing to publicity and Abrao was released.

For several days past he has been prowling around the Stievers residence here, armed with a shotgun and Saturday evening was locked up by the local police for disturbing the peace.

The father is being urged to prosecute now upon a statutory charge, the girl being but 14 years of age. Both the man and girl admit their relations, but each desires to marry if consent of the parents could be obtained.

NEW SCHOOL SITE AGAIN ENDORSED

Steinway Improvers Go on Record; New Officers Are Elected.

UPPER FRUITVALE, Jan. 15.—The Steinway Improvement Association again went on record Saturday night as indorsing the proposed new grammar school site at East Nineteenth street and Nineteenth avenue. A committee of three, under the chairmanship of Orlando E. Hart, was appointed to wait upon the board of education at its next meeting. On motion of Edwin W. Woodward it was decided to take up the question of admitting women to membership at the next regular meeting. A new ruling went into effect making the annual dues payable in advance. The election of officers resulted as follows:

J. A. Thomas, president; J. A. Hill, vice-president; A. J. Robertson, secretary; H. F. Snyder, treasurer.

The meeting was also in the nature of a testimonial to former president Paul J. Mohr, who has been one of the most active civic workers in this section. Mohr will make his future home in San Francisco. The evening closed with a banquet at which several addresses were delivered.

NAVAL MAN AT VALLEJO TO WED NAPA BELLE

VALLEJO, Jan. 15.—Announcement of the wedding of James Coakley of this place, and Miss Annie Dwyer of Napa, to take place on Wednesday morning, January 17, in St. John's church, Napa, has been received here. Rev. Father J. F. Byrne will officiate.

Miss Agnes O'Connor of Napa will be bridesmaid while John Lyons of this city, will act as best man. The bride-elect is a member of an old Napa family and the daughter of T. J. Dwyer, a retired farmer and prominent Civil war veteran. Coakley, who is employed at the storehouse at Mare Island, is a member of Henry W. Lawson Camp of Spanish War Veterans, having served as a member of the Nebraska volunteers in the Philippines.

BEGINS REGISTRATION IN SAN LEANDRO SECTION

SAN LEANDRO, Jan. 15.—County Clerk John P. Cook commenced the registration of voters in this section of the county today. Cook will be here with a corps of deputies on January 26. The registration will be held in the town hall and a separate room for the accommodation of the women voters maintained.

Those women registering this month will have the privilege of voting in any election during 1912. The equal suffrage enthusiasts who registered here a few months ago will have to repeat the formalities.

Domenici; captain of guards, Geneva Quaedo.

Grand Captain Mae Williams of San Jose supervised the ceremonies.

TWO VALLEJO WOMEN ARE AFTER DIVORCES

VALLEJO, Jan. 15.—Two Vallejo wives appeared in the court of Judge A. J. Buckles at Fairfield today, asking for divorces, alimony, counsel fees and costs. The first action will be that of Eva G. Jordan, who began a sensational divorce suit against Leopold Jordan, a Mare Island ordnance man, last week. The other hearing will be on the motion of Theresa F. Stevens to have her husband, Charles R. Stevens, contribute $150 for her attorney and $50 for support pending the action.

PROPOSED CLOSING OF WEBSTER STREET BRIDGE.

The following opinion was received from the District Attorney:

Office of the District Attorney, Oakland, Cal., Dec. 30, 1911.

To the Honorable, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, State of California.

Gentlemen:

By reference from your Honorable Board, I am in receipt of a letter of the City Clerk of Alameda, in which he states that at a meeting of the City Council of the City of Alameda, a motion was duly adopted requesting your Honorable Board to take the necessary action to have the Webster street bridge closed to navigation between the hours of six and eight a. m., and five and seven p. m.

The Congress of the United States has control over the bridging of navigable streams. When permission is granted for the construction of a swing bridge across a navigable stream, the law requires that the bridge shall be open at such times as may be necessary during the full twenty-four hours of each day to permit the passage of vessels. The Secretary of War, however, has the authority to grant permission to close bridges to navigation for a limited time each day.

Your Honorable Board has not authority to close the bridge between the hours requested, but you have the authority to make application to the Secretary of War for permission to close the Webster street bridge, as requested by the City Council of Alameda.

The communication from the City Clerk of Alameda is returned herewith.

Respectfully submitted
WILLIAM H. DONAHUE,
District Attorney.
By LEON A. CLARK, Deputy.

The foregoing opinion was ordered filed and a copy of same sent to the City Council of Alameda.

OPINION OF THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY IN RE USE OF COUNTY INFIRMARY SEWER.

The following opinion was received from the District Attorney:

Office of the District Attorney, Oakland, Cal., Dec. 30, 1911.

To the Honorable, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, State of California.

Gentlemen: In accordance with the request of your Honorable Board, I have carefully investigated the right of various persons to connect with the sewer running from the County Infirmary to the bay, as, also, the objection of Mr. A. H. Breed to the outlet of the sewer being on property owned by him, and which outlet is at a point between low and high water mark. As a result of my investigation, I find that all parties who owned the fee in the land over which the right of way for this sewer was obtained retained to themselves and their successors the right to connect with this sewer for domestic purposes.

The cannery near San Lorenzo, I am informed, has connected with this sewer. The Board of Supervisors has the power to prohibit the use of this sewer for all purposes, except domestic use of those persons and their successors who granted to the county the right of way for the sewer. You have the power to prohibit the cannery near San Lorenzo from using the sewer for any purpose.

The objection raised by the owners of the land to the outlet of the sewer are not well taken, for the reason that the county paid $500.00 to the owners of this property for the privilege of constructing the outlet of the sewer at the point where it now exists. I, therefore, advise your Honorable Board that you are neither legally nor morally bound to make any change in the location of the outlet of this sewer. Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM H. DONAHUE,
District Attorney.
By LEON A. CLARK, Deputy.

The foregoing opinion was ordered filed.

A written resignation was received from L. W. Rood as rodent exterminator. On motion of Supervisor Murphy, seconded by Supervisor Foss, said resignation was accepted by the following vote:

Ayes—Supervisors Bridge, Foss, Kelley, Murphy and Chairman Mullins—5.

Thereafter the following resolution was introduced:

Resolved by the Supervisors of Alameda County that Charles Rathbone be and he is hereby employed by and at the pleasure of this Board at a compensation of $100 per month to exterminate rodents in Alameda County, in accordance with the provisions of an act entitled "An Act for the Extermination of Rodents," Statutes of 1909, Page 311, provided further that no expenses be allowed to the said Charles Rathbone, this appointment being made to fill the position made vacant by the resignation of L. W. Rood, heretofore appointed.

On motion of Supervisor Murphy, seconded by Supervisor Bridge, the resolution was adopted by the following vote:

MEMORIAL TOWER FOR WIRELESS

Secretary of Navy Makes a Proposition to Directors of the Fair.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—A letter received in this city from George L. von Meyer, Secretary of the Navy, tells of government plans for the establishment in San Francisco of the highest powered wireless station in the world. The wireless tower, if completed, will be 1,350 feet high and will place San Francisco in communication with Washington, Key West, Colon, Honolulu, all Alaska stations, vessels on the Pacific and possibly vessels on the coast of Japan.

By the plan now being considered the station will be placed in a memorial tower to be built for the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915. Secretary Meyer's letter is in part as follows:

"The Navy Department is taking steps toward erecting a high-power station on the California coast, in connection with its chain of wireless stations across the Pacific and for communication with ships on the eastern Pacific ocean. Since the range of wireless depends upon the height of the aerial wires above the ground and since the location of this station in San Francisco would be most advantageous to that city, it would seem that the memorial tower should be erected with a view to its use for supporting one end of an aerial of the most powerful wireless station in the world.

"The Eifel Tower in Paris, 1000 feet high, has produced wonderful results in long distance wireless work, and the proposed tower, 1350 feet above sea level, would insure even more remarkable results.

"A site near the ocean beach at San Francisco will give ideal wireless conditions, and I strongly recommend that before the exact site of the memorial tower is selected the navy department be consulted as to the needs of the proposed wireless station."

READ RECORD IN PACKERS' TRIAL

Books of Morris & Co. Are Introduced in Evidence.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15. — Counsel for the government today continued the task of reading to the jury in the trial of the Chicago packers, charged with maintaining a combination in restraint of trade, entries from the books of Morris & Co., in an effort to show that the accounting systems of the corporations controlled by the defendants are practically the same and played an important part in the alleged plan of co-operation.

Allowances made by the packers for hides, oleo fat and other by-products were traced through the different books of account by month in an effort to show that the amounts credited were less than the market value. The Government contends that the packers, by this system, were enabled materially to increase the test cost of beef and thereby raise the price of fresh meat to the consumer without showing an exorbitant percentage of profit on their books.

The government will endeavor to prove before the close of the trial that the packers, in figuring the test cost of fresh meat, allowed only three to six cents a pound for hides when the market price was 9 to 18 cents and that oleo fat was disposed of on the books for 3 cents a pound when the market price was six cents a pound.

BEET SUGAR MEN HAVE A HEARING

Information Given to House Investigating Committee by Californian.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The beet sugar industry and its benefit to California farmers was described to the House sugar investigating committee today by Wm. Newlands, a Huntington Beach (Cal.) farmer.

"We are proud of our beet fields, proud of our sugar factories and proud of the people who run them," he testified.

He said the cost of labor and of every other commodity which the farmer buys has gone up, wherefore the farmers urged an increase in beet prices. He said the sugar company had given the farmers an advance of 75c a ton on all beets.

Mr. Newlands said he knew nothing about the profit in sugar; that if the refiner is getting a bigger profit than he is entitled to the tariff should be reduced in the consumers' interest.

THANKS FIREMEN FOR SAVING $10,000 HOME

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—James Kenney, chief of the Berkeley fire department, received a letter today from V. S. Hardy, a San Francisco business man residing at 2824 Forrest avenue, thanking Kenney for the prompt service of the fire men in extinguishing the blaze in the costly home of the Hardy's at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. The illness of a young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hardy, caused the mother to arise at that hour to give the child medicine and she discovered the flame. The firemen were summoned and arrived within four minutes, saving the $10,000 home.

ACCUSES FRIEND AND OTHERS OF ROBBERY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—A robbery brought about the arrest of James Moecano, early this morning. Gaberino was in the Esola saloon, 3430 Mission street, last night when James Moecano suggested, he claims, that he spend the night with him. They went to a room in the neighborhood, and after Gaberino entered, he claims the light was suddenly turned down, two other men burst in in the darkness and he was seized, and $300 taken from him. Moecano was taken in custody by the police and is charged with grand larceny.

ATTORNEY THOMPSON GETS STAY OF EXECUTION

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—By filing a writ of supercedas, Fred H. Thompson, attorney sentenced to eight years at McNeill's Island for having taken $15,000 which a postal clerk stole from the mails, gained a 60-day stay of execution today. The stay was granted by Judge Wellborn of the federal court in order to permit Thompson's counsel to prepare a bill of exceptions. Bail was fixed at $20,000, which Thompson so far has been unable to procure.

TO PIPE GAS FROM KERN COUNTY TO LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15. — Application was made to the supervisors here today to grant a forty years' franchise covering this county for a pipe line to convey natural gas from the Kern county oil fields to this city. The application was made by the Midway Gas Company, subsidiary of the Southern California Gas Company, which has ordered high pressure 12-inch pipe for a main 250 miles in length.

U. OF C. ENROLLMENT OF NEW STUDENTS 200

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Jan. 15.—With registration half completed, James Sutton, recorder of the faculties, estimated at noon today that there will be nearly 200 new students at the University this term. The recorder estimates on the basis of admission requests already passed that there will be 120 new regular under-graduate students, perhaps 25 special students, about 75 students returning after leave of absence and about 60 new graduate students.

WOODBRIDGE FUNERAL HELD THIS AFTERNOON

The funeral of William George Woodbridge, who was accidently shot January 7, while upon a hunting trip, off Fleming Point, North Berkeley, was held this afternoon from Finney's undertaking parlors, 528 Eighteenth street. Rev. R. Franklin Hart, curator of St. Paul's church, read the service. The ceremonies were conducted under the auspices of the Loyal Order of Moose of this city. The body was interred in Evergreen cemetery.

FORESTERS TO INSTALL.

EMERYVILLE, Jan. 15.—Court Emeryville, No. 218, Foresters of America, will hold an installation of officers followed by a banquet at Golden Gate hall, Fifty-seventh and San Pablo avenue, tonight. Milton M. Davis of San Francisco, Grand Senior Beadle, will have charge of the installation.

Judge John C. Coburn will be installed as chief ranger, Ray Appleby as sub-chief ranger; Morris H. Lisle, delegate to the national convention of Foresters in Detroit, will make a report of his visit, and other matters of importance will be considered.

HER TEMPER MADE SOME HOT PLACE

Hubby Says He Was Perennial Target for Dishes and Soapy Clothes.

An ungovernable temper that threw her into fits of rage, during which she committed almost fiendish assaults upon her husband, broke up the home of Byron J. Sanford of Berkeley, according to the testimony upon which he was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce in the Superior Court this forenoon, from May L. Sanford, a sister of the wife of former Sheriff Larry Dolan of San Francisco. The couple were married in Portland in October, 1910, and separated about two months ago.

Mrs. Sanford's first display of rage, according to Sanford, occurred about two weeks after the marriage, when she returned home one morning about 2 o'clock and went on the warpath because Sanford asked her where she had been. She bombarded him with dishes, the testimony shows, and then made for him with a butcher knife in one hand and a bread knife in the other. Sanford grappled with his wife and there was a terrible struggle. Finally Sanford overpowered the woman, whereupon she set up such a howl that he had to call in the police to subdue her. After the police left Mrs. Sanford, the husband told the court, renewed her rioting and as he stooped to pick up a key that lay on the floor, she grabbed a catsup bottle and smashed it over his head, cutting the scalp wide open.

OTHER ERUPTIONS.

There were many similar eruptions in the Sanford household, the husband testified. Every time Mrs. Sanford would break dishes by throwing them at her husband. Once she shied a lamp at him, another time a large metal parlor clock and another time clothes that laid in soapy water. The soap blinded Sanford's eyes, according to the testimony, and when Mrs. Sanford had him thus at her mercy she slapped him across the face with a soapy garment and followed up the advantage by bombarding him with all the dishes in sight.

Sanford told the court that his wife's relatives could not understand why he stood for her cruelty so long, and in this connection he quoted his brother-in-law as having said to him one day, "You must be a mighty good man or you would have beaten my sister to death long ago."

After her fits or rage were spent, Sanford told the court, Mrs. Sanford would apologize for what she had done and promise never to repeat this offense. She would even place her hand upon the Bible and swear that she would never attack him again, and a few hours later turn loose worse than ever.

STERLING GIVEN 5-YEAR SENTENCE

Stockton Embezzler Pleads Guilty and Asks No Favors.

STOCKTON, Jan. 15. — J. C. Sterling, former cashier of the Union Safe Deposit Bank, for 14 years a resident of this city and one of the best known men in the county, this morning pleaded guilty in Judge C. W. Norton's court to a charge of embezzling $500 and was sentenced to serve five years at San Quentin.

Sterling was not represented by counsel and asked no favors of the court. He stated that he had no choice of prisons. District Attorney Foltz called the court's attention to the fact that the $15,000 shortage in Sterling's accounts had been replaced, but Judge Norton declared that the return of the money was not a mitigating circumstance and could give it no weight in passing sentence. In pronouncing judgment the court commented at length upon the splendid reputation he had borne in the past. Sterling was accompanied into the court room by his wife and daughter, neither of whom betrayed the slightest sign of emotion.

CHARLES BLAIR GEDDES VICTIM OF PARALYSIS

Charles Blair Geddes, a pioneer farmer of California, died of paralysis Saturday, at his home, 740 Fifty-fourth street.

Geddes came to California by way of the Isthmus in 1868 and was one of the first to take up the farm life near Tracy. He became one of the largest ranchers in that part of the state. Later he became a contractor and broke ground for the Del Monte hotel.

Retiring from active life in 1900, Geddes came to Oakland. He is survived by a widow and nine children, C. C. Geddes, W. H. Geddes and M. T. Geddes of Stockton; Mrs. W. B. Swindell, of Los Angeles; Mrs. G. W. Daywalt and Mrs. E. L. Dimmick and the Misses Minerva, Leit and Ernestine Geddes of Oakland.

STENOGRAPHER APPOINTED FOR HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Miss Kathleen O'Connor, certified on the eligible list for city stenographers by the civil service board, was this morning appointed by Commissioner Fred C. Turner to a position in the health department. The place is created by resolution instead of by ordinance, as the passage of an ordinance would necessitate the amendment of the existing ordinance in regard to the health department, and this will soon be radically modified on recommendation of the civil service commission.

REV. WILLIAM BAIR IS DANGEROUSLY ILL

Rev. William Bair is lying dangerously ill at his residence on Castro street, near Seventeenth. He is a veteran of the Civil War and has been prominently identified with some of the movements of recent years, looking towards the advancement of claims of veterans. When last the department of California and Nevada G. A. R. met, Bair was head of the executive committee, having in charge the arrangements of the convention, performing the duties of his position satisfactory to all. He is a native of Ohio, where he was born in 1840. He entered the Civil War at the breaking out of the Rebillion. He came to Oakland in 1898.

LETTER LIVENS WILL CONTEST

Tent Village Epistle Proves Interesting and Diverting.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 15.—The eleventh day session of the Harriet P. Thurston will contest, being heard in Judge Guy's court, was begun this morning, and by the introduction of a letter written from Tent Village at Point Loma, by Mrs. Thurston to Theodore H. Leake, an eastern architect, the names of those prominent in the country's financial and diplomatic life were brought out. Leake is a witness for George T. Patterson the contestant. In two places words had been scratched out with pen and ink. By the aid of a reading glass attorneys read the words. They are as follows:

"So you will see the maid is higher up in the family connections than her mistress," and "Julia thinks she would like him for a stepfather, but I am not of her opinion."

The letter follows

"Tent Village, Point Loma, May 13, 1908.

"My Dear Mr. Leake: Your letter of May 2 was received the 6th. I have delayed answering as I have had important matters to settle relating to my family. George has been making all the trouble he could as he did not intend to have Julia come here. I have just received a letter from Mrs. Hastie, seventeen pages in her usual style of Godliness, which of course is sickening, and so much time wasted in writing, as well as reading, as it only confirmed my opinion that she is a great fraud as well as a fanatic.

"I am alone in my room and there is a lounge bed. I have a sweet little maid to wait on me who attends to the tent work. She is a student, one of the older ones, and is a cousin of Ogden Mills and Ambassador Reid's wife, who was a Mills. My girl is named Hazel Mills, so you will see the maid is higher up in family connections than the mistress. Julia and I are to be separated as soon as her tent is put up on my beautiful grounds next to Mr. Lyman Gage's. Julia thinks she would like him for a stepfather, but I am not of her opinion.

"Your sincere friend,

"HARRIET W. PATTERSON."

"Julia" is Mrs. Quinn, daughter of the decedent, over whose will the legal battle is being fought and in which document Mrs. Katherine Tingley, head of the Theosophical movement, is named as a beneficiary. Lyman Gage, mentioned in the letter as being Julia's choice for a stepfather, was secretary of the treasury during McKinley's administration. Gage lives at Point Loma.

KEY ROUTE PIER TO BE FILLED IN

Work of Making It Solid From Shore to Apron Starts This Week.

The formidable task of filling in with solid material along the Key Route pier will commence this week and the operations continued with a large force of men until the present tracks leading to the mole rest upon earth instead of piling. The work is being done in connection with the general scheme of the United Properties Company in improving its holdings along the western water front, and when completed will be in accord with the work being done by the city of Oakland.

The matter was brought to the attention of the commissioners this morning by Mayor Mott, who stated that the Key Route officials had spoken to him in regard to a permit for laying tracks in the vicinity of the mole approach so that work trains loaded with material could be handled without interfering with passenger traffic.

With the railroad commencing its share of the filling, together with what has already been done by the city in raising a retaining wall, a considerable showing wil have been made on the waterfront within a short time. When the Key Route has completed the fil lalong its trestle and the retaining wall is also finished, dredgers will be set to work in filling in the 400 acres lying landward, the property belonging to the city.

HAZZARD MURDER TRIAL IS BEGUN

"Starvation Doctor" Brought to Bar of Justice In Seattle.

SEATTLE, Jan. 15. — The trial of Mrs. S. C. Hazzard, known as the "Starvation doctor," charged with murder in the first degree for causing the death of Miss Claire Williamson, an English woman, last June, was begun today at Port Orchard. Great difficulty is being experienced in obtaining jurors, most of the talesmen saying they have formed decided opinions. British Vice-Consul Agassiz of Tacoma is assisting the prosecution.

Mrs. Hazzard is the wife of Samuel C. Huzzard, a West Point graduate, who deserted from the army and who served a two-year term in the State Penitentiary at Stillwater, Minn., for marrying Linda Burfield while already married to a daughter of former State Senator Fitzpatrick of Minnesota.

Slaire and Dorothea Williamson were women of means who were on a tour around the world when they consulted Mrs. Huzzard for medical treatment in Seattle. Under a diet of asparagus broth Claire died at the Hazzard institute in Olalla.

MARTINEZ ON TRIAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15. — Eleno Martinez was placed on trial before Judge Cabaniss today for the murder of Ynez Swita, on October 8, last. Martinez is accused of having slashed the woman to death with a pen knife at her home, 3 Green place, following a jealous quarrel.

WHEAT HAS FIRM TONE IN MARKET

Promise of Seasonable Temperatures Has Good Effect in Pit.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Lightness of world shipments gave the wheat market today a firm tone. Promise of more seasonable temperature in the United States tended, however, to restrain the bulls. The opening was a shade to ⅛@¼c higher, May started at $1.00 to $1.00⅛, reacted to 99⅞c and rallied to $1.00@1.00⅛.

Closing figures were easy, ½@⅝c lower at 99⅜c for May.

Belief that a large number of traders had been waiting for a break to buy corn cheap made that cereal exhibit strength. May opened a 16th to ⅛@¼c up at 64⅞ to 65c, and rose to 65¼c.

The close was easy at 64⅝@64⅞c for May, unchanged from Saturday night.

Although firm at the outset with wheat and corn, oats eased off on account of selling by a leading warehouse concern. May started a shade to ⅛c higher at 49⅛@49¼c to 49¼c and reacted to 49c.

Provisions were firm. First sales were unchanged to 7½c up with May $16 3-5 for pork, $9.60 for lard and $8.80 to $8.82½ for ribs.

Close: Wheat—May, 99⅜c; July, 94⅞c; September, 82⅝c.

Corn—January, 61⅝c; May, 64¾@64⅞c; July, 64½c; September, 65¼c.

Oats—May, 49⅛c; July, 44⅞@44¾c; September, 40½c.

Pork—$15.82½; May, $16.30; July, $16.45.

Lard—January, $9.87½; May, $9.55@9.57½; July, $9.67½@9.70; September, $9.80.

BOARD DOMINATED BY OLD FEATURES

Hesitation and Underlying Heaviness Continue Work Today.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The hesitation and underlying heaviness of the stock market during most of the last week were its dominant features again today. The bidding up of special stocks at times relieved the heaviness of the list, but the tendency during the morning was downward.

Important speculative interests were credited with selling the market. The copers, Harriman shares, St. Paul and U. S. Steel were the weakest of the prominent issues. Reading surrendered its gain when another selling movement started after 11 o'clock. The persistence with which certain railroad issues were sold on all rallies stimulated aggressive selling by the professionals.

Coal stocks fluctuated in mystifying fashion. Absorption of Reading was resumed after an interval of heaviness and moderate recoveries were made elsewhere.

Selling orders were distributed around the high prices and the list reacted sharply and became dull. Reading and Lehigh Valley receded a point.

Buying for the short account gave an upward stimulus to prices as the day drew to a close. St. Paul reached 108 and there was an effective demand also for Union Pacific, U. S. Steel, Reading and Lehigh Valley. Final prices showed a moderate sprinkling of gains.

Bonds were irregular.

CHINESE TO SPEND MILLION ON FAIR

Entire Village Will Be Built If Orientals Are Given Space.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15. — At a meeting of the prominent Chinese merchants and editors last night in the offices of Attorney O. P. Stidger in Montgomery block it was decided to start the work of active organization of the company to handle the $1,000,000 Chinese concession for the exposition. Tong Bong, the local Chinese merchant, announced that he was ready to join in the work, and it is anticipated that he will be named president of the company.

Adolph J. Frey, assistant general manager of the Pacific Mail company, and M. M. Keller, a local capitalist with interests in China, attended the meeting and voiced enthusiasm in the project. Among the prominent Chinese present were Tong Bong, Tong King Chong, secretary of the Chinese Masonic societies in the United States; Look Tin Eli, Ng Poon Chew and other big merchants.

During the week the Chinese merchants will meet and arrange for the organization of the company. The committee will soon approach the exposition company with a request for adequate and suitable space for the Chinese village. The whole work of the Chinese depends on whether or not they are granted a suitable location and enough ground, said Tong Bong last night.

LEPER BUILDING BURNED.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Jan. 15.—The administration building at the Massachusetts leper colony on Penikese island, at the entrance to Buzzard's bay, was burned Saturday, causing a loss of $10,000. Most of the other buildings are on the other side of the island and were not in danger.

Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for kidney ills.

Oakland people testify to their worth.

Mrs. R. F. Marshall, 630 E. Twelfth street, East Oakland, Cal., says: "I can indorse Doan's Kidney Pills, knowing them to be a splendid remedy for kidney complaint. About two years ago I had a dull, heavy ache through my back and I believed this trouble to be due to some disorder of the kidneys. Hearing Doan's Kidney Pills highly spoken of, I was led to give them a trial. They soon brought relief and finally rid me of the annoyance."

NEVADA COLLEGE TO HAVE MILLION

Clarence Mackay Plans to Obtain Funds From Children of Bonanza Kings.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15. — Following the announcement that came from Reno yesterday that the board of regents of the University of Nevada had allowed President J. C. Stubbs a year's leave of absence with salary, it became known in San Francisco that Clarence Mackay is planning to raise a $1,000,000 endowment fund for the institution.

Mackay expects to raise this fund among the children of the bonanza kings who made their millions in Nevada, and he has already received pledges of subscriptions from a number of them.

Mackay, who is a son of the late John Mackay, associate of James Flood, James Fair and W. S. O'Brien in the ownership of the famous Comstock mines, has recently been evincing much interest in the University of Nevada. Besides improving the department of mining, it is planned to employ the $1,000,000 endowment fund for extending the scope of the curriculum.

Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt Jr., who was Virginia Fair, has promised to subscribe to the fund. James Flood and J. V. Coleman, nephews of O'Brien, are expected to do likewise.

Mackay is to have a conference in New York either today or tomorrow with Ogden Mills, son of the late D. O. Mills, when detailed plans for raising the fund will be discussed. It is intended to obtain the money solely among the children of the wealthy pioneer mining men of Nevada, and not to solicit outside subscriptions. The idea of Mackay is that the fund should be amassed as a romantic recognition of the debt the children of these men of wealth owe to the state in which their fathers dug the precious metal from the earth.

DISCORD HAD EXISTED.

The leave of absence with salary that has been granted to President Stubbs of the University of Nevada begins on February 14.

Stubbs was in San Francisco last Friday, but left without discussing the matter of making known his destination. One report had him going to New York and another had him leaving for the Orient.

It is said that his retirement from the university will assure him the Carnegie pension fund.

Much discord had existed in the board of regents during the final years of the presidency of Stubbs.

Stubbs had ideas of his own about the financial affairs of the university. Upon the arrival from the east of a new instructor who wanted an office chair it is said Stubbs refused to permit him to select. He accompanied the man to the shop while the seat for the teacher was being negotiated.

WARFARE AT DISTANCE COMING, SAYS WINTHROP

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—"Naval battles of the future will be won at a range of not less than seven miles and within a period of four or five minutes. The American navy is training its gunners to that end. Right now they can hit with an accuracy and rapidity that leaves little doubt as to the result of any fight in which they participate," declared Beckman Winthrop, assistant secretary of the navy, yesterday.

"We want to get the other fellow's goat—in the parlance of a marine—we want to hit him first and hit him so hard and in such vital places that he won't have any desire to mix it when he gets ready to do his shooting," he added.

"This is the secret of the great amount of time and the big sums of money the department spends on gunnery practice. In the battle of Santiago we fired a shot once every five minutes and made an average number of 3½ per cent of hits. I don't recall that a single shot from a 12 or 13 in ch rifle reached home. The hits were all made by the smaller caliber rifles at a range of a mile and a half. Today anyone of the big battleships or armored cruisers make an average of 30 per cent of hits, with three or four times the speed, at ranges running from five to eight miles, and all with heavy caliber rifiles."

TRAIN BANDIT SUSPECT JAILED AT SACRAMENTO

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 15.—With $4400 worth of stamps in his pockets, James Williams, who the police believe is the man who robbed a mail car on the Southern Pacific train No. 16 near Redding Friday, January 5, and who has been in prison in California several times for robbery, was arrested today.

Irvine and James Price, who also have prison records, were arrested with Williams. Irvine has been employed for the last few months by the Sacramento branch of an insurance company.

Williams, according to the police, answers the description of the man who tied Charles J. Rein, Robert Warner and Robert Heinrich, three mail clerks on train No. 16, while he took valuables from the mail sacks. The description of the robber fits Williams.

SCHOONER ADMIRAL WILL BE TOTAL LOSS

ASTORIA, Or., Jan. 15.—The hull of the wrecked schooner Admiral, which ran through the Columbia river jetty, has split fore and aft by bumping about on Peacock spit, and the greater portion of it is now close to the beach between McKenzie head and Cape Disappointment, but too far out to be reached at low water. Another section of the hull is lying off the head, almost under the middle battery at Fort Canby.

It is now certain that nothing can be saved from her. In addition to personal effects, Captain Bender lost fifty gold sovereigns and two gold watches, one of them belonging to his wife, which were in a desk in the cabin.

PROMINENT DEMOCRATS TO ATTEND BIG MEETING

FARGO, N. D., Jan. 15.—Prominent Democrats of the United States will be present at the "get together" meeting which is to be held here next Wednesday and Thursday.

Among those who have signified their intention of being present are William J. Bryan, Governor Edwin L. Norris of Montana and Governor John Burke of North Dakota. The latter, it has been said, is an aspirant for the position of vice-president upon the Democratic ticket if Governor Harmon is nominated.

Here is a remedy that will cure your cold. Why waste time and money experimenting when you can get a preparation that has won a world-wide reputation by its cures of this disease and can always be depended upon? It is known everywhere as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and is a medicine of real merit. For sale by Osgood Bros.' drug store.

WAGES ARE BLAMED FOR EVIL CONDITION

Probation Officer Ruess Deplores Lack of Minimum Salary Law.

"From the stores and factories that pay their girls from three to four and five dollars a week, expecting them to dress well and be decent, more girls and women are sent on the street than a small army of consecrated women probation officers can reclaim to the straight and narrow way," said Probation Officer Christopher Ruess in an address before the Religious Study Class at the First Unitarian church in Oakland.

"The individual employer is not so much to be blamed as the lack of a minimum wage law for women in California. The employer who cares for his employes must fail and go out of business if he pays a living wage to women, while other employers in the same line pay much less. In competition the meanest man sets the pace. Hence the commercialization of the theater, the press, the professions, and art itself, and their consequent degradation, and the general lowering of ideals for our growing children.

"We may expect the expenses of probation work to increase year by year, and to grow faster and faster, and it is true that still more will be saved on prisons, reformatories, and courts, and in manhood and womanhood, for four out of five succeed on probation. But the money and the men and women and children might better be saved in the first instance, and for the most part might be so saved if we attacked the saloon problem, the wild oats doctrine and the social evil, and other causes man-fashion. War and crime will bankrupt civilization, if we do not learn that both can, for the most part be avoided and are unnecessary evils. For today the community, as a rule, first makes the so-called criminal, and then wastes its substance in vain crime-factories called jails and prisons, and spends its vitality in endeavors to reform."

SISTER EUGENIA DIES ACROSS BAY

Noted Director of San Francisco Schools Goes to Last Rest.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—A distinguished and beloved figure in the Catholic life and work of San Francisco passed out yesterday with the death of Sister Eugenia Garvey at St. Vincent's school, Fifth and Clementina streets. For twelve years she directed the destiny of these schools with wonderful success, building up an educational institution that is second to none of its kind.

Sister Eugenia entered the Mother House of the Sisters of Charity in Emmettsburg, Md., in 1878, at the age of 19. Shortly afterward her remarkable educational ability was recognized and she was given charge of the St. John's Cathedral schools at Albany, N. Y. She was transferred to San Francisco in 1900, and took charge of St. Patrick's school on Mission street.

After the fire she followed the work of rebuilding the schools with consistent energy, and added a commercial college to the institution. One of her brothers is Bishop of Altoona, Pa., and others are well known in artistic circles.

The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from St. Patrick's Church.

COUNTERFEITER LAYS BLAME ON BROTHER

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 15.—After holding out several hours under the grilling examination of Assistant District Attorney Thomas Scott, H. S. Collins, 56 years old, a jeweler of McKittrick, who was arrested early Saturday morning for passing bogus $5 gold pieces in local saloons, broke down, and in a signed confession, laying bare all the details of the manufacture of the spurulous coin, implicated his brother, J. E. Collins, a jeweler and engraver of Paso Robles, who was taken into custody earlier in the evening at the West Side oil camp.

In his confession Collins places practically all the responsibility for their counterfeiting operations upon his brother. Collins asserts that when he was leaving home for Bakersfield Friday he brought with him twelve or thirteen of the bogus coins, made of babbitt metal and plated with gold.

'LITTLE BROWN CHURCH' REACHES HALF CENTURY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—The fiftieth anniversary of the Plymouth Congregational, the "Little Brown Church" of pioneer days, was celebrated yesterday morning with a service for which the church was beautifully decorated with flowers, special music was played and the pastor, Rev. R. W. Rogers, preached a sermon in which he acclaimed the good work done by the church.

A feature of the musical service was the singing by Mrs. M. C. Perce, who was a member of the choir during the early years of the church under the pastorate of Dr. T. K. Noble, during whose incumbency, in 1882, the church was moved from Taylor street to its present location.

DR. WILEY IS PRAISED IN DEPARTMENT REPORT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief government chemist and advocate of the strict enforcement of the pure food law, is exonerated from violations of the law and commended for his work in a report of the department of agriculture to be submitted to the house committee on expenditures.

Recommendations for a most strict enforcement of the pure food act and the creation of a separate bureau under the direction of Dr. Wiley will be made. This bureau will report direct to President Taft and not to Secretary Wilson.

Chairman Moss of the investigating committee announced last night that he will not resume his probe into the department of agriculture until the house passes upon the Wiley report. Then he will investigate Willis Moore, head of the weather bureau, who is accused of using funds without authorization for the employment of special experts.

CELEBRATION FOR MODESTO.

MODESTO, Jan. 15.—A committee of the Modesto Business Men's Association has decided that the completion of the big steel arch across I street will be the signal for a night of general jollification. The arch, which will cost in the neighborhood of $2300, is nearly completed, and the words "Water, Wealth, Contentment, Health—Modesto" are being put in place. These will blazon forth in electric lights.

TREATY OF GHENT TO BE HONORED

England and United States to Join Hands in Great Celebration.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—An international exposition, with great buildings, allegorical statues, military reviews and historic pageants, more magnificent than the world has ever witnessed, is planned in celebration of the Treaty of Ghent, signed on December 14, 1814, which marked the beginning of a century of peace between Great Britain and the United States.

For more than six months a committee of eminent Americans, with Andrew Carnegie as chairman, and including former President Roosevelt, former Vice-President Stevenson, Levi P. Morton and Charles W. Fairbanks, former Ambassador Joseph H. Choate, Alton B. Parker, J. Horace McFarland, Oscar Straus and Senators Root and Burton and many others among its members, has been secretly at work upon the gigantic celebration.

It was the purpose of the committee not to make formal announcement of its plans until the co-operation of Great Britain was absolutely assured.

On December 14, William B. Howland, as representative of the American committee, laid the plans before high officials of the British Government in London and was greeted with great enthusiasm. A committee similar to that in America was then organized, with Premier Asquith, Sir George Reid, Lloyd George, Winston Churchill, Alfred Lyttleton, Austen Chamberlain, Sir Edward Hall Jones, Lord High Commissioner of New Zealand; Lord Strathcona, Lord High Commissioner of Canada, as members, and Earl Grey as chairman.

EIGHT HOURS FOR POSTMEN.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. — The Reilly eight-hour bill, which provides that letter carriers and clerks in first and second class postoffices shall work only eight hours within a limit of ten hours, has been favorably reported by the subcommittee of the committee on postoffices and post roads. This bill meets the approval of all employes of the postoffices, and the indications are that it will become a law at this session.
